decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 31. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 537.

STATE PURCHASING DEPARTMENT.

ACT 3868.

An act to create a state purchasing department, to define the authority, powers, and duties thereof; to provide for the appointment of and to define the authority, powers, and duties and to fix the compensation of the officers and employees thereof, and to appropriate money for the support of said department; and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act.

[Approved May 15, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 508.]

[Amended 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 279.]

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 3. Warehouses. The state purchasing agent shall have the power and authority, subject to the approval of the state board of control, to maintain warehouses, and to rent or lease, or construct the same, and to issue such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper and economical conduct of the business of the state purchasing department.

The state purchasing agent is hereby authorized to insure, in the name of the state, any goods or merchandise belonging to the state which may be stored in any warehouse or storage depot not under exclusive state control, in an amount sufficient to indemnify the state against loss or damage by fire. The premium for such insurance shall be paid out of the revolving fund created for the use of the state purchasing department and the expense thereof shall be prorated and added to the price of the goods or merchandise, when shipped, and billed to the various institutions and departments of the state to which the same are supplied. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 279.]

§ 5. Claims. Every valid claim on account of such contracts and purchases negotiated by the state purchasing agent shall be audited and paid from the appropriations or funds against which the contract and purchase estimates or requisitions were allowed as provided in section four hereof upon the sworn statement of the executive officer of the department, commission or board, or of the business manager of the institution or of the state official for whose benefit the appropriations or funds are made available, to the effect that the services have been rendered and the supplies delivered in accordance with the contract and the law, together with the sworn statement of the state purchasing department as to the correctness of the claim. Such sworn statements after approval by the state board of control, shall be full and sufficient authority for the controller to draw his warrant and the treasurer to pay the same against said appropriations or funds. Said executive officer, business manager or state official must immediately upon the proper rendition of services or delivery of supplies or both, transmit the invoice or demand for payment of the same together with his sworn statement to the office of the state purchasing department. No such claim on account of such contracts and purchases shall require the signature of any officer or officers other than those mentioned in this section, any other act or regulation to the contrary notwithstanding, and no contrary provision contained in any law hereafter enacted shall be deemed to contravene the provisions hereof unless the direction is accompanied by a special provision exempting it from the operation of this section; provided, however, that no claim shall be audited against or paid from any appropriation or fund unless an estimate or requisition for the same is approved in accordance with section four of this act. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 279.]

§ 6. Assistants. Bond of assistants. Deputy to succeed in case of death, etc. The state purchasing agent shall have the power to appoint one deputy state purchasing agent at an annual salary of three thousand dollars, who shall be a civil executive officer, one state testing engineer at an annual salary of two thousand seven hundred dollars, and to appoint and fix the salaries of three assistant state purchasing agents, subject to the approval of the state board of control. The state purchasing agent shall also have power, with the approval of the state board of control, to appoint and fix the compensation of such additional employees as the proper and economical conduct of the state purchasing department may demand.

The deputy and each subordinate of the department who has personal supervision and control of any warehouse or storage depot wherein merchandise or goods belonging to the state are stored, shall execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, the premium of which shall be paid by the state as are the premiums upon the bonds of state officers.

In the event of the death, resignation, removal from office, or disqualification of the state purchasing agent, the deputy shall become the acting state purchasing agent, and shall serve as such until a state purchasing agent shall be appointed and qualified according to law. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 280.]

TITLE 541a.

STEAM BOILERS.

ACT 3890.

An act to provide for the periodical inspection of steam boilers, with certain exceptions, operated in this state; requiring a permit, to be issued by the industrial accident commission, for the operation of such boilers; making it a misdemeanor to operate such boilers without such permit; and allowing an injunction against such operation without such permit where dangerous to the life or safety of employees; providing for a hearing before the industrial accident commission prior to refusal of a permit; providing for the determination of competency of inspectors making such inspections and requiring reports of inspections; and prescribing maximum fees for such inspections.

[Approved May 9, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 297. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Permit required to operate steam boiler. Violation. Injunction restraining operation. No steam boiler, unless exempted in the following section, shall be operated in the state of California unless there shall have been issued for the operation of such boiler a permit as hereinafter provided, and unless such permit shall remain in full force and effect. Such permit must be posted under glass in a conspicuous place on or near the boiler covered by it. The violation of this section by any person owning or having the custody, management or operation of such boiler without such permit shall be a misdemeanor and the operation of such boiler without such permit shall constitute a separate offense for each day that it shall be so operated; provided, that no prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance or renewal of such permit shall have been requested and shall remain unacted upon. If the operation of such boiler without such permit shall constitute a serious menace to the lives or safety of persons employed about it, the industrial accident commission, a commissioner or any safety inspector thereof, or any person affected thereby, may apply to the superior court of the county in which such boiler is situated for an injunction restraining the operation of said boiler until such condition shall be corrected or such permit secured. The certification of the industrial accident commission that no permit exists for the operation of such boiler, and the affidavit of any such inspector that its operation constitutes a menace to the life or safety of any person or persons employed about it, shall be sufficient proof to warrant the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order.

§ 2. Boilers exempt. The following boilers are exempt from the provisions of this act:

(1) Boilers under the jurisdiction or inspection of the United States government, and all other boilers operated by employers not subject to the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917, and acts amendatory thereof.

(2) Boilers of twelve horse-power or less, on which the pressure does not exceed fifteen pounds per square inch.

(3) Automobile boilers and boilers on road motor vehicles.

§ 3. Inspection of steam boilers. Hearing. Temporary permits. The industrial accident commission shall cause to be inspected, internally and externally, not less frequently than once in each year, every steam boiler subject to the provisions of this act. If such boiler be found upon such inspection to be in a safe condition for operation, a permit shall be issued by the commission for its operation for not longer than one year, which shall be the permit referred to in section one of this act. If any such inspection shall show such boiler to be in an unsafe or dangerous condition, the commission, or a commissioner, may issue a preliminary order requiring such repairs or alterations to be made to such boiler as may be necessary to render it safe, and may order the use of such boiler discontinued until such repairs or alterations are made or such dangerous or unsafe conditions are remedied. Unless such preliminary order be complied with, a hearing before the commission, a commissioner or referee of such commission, shall be allowed, upon request, at which the owner, operator or other person in charge of said boiler shall have opportunity to appear and show cause why he should not comply with said order. If it shall thereafter appear to the commission that such boiler is unsafe and that the requirements contained in such preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make said boiler safe, the commission may order or confirm the withholding of the permit to operate said boiler, and may make such requirements as it deems proper for the repair or alteration of said boiler, or the correction of such dangerous and unsafe conditions. Such order may thereafter be reheard by the commission, or reviewed by the courts, in the manner specified by the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 for safety orders, and not otherwise. It may also, in its discretion, issue and renew temporary permits for not to exceed thirty days each, pending the making of replacements or repairs. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

§ 4. Who may inspect. Certificate of competency. The commission may cause the inspection herein provided for to be made either by its safety inspectors or by any qualified boiler inspector employed by any county, city and county, city, or insurance company, or by any boiler inspector employed by any person or corporation for the purpose of testing his own boilers only; provided, that such persons making inspections other than such safety inspectors shall first secure from the said industrial accident commission a certificate of competency to make such inspections. The industrial accident commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to determine the competency of any applicants for such certificate, either by examination or by other satisfactory proof of qualifications. The commission may rescind at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, any certificate of competency issued by it to a boiler inspector, or may at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, revoke any permit to operate such steam boiler.

§ 5. Fees. The industrial accident commission shall fix and collect fees for the inspection of steam boilers covered by this act, not exceeding two dollars and fifty cents for each external inspection and seven dollars and fifty cents for each internal inspection per annum. Such fees must be paid before the issuance of any permit to operate the said boiler. No fee shall be charged by the industrial accident commission where an inspection, as herein provided, has been made by an inspector holding a certificate of competency from said commission and employed by any county, city and county, city, insurance company, or by any person or corporation for the purpose of testing his own boilers only. All fees collected by the commission under this act shall be paid into the accident prevention fund.

§ 6. Report of inspection. Every inspector so certified shall forward to the commission on the forms provided by it, within twenty-one days after such inspection is made, a report of such inspection, in default of which the certificate of competency may be canceled.

TITLE 547.STREETS.*ACT 3927.

An act to provide for laying out, opening, extending, widening, straightening, or closing up in whole or in part any street, square, lane, alley, court or place within municipalities, and to condemn and acquire any and all land and property necessary or convenient for that purpose.

[Approved March 6, 1889. Stats. 1889, p. 70.]

Amended 1909, p. 1034; 1913, p. 376; 1919, p. 464.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 22. Procedure when boundaries of districts of lands affect whole city. If the city council deem it proper that the boundaries of the districts of lands to be affected and assessed to pay the whole or any portion of the damages, cost and expenses of any work or improvement under this act, shall include the whole city, then the commissioners appointed shall proceed in a summary manner to purchase the lands to be taken or condemned from the owners and claimants thereof. If said commissioners and the owners and claimants cannot agree upon the price to be paid for said lands, they shall proceed to view and value the same, and shall thereupon make a summary report to the city council. Upon final confirmation of the report, the city council, if there be not sufficient money available in the city treasury, shall cause the whole or any such portion of the cost and expenses of the contemplated public improvement to be assessed upon the whole of the taxable property of said city, and to be included in and form part of the next general assessment-roll of said city, and with like effect in all respects as if the same formed a part of the city, state and county taxes; and when the same shall have been collected the said city council shall cause the land required to be paid for or the value thereof tendered, and the said contemplated public improvement to be forthwith made and completed. All the provisions of the preceding sections not in conflict with this section shall be applicable thereto. [Amendment approved May 8, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 464.]

ACT 3928.

An act to provide for the laying out, opening, extending, widening, or straightening, in whole or in part, of public streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts, and places, within municipalities, for the condemnation of property necessary or convenient for such purposes, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of such improvement.

[Approved March 24, 1903. Stats. 1903, p. 376.]

Amended 1909, p. 1035; 1911, pp. 855, 894; 1913, p. 429; 1919, p. 1046.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 2. Declaration of intention. City may pay percentage. Before ordering any improvement to be made which is authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall pass an ordinance declaring its intention to do so, describing the improvement and the land necessary or convenient to be taken therefor, and specifying the boundaries of the district to be benefited by said improvement and to be assessed to pay the expense thereof and to be known as the assessment district. Said city council may, in its discretion, order and declare that the whole, or any percentage, of the expense of said improvement be paid out of the treasury of the municipality from such fund as the council may designate, in which case it shall be so stated in said ordinance of intention. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1046.]

ACT 3930.

An act to provide for work done upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks and for the construction of sewers within municipalities.

[Approved March 18, 1885. Stats. 1885, p. 147.]

Amended 1887, p. 148; 1889, p. 157; 1891, pp. 116, 196, 461; 1893, pp. 33, 89, 172; 1899, p. 23; 1903, p. 88; 1905, pp. 15, 63; 1907, pp. 126, 1000; 1909, pp. 31, 399, 1017; 1911, pp. 626, 849; 1913, pp. 353, 402; 1915, p. 1400; 1919, p. 480.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 61. Bond for labor and material. Lien for materials furnished. Every contractor, person, company or corporation including contracting owners, to whom is awarded any contract for street work under this act, shall, before executing the said contract, file with the superintendent of streets a good and sufficient bond, approved by the mayor, in a sum not less than one-half of the total amount payable by the terms of said contract; such bond shall be executed by the principal and at least two sureties, who shall qualify for double the sum specified in said bond, and shall be made to inure to the benefit of any and all persons, companies, or corporations who perform labor on, or furnish materials to be used in the said work of improvement, and shall provide that if the contractor, person, company, or corporation to whom said contract was awarded fails to pay for any materials so furnished for the said work of improvement, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, that the sureties will pay the same, to an amount not exceeding the sum specified in said bond. Any laborer, materialman, person, company, or corporation, furnishing materials to be used in the performance of said work specified in said contract, or who performed work or labor upon the said improvement, whose claim has not been paid by the said contractor, company or corporation, who executed the said contract, shall severally have a first lien upon and against the assessment, any partial assessment, any reassessment, and any bonds which may be issued to represent any assessment or reassessment. Such laborers, or materialmen may, at any time prior to thirty days after the recording of the assessment for said work, file with the superintendent of streets a verified statement of his or its claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid. At any time within ninety days after the filing of such claim the person, company, or corporation filing the same or their assigns, may commence an action either to enforce the aforesaid lien, or on said bond, for the recovery of the amount due on said claim, together with the costs incurred in said action, and a reasonable attorney fee, to be fixed by the court, for the prosecution thereof. [Amendment approved May 8, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 481.]

ACT 3932.

An act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvements within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds.

[Approved February 27, 1893. Stats. 1893, p. 33.]

Amended 1899, p. 40; 1911, p. 1201; 1913, pp. 351, 845; 1917, p. 160.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 4. Street superintendent to certify unpaid assessments. Sufficient description of land. Street improvement bonds. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of the warrant, or if an appeal be taken to the city council, or an extension of time be granted the contractor in which to make his return as provided in section ten of said street work act, then five days after the final decision of said city council, or the expiration of the extension, or after the full expiration of thirty days from the recording of a reassessment in the event that such be made, and after the street superintendent shall have recorded the return, and in the event that a reassessment is ordered, after all previous payments have been credited on the reassessment, the street superintendent shall make and certify to the city treasurer a complete list of all assessments unpaid, which amount to twenty-five dollars or over upon any assessment or diagram number; and said treasurer shall thereupon make out, sign and issue to the contractor, or his assigns, payee of the warrant and assessment, a separate bond, representing upon each lot or parcel of land upon said list the total amount of the assessments or reassessments as the case may be, against the same as thereon shown. And if said lot or parcel of land is described upon said assessment and diagram by its number or block, or both, upon the official map of said municipality, or upon any map on file in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said municipality is situated, then it shall be in said bond a sufficient description of said lot or parcel of land to designate it by said number or block, or both, as it appears on said official or recorded map. Said bond shall be substantially in the following form:

STREET IMPROVEMENT BOND.

Series (designating it) in the city (or other form of municipality) of _____ (naming it).

No. —.

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the state of California (title of said act), I, out of the fund for the above designated street improvement bonds, series —, will pay to —, or order, the sum of — dollars, ($—), with interest at the rate of — per cent per annum, all as hereinafter specified, and at the office of the treasurer of the — of —, state of California.

This bond is issued to represent the cost of certain street work upon — in the — of —, as the same is more fully described in assessment No. —, issued by the street superintendent of said —, after acceptance of said work, and recorded in his office (or if there has been a reassessment then the reference shall be to such reassessment). Its amount is the amount assessed in said assessment (or reassessment if such be made) against the lot or parcel of land numbered therein, and in the diagram attached thereto, as No. —, and which now remains unpaid, but until paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, as the same is described herein, and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit:

That certain lot or parcel of land in said — of — county of — and state of California, described as follows:

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund and neither the municipality nor any officer thereof is to be holden for payment otherwise for its principal or interest. The term of this bond is — years from the second day of January next succeeding its date, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid shall be due and payable; but on the second day of January of each year after its date an even annual proportion of its whole amount is due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor until the whole is paid (or if said bonds are to extend over a period exceeding ten years from their date, insert in place of the last statement the following: But on the second day of January of each of the last ten years of the term of this bond an even one-tenth part of the whole amount of the principal of said bond shall be due and payable upon presentation of the coupon therefor), with all accrued interest at the rate of — per centum per annum. The interest is payable semi-annually, to wit: on the second days of January and July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the coupons therefor, the first of which is for the interest from date to the next second day of —, and thereafter the interest coupons are for semi-annual interest. Should default be made in the annual payment upon the principal, or in any payment of interest, by the owner of said lot or parcel of land, or anyone in his behalf, the holder of this bond is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable and to have said lot or parcel of land advertised and sold forthwith, in the manner provided by law.

At said — of —, this — day of —, in the year one thousand nine hundred —.

City treasurer of the — of —.

In case the amount of the unpaid assessment or reassessment upon any lot or parcel of land shall be less than twenty-five dollars, then the same shall be collected as is provided in said street work act. If any person, or his authorized agent, shall at any time before the issuance of the bond for said assessment or reassessment upon his lot or parcel of land present to the city treasurer his affidavit made before a competent officer, that he is the owner of a lot or parcel of land in said list, accompanied by the certificate of a searcher of records that he is such owner of record, and shall with such affidavit and certificate notify said treasurer in writing that he desires no bond to be issued for the assessment upon said lot or parcel of land, then no such bond shall be issued therefor and the payee of the warrant, or his assigns, shall retain his right for enforcing collection of said assessment or reassessment as if said lot or parcel of land had not been so listed by the street superintendent. The bonds so issued by said treasurer shall be payable to the party to whom they issue, or order, and shall be serial bonds, as is hereinbefore described, and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the resolution of intention to do said work. They shall have annual coupons attached thereto, payable in annual order on the second day of January in each year after the date of the bonds until all are paid, or if the term of said bonds be more than ten years, then said coupons shall be payable on the second day of January of each of the last ten years of the term of the bonds; and each coupon shall be for an even annual proportion of the principal of the bond. They shall have semi-annual interest coupons thereto attached, the first of which shall be payable upon the second day of January or July, as the case may be, next after its date, and shall be for the interest accrued at that time, and the rest of which shall be for the semi-annual interest accruing from the second day of January or July, as the case may be. The owner of, or any person interested in, any lot or parcel of land upon which a bond has been issued, under the terms of this act, may at any time pay off such bond and discharge his land from the lien of the assessment, by paying to the city treasurer for the holder of such bond the amount then unpaid on the principal sum thereof, and all interest thereon which has accrued and is unpaid, together with the semi-annual installment of interest which will next become due thereafter, and in addition thereto, interest for six months at the rate specified in the bond upon the unpaid amount of the principal. The treasurer shall thereupon make an entry upon his bond register that such bond has been paid in full. When all the coupons of principal and interest are paid or the bond is surrendered or satisfied, the city treasurer shall report the fact to the street superintendent, who shall forthwith indorse the same on the margin of the record of the assessment to the credit of which the same is paid. The assessment upon which a bond is issued shall be a first lien upon the property affected thereby until the bond issued for the payment thereof and the accrued interest thereon shall be fully paid. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings leading up thereto under said street work act and under this act, and of the validity of said lien. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 160.]

ACT 3932a.

An act to provide for the issuance of improvement bonds to represent and be secured by certain assessments made for the cost of certain work and improvements made in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks within municipalities and upon property and rights of way owned by municipalities, to provide for the collection of such assessments, the sale of the property affected thereby and for the payment of the bonds so issued.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 209.

§ 3. Bonds payable when and where. Interest. Redemption fund Register. Said bonds shall be issued in series and an even annual proportion of the aggregate principal sum thereof shall be payable on the second day of July every year succeeding the first nine months after their date, until the whole is paid, and the said bonds shall bear interest at a rate of not to exceed eight per cent per annum from the date of filing with the clerk of the street superintendent's list of unpaid assessments, on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal sum and interest are paid, which interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively of each year; provided, that the first payment of interest shall not come due till six months before the maturity of the first series of bonds. The final series or installment of said bonds shall mature and be payable on a date which shall not exceed fourteen years from the second day of July next succeeding nine months from their date. Said bonds and interest shall be paid at the office of the city treasurer of said municipality who shall keep a redemption fund designated by the name of said bonds, into which he shall place all sums received by him from the collection of the assessments made for the payment of the cost of the work or improvements upon which the said bonds are issued, and of the interest and penalties thereon and from which fund he shall disburse and pay the said bonds and the interest due thereon upon presentation of the proper bonds and coupons; and under no circumstances shall said bonds or the interest thereon be paid out of any other fund. Said city treasurer shall keep a register in his office which shall show the series, number, date, amount, rate of interest, and last known holder of each bond, and the number and amount of each coupon of interest paid by him, and shall cancel and file each bond and coupon so paid. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 209.]

§ 4. Resolution of intention. When said city council shall determine that serial bonds shall be issued hereunder to represent the expense of any proposed work or improvement under said street work act it shall so declare in the resolution of intention to do said work and shall specify the rate of interest which they shall bear. The like description of said bonds shall be inserted in the resolution ordering the work, in the resolution of award and in all notices of said proceedings required by said act to be either posted or published, and also a like notice shall be entered in any warrant issued by the superintendent of streets to the contractor. Said bond declaration may be substantially in the following form: "Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments, and bear interest at the rate of — per cent per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided by the improvement bond act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature — years from the second day of July next succeeding nine months from their date." [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 210.]

§ 5. Street superintendent to file list of unpaid assessments. Notice of hearing. Objections. Advertisement for bids. Award to highest bidder. After the full expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of the warrant, or if an appeal be taken to the city council as provided in said street work act, then five (5) days after the final decision of said council, and after the street superintendent shall have recorded the return, the street superintendent shall make and file with the clerk of the city council a complete list of all assessments unpaid, upon any assessment or diagram number. Said clerk shall then give notice of the filing of said list and of a time, to be therein fixed by said clerk, when interested persons may appear before the city council and show cause why bonds should not be issued upon the security of the unpaid assessments shown on said list, which time shall be that of some regular meeting of said council. Such notice shall be posted for not less than five days on or near the council chamber door and be published twice in a newspaper published in such city, if there be any, the first of which publications shall be not less than five days before the time fixed for such hearing. Reference shall therein be made to the resolution of intention and the date of its passage for a description of the work therein mentioned and no other description thereof shall be necessary. The council shall hear any objection presented and shall pass upon the same and shall thereupon determine the assessments which are unpaid and the aggregate amount of same. It may adjourn the hearing from time to time. Its decision shall be final. The city council shall then prescribe the denominations of such bonds, which shall be in convenient amounts not necessarily equal, and shall provide for issuance of same in annual series. Said bonds must be sold at a time to be fixed by the council, and to the highest bidder therefor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds of the sale shall be deposited in the city treasury. Before selling said bonds, or any part thereof, the city council must advertise for bids therefor, by publication once a week for at least two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city, or if there is no such newspaper published in the city then by notice of sale, posted for at least two weeks on or near the council chamber door of said city. If satisfactory bids are received the bonds offered for sale must be awarded to the highest bidder. If no such bids are received or the council determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders the council may reject all bids received, if any, and either readvertise or deliver said bonds to the contractor in satisfaction of the sum due him upon his assessment and warrant. From the proceeds of any sale of said bonds, there shall be paid to such contractor the balance due him upon his assessment and warrant including interest upon the principal amount thereof at the rate specified in said bond declaration computed from the date of filing of said unpaid assessment list, and the surplus of such proceeds shall be credited to the redemption fund for the payment of such bonds. The cost of such publications shall be paid from such redemption fund. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 211.]

§ 6. Form of bond. Said bonds shall each be substantially in the following form:

IMPROVEMENT BOND.

City (or other form of municipality) of (naming it).

No. —

Under and by virtue of the act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled (title of this act) the — of — (a municipal corporation) will on the second day of July, 19—, out of the redemption fund for the payment of the bonds issued upon the assessments made for the work upon and improvements on certain streets (or on — street, or in improvement district No. —, or on certain rights of way owned by, or by other suitable description), more fully described in the certain resolution of intention passed by the city council (or other board) of said municipality on the — day of —, 19—, pay to bearer, the sum of — dollars ($—) with interest thereon from the — day of —, 19— at the rate of — per cent per annum, all as is hereinafter specified, and at the office of the treasurer of said municipality.

This bond is one of several annual series of bonds of like date, tenor and effect, but differing in amounts and maturities, issued by said municipality under said act for the purpose of providing means for paying for the work and improvements described in said resolution of intention, and is secured by the moneys in said redemption fund and by the unpaid assessments made for the payment of said work, and, including principal and interest, is payable exclusively out of said fund.

The interest is payable semi-annually, to wit: On the second days of January and July in each year hereafter, upon presentation of the proper coupons therefor; provided, that the first of said coupons is for the interest to the second day of January, 19—, and thereafter the interest coupons are for the semi-annual interest.

This bond will continue to bear interest after maturity at the rate above stated; provided, it is presented at maturity and payment thereof is refused upon the sole ground that there is not sufficient moneys in said redemption fund with which to pay same. If it is not presented at maturity interest thereon will run until maturity.

This bond may be redeemed and paid in advance of maturity upon the second day of July in any year by giving the notice provided in said act.

In witness whereof, said — of — has caused this bond to be signed by the treasurer of said — and by its clerk and has caused its clerk to affix thereto its corporate seal all on the — day of —, 19—.

§ 7. The coupons affixed to said bonds shall be signed by the treasurer, and the city council may by order provided in its discretion for the use upon said coupons of an engraved, printed or lithographed signature of the treasurer in place of a signature by hand. The bonds shall have semi-annual coupons attached thereto, the first of which shall be payable upon the second day of January next before the maturity of the first series of bonds coming due, and shall be for the interest accrued at that time. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 213.]

§ 12. Assessments payable in installments. Sale of land on default of payment. Purchase by city. State to purchase when. Such unpaid assessments shall be payable in annual series, corresponding in number to the number of series of bonds issued and an even annual proportion of each assessment shall be payable in each year preceding the date of maturity of each of the several series of bonds so issued. Such annual proportion of each assessment coming due in any year, together with the annual interest on such assessment, shall in turn be payable in annual or semi-annual installments according as the general municipal taxes of such city on real property are payable in annual or semi-annual installments, and such installments and said annual interest shall be payable and become delinquent at the same times and in the same proportionate amounts and bear the same proportionate penalties and interest after delinquency as to the general municipal taxes on real property of said city. Upon default in payment, the lands securing such installments and assessments shall be sold in the same manner in which real property in such city is sold, for the nonpayment of general municipal taxes, and be subject to redemption in the same manner as such real property is redeemed from such delinquent sale, and upon failure of redemption shall in like manner pass to the purchaser. The city may be the purchaser at any delinquent sale in like manner in which it becomes or may become the purchaser of property sold for nonpayment of the general municipal property tax, and in the event of its so becoming the purchaser shall pay and transfer into said redemption fund the amount of the delinquent assessment and of the delinquent interest thereon upon which said sale is made. In cases where the municipal property tax is collected by county or city and county officials and sales for nonpayment of such taxes are made to the state, the state shall be the purchaser at any such sale hereunder, but shall hold the title acquired at such sale upon behalf of the city and shall account to the city for any moneys received upon redemption or from the sale of such property, the city for the purposes of this act being deemed the real purchaser. In other cases where under the law, the city is not always the purchaser at sales for delinquent municipal taxes, the city shall become such purchaser at any delinquent sale hereunder where there is no other purchaser. In the event of there being no available funds in the treasury with which to make such payment, the tax collector shall delay the entry of the certificate of sale until such funds are available, making demand in the meantime upon the city council that a suitable amount be included in the next tax levy for the purpose of providing funds with which to make such payment; provided, however, that the period of redemption from such tax sale shall not be extended thereby nor the rights or privileges of the property owner be thereby in any wise affected. In the event of such purchase being made by the city and of any succeeding installment of such assessment or of such interest not being paid in any future year, the property shall not be sold unless there has previously been a redemption from such sale or unless under the law it is being then sold for delinquent taxes. The city shall nevertheless from time to time when due pay and transfer into said redemption fund the amount of any such future delinquent assessment and interest pending redemption, and no redemption shall be made until any such subsequent payments, with interest and penalties, shall also be paid. [Amendment approved May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 213.]

ACT 3936b.

An act to provide for local improvements in or upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways, property, or rights of way within or belonging to municipalities, and providing for the issuance and payment of bonds to represent assessments levied for such improvements.

[Approved May 16, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 527. In effect July 22, 1919.]

§ 1. Municipality empowered to do work on streets, etc. Definitions. All streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, places, or courts in the municipalities of this state, now open or dedicated, or which may hereafter be opened or dedicated to public use, shall be deemed and be held to be open public streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts, for the purpose of this act; and the city council of any municipality is hereby empowered to establish and change the grades of said streets, lanes, alleys, places, or courts, and fix the width thereof, and is hereby invested with jurisdiction to order to be done thereon any of the work mentioned in section two of this act, under the proceedings hereinafter described.

The word "street," as used in this act, shall be deemed, and is hereby declared, to include avenues, highways, lanes, alleys, crossings, or intersections, courts and places, which have been dedicated and accepted according to law or in common and undisputed use by the public for a period of not less than five years next preceding; and the term "main street" means such actually opened street or streets as bound a block; and the word "blocks," whether regular or irregular, means such blocks as are bounded by main streets, or partially by a boundary line of the city.

§ 2. Work which may be ordered done. Different kinds of work in one proceeding. "City council." Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the city council is hereby authorized and empowered to order the whole or any portion or portions, either in length or width of any one or more of the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways, property, or rights of way, of any such city graded or regraded to the official grade, planked or replanked, paved or repaved, macadamized, or remacadamized, graveled or regraveled, piled or repiled, capped or recapped, oiled or reoiled; and to order the construction or reconstruction therein of sidewalks, crosswalks, culverts, bridges, gutters, curbs, steps, parkings and parkways; sewers, ditches, drains, conduits and channels for sanitary and drainage purposes or either or both thereof, with outlets, cesspools, manholes, catch basins, flush tanks, septic tanks, and other appurtenances; pipes, hydrants and appliances for fire protection, or for the service of water for domestic or sanitary uses; viaducts, conduits and subways, breakwaters, levees, bulkheads and walls of rock or other material; tunnels or subterranean avenues for public travel; poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits, lamps and other suitable or necessary appliances for the purpose of lighting said streets.

avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places or public ways; the planting of trees thereon, and any work which shall be deemed necessary to improve the whole or any portion of such streets, avenues, sidewalks, lanes, alleys, courts, places, or public ways or property or rights of way, of such city.

The city council may include in one proceeding and order, any of the different kinds of work mentioned in this act, and may include such work on any number of streets, property and rights of way, or any portion thereof, contiguous or otherwise, in one proceeding or one contract, or both, and may except therefrom any of said work already done to the official grade, and which may be in good condition and repair.

The term "city council" is hereby declared to include any body or board, which, under the law, is the legislative department of the government of any city.

§ 3. Resolution. Before ordering any work done or improvement made, which is authorized by section two of this act, the city council shall pass a resolution referring the proposed work to the city engineer, if there be one, and, if not, to some civil engineer employed by them for the purpose and named in the resolution, instructing him to make them a report in writing containing his recommendations as to the best method of doing said work or making said improvement, together with the following:

Report of engineer. (a) A statement of the nature of the proposed work or improvement, with plans and specifications therefor;

(b) A description of the district or districts which, in his opinion, would be benefited by the proposed work or improvement and should be assessed to pay the cost thereof, excepting and excluding therefrom any lot or portions of said district or districts which would not be benefited by the proposed work. Said district or districts, may be described by the exterior boundaries thereof or by giving the numbers of the lots and blocks, according to the official or recorded map or maps, or by any other method which will clearly indicate the lots and lands intended to be included therein;

(c) An estimate of the cost of said improvement;

(d) The assessed value of all the real property included within said district or districts and proposed to be assessed for the work, exclusive of buildings or other improvements, according to the last equalized assessment-roll used for purposes of taxation by said city;

(e) A plat showing said district or districts and the subdivisions of property therein, as shown by the last equalized assessment-roll.

The engineer may submit a number of districts, which, according to his estimate, would be benefited in different degrees by the proposed improvement, in which case he shall specify the proportion of benefit which each district would receive.

§ 4. Adoption of report. Resolution of intention. Where cost paid in part by municipality. Property omitted from assessment. Upon receipt of the report from the engineer, the city council shall consider and act upon the same, and may adopt the report as submitted or as they may modify the same. After adoption, the city council shall pass a resolution of intention, briefly describing the proposed work or improvement, referring to the plans and specifications therefor, and briefly describing the district or districts which would be benefited by and assessed for the proposed work or improvement, and the proportion of benefit said district or districts would derive therefrom. The resolution shall contain a declaration to the effect that serial bonds, bearing interest at a rate therein to be determined, but not to exceed six per cent per annum, will be issued to represent the unpaid assessments. The resolution shall also contain a notice of the day, hour, and place, when and where any persons having any objections to the proposed work or improvement may appear before the city council and show cause, if any they have, why the proposed work or improvement should not be carried out in accordance with said resolution, which time shall not be less than fifteen nor more than forty days from the day of the passage of said resolution.

The city council may, in its discretion, order, that any part of the cost and expenses of any of the work mentioned in this act be paid out of the treasury of the municipality from such fund as the council may designate, in which case it shall be so stated in the resolution of intention.

Whenever a part of such cost and expenses is so ordered to be paid, the superintendent of streets, in making up the assessment heretofore provided for such cost and expenses, shall first deduct from the whole cost and expenses such part thereof as has been so ordered to be paid out of the municipal treasury, and shall assess the remainder of said cost and expenses proportionately upon the lots and lands liable to be assessed for such work, and in the manner hereinafter provided.

Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States, or to the state of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, shall be included within the district or districts declared by the city council in its resolution of intention to be the district or districts to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses thereof, said city council may, in the resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment thereafter to be made to cover the cost and expenses of said work or improvement, in which case the total cost and expenses shall be assessed on the remaining lots and lands in the assessment district or districts; provided, that such part of the cost and expenses may be paid out of the municipal treasury as hereinbefore provided.

§ 5. Grade established. Objections to grade. The council may, in the resolution of intention, by reference to the plans and specifications or otherwise, fix and establish the grade at which the work is to be done, which grade so fixed and established may be either the first establishment of such grade or the changing of an existing official grade.

In such case the plans adopted for the proposed work shall show the existing official grade, if any, and the grade at which the proposed work is to be done.

In the event the proposed work is to be done at a grade other than an existing official grade, the resolution of intention and the notices of improvement shall recite the fact and refer to the plans and specifications for further particulars as to such proposed grade.

Any property owner whose property is to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the proposed improvement, may at the time fixed in the resolution of intention for the hearing of objections to the proposed work or improvement, appear before the city council and make objections to the grade so established or changed in said resolution of intention.

Failure to make such objections shall be deemed to be a waiver of all objections to such grade, and shall operate as a waiver of all claims for damages and shall constitute a bar to any subsequent action looking either to the prevention of the work or the recovery of damages or compensation on account of the performance of the work to such grade.

§ 6. Publication and posting of resolution of intention. The city clerk shall cause said resolution of intention to be published twice in one or more daily or weekly newspapers published and circulated within said city. The street superintendent shall cause to be conspicuously posted along the line of said contemplated work or improvement, at not more than three hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all, notices of the passage of said resolution, briefly describing the district or districts to be benefited and assessed, and containing an announcement that serial bonds, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, will be issued to represent the unpaid assessments. Said notices shall be headed "notice of improvement," in letters of not less than one inch in length; and shall, in legible characters, state the fact of the passage of the resolution of intention, its date, and briefly, the work or improvement proposed, and shall refer to the resolution of intention for further particulars. Said notices shall also contain a notice of the day, hour, and place fixed for hearing objections as above mentioned.

§ 7. Notice to property owners. The city clerk shall, immediately upon the passage of said resolution of intention, mail, postage prepaid, to each property owner whose property is to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses of said work and improvement, at his last known address as the same appears upon the tax-rolls of said city, or when no address so appears, to the general delivery of the United States post-office in said city, a postal card containing a notice which shall be in substantially the following form (filling blanks):

"You are hereby notified that on the — day of — the city council of the city of —, California, passed a resolution of intention providing for the improvement of — street between — street and — street. You are hereby referred to the said resolution for further particulars. Properly belonging to you is to be assessed for this improvement.

— —, City clerk."

If any lots or parcels of land in the assessment district or districts be assessed to "unknown owners" on the tax-rolls of said city, no postal cards containing such notice need be mailed to the owners thereof.

The city clerk shall, upon the completion of the mailing of said postal cards, file in his office an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of the compliance with this requirement; provided, that the failure of the city clerk to mail said cards, or the failure of the property owners to receive the same shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or prevent the city council from acquiring jurisdiction to order the work.

§ 8. Bids. The city council shall cause notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing the work and referring to the plans and specifications on file, to be published twice in a daily or weekly newspaper, published and circulated in said city, and provide that the same will be received and opened on the same day, hour, and place fixed for hearing objections as aforementioned. All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check payable to the city, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal.

§ 9. Objections against work. Opening of bids. Hearing of objections. At any time not later than the hour set for receiving proposals and hearing objections to the proposed work or improvement, any owner of property liable to be assessed for said work or improvement may make written protests or objections against the work or improvement or against the district or districts, to be assessed, or both, or make any objection of any character to said work. Said objections or protests must be delivered to the clerk of the city council prior to the hour set for the hearing, and no other protests or objections shall be considered by said council.

At the time fixed for said hearing and the opening of bids as aforementioned, the city council shall first cause all the bids received to be publicly opened and publicly declared, after which the same shall be temporarily laid upon the table while the council proceeds to hear and consider objections, if any there be. The council may continue the hearing from time to time and postpone final consideration of the proposals or bids submitted. The decision of the council on all protests or objections shall be final and conclusive; provided, that where the council finds that the objections or protests filed have been made by a majority of the property owners of the district, or of all the districts if there be more than one district, and that they are also the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property within the district or districts to be assessed for the proposed work or improvement, no further proceedings shall be taken for a period of six months from the date of the finding of the council as to the sufficiency of the protest.

If no protests or objections in writing have been delivered to the clerk up to the hour set for the hearing, or if protests have been heard and overruled, thereupon the city council shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to order the work and award the contract.

Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prevent the council from sustaining any objection filed, or to abandon the proceedings for the work or improvement prior to the awarding of the contract.

§ 10. Award of contract. The city council may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and also the bid of any party who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the municipality, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work or improvement to the lowest responsible bidder on the plans and specifications selected at the prices named in his bid. No contract shall be awarded on any proceeding, if more than one year has elapsed since the passage of the resolution of intention for such proceeding, but in such case a new proceeding will have to be instituted. If the bids are rejected or no bids received, the city council may within six months thereafter readvertise for and receive proposals or bids for the performance of the work as in the first instance, without further proceedings. The checks accompanying the accepted proposals or bids shall be held by the city clerk until the contract for doing said work has been entered into, but if said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract to perform said work or improvement, as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid and the amount therein mentioned shall be forfeited to said city and shall be collected by it and paid into the general fund.

§ 11. Failure of bidder to enter into contract. If the original bidder neglects, fails or refuses to enter into the contract within fifteen days after the same has been awarded to him, then the city council, without further proceedings, shall again advertise for proposals or bids, as in the first instance, and award the contract for said work to the lowest regular responsible bidder. Should no bids be received in response to this second call, the council may again advertise for and receive bids under the same proceedings, at any time within six months from the time set for the last reception of bids, and let the contract to the then lowest bidder, and such delay shall in no way affect the validity of any of the proceedings, unless such delay is contrary to the provisions of section ten hereof.

§ 12. Bond of contractor. "Incidental expenses." All contractors shall, at the time of executing any contract for street work, execute a bond to the satisfaction and approval of the superintendent of streets of said city, with two or more sureties, payable to such city, in a sum equal to twenty-five per cent of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract; and the sureties shall justify before any person competent to administer an oath in double the amount mentioned in said bond, over and above all statutory exemptions. Before being entitled to a contract, the bidder to whom the award was made, must advance to the superintendent of streets, for payment by him, all incidental expenses already incurred by the city for said work or improvements. In case the work is abandoned by the city before the letting of the contract, the incidental expenses incurred previous to such abandonment shall be paid out of the city treasury.

The term "incidental expenses" as used in this act, shall include the compensation of the city engineer, or street superintendent, for work done by him; also, the cost of printing, advertising, posting and mailing, legal expenses incurred and the compensation of the person appointed by the superintendent of streets to take charge of and superintend or inspect any of the work. All demands for incidental expenses mentioned in this subdivision shall be presented to the street superintendent by itemized bill, duly verified by oath of the demandant.

§ 13. Bond of contractor to protect persons furnishing materials or labor. Every contractor, person, company, or corporation to whom is awarded any contract under this act, shall, before executing said contract, file with the superintendent of streets a good and sufficient bond, approved by the mayor, or other chief executive, in a sum not less than one-half of the total amount payable by the terms of said contract; such bond shall be executed by the principal and at least two sureties, who shall qualify for double the sum specified in said bond, and said bond shall be made to inure to the benefit of any and all persons, companies, or corporations who perform labor on, or furnish materials to be used in the said work or improvement, and shall provide that if the contractor, person, company, or corporation to whom said contract was awarded fails to pay for any materials so furnished for the said work or improvement, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, then the sureties will pay the same, to an amount not exceeding the sum specified in said bond. Any materialman, person, company, or corporation, furnishing materials to be used in the performance of said work specified in said contract, or who performed work or labor upon the said improvement, whose claim has not been paid by the said contractor, company or corporation, to whom the said contract was awarded, may, within sixty days from the time said improvement is completed, file with the superintendent of streets a verified statement of his or its claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid, whereupon the amount of said claim shall be withheld from payment for a period of ninety days or until settled. Within ninety days after the filing of such claim, the person, company, or corporation, filing the same or their assigns must commence an action on said bond for the recovery of the amount due thereon.

§ 14. Power of superintendent of streets. Time in which work must be done. Payments during work. The superintendent of streets is hereby authorized in his official capacity to make all written contracts, and receive all bonds authorized by this act, and to do any other act, either express or implied, that pertains to the street department under this act.

Said contract shall contain an express notice that, in no case, except where it is otherwise provided by law or the city charter will the city or any officer thereof be liable for any portion of the expense or for any delinquency of persons or property assessed.

The superintendent of streets shall fix the time for the commencement of the work, which shall not be more than fifteen days from the date of the contract, and for the completion thereof; and the work shall be prosecuted with diligence from day to day thereafter to completion. He may extend the time so fixed from time to time, under the direction of the city council. All applications for such extensions must be in writing and be filed in his office before the expiration of the original time fixed in the contract, or of the time theretofore granted by extension, as the case may be. The work must be done in accordance with the plans and specifications and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the street superintendent; provided, however, the city council may, by resolution provide that the work shall be done under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the city engineer instead of the street superintendent.

Nothing herein contained, will be deemed to prohibit the city council from making payments to the contractor from time to time as the work progresses.

§ 15. Assessment of property. Notice that payments are due. After the contractor has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of the street superintendent or city engineer, as the case may be, such officer shall make an assessment on the lots and lands within the district or districts to cover the sum due for the work performed and specified in the contract, including all incidental expenses, excluding therefrom any lot or portion of said district or districts which have heretofore been declared not to be benefited by the work or improvement, which assessments shall be in proportion to the assessed value of all the real property in the district or districts liable to assessment therefor, exclusive of improvements, in the proportional amount of benefit which each district will derive from the proposed work, as provided in section three hereof. Such assessment shall be filed by the street superintendent with the tax collector of said city.

Upon satisfactory completion of the work, the street superintendent or city engineer, as the case may be, shall cause a notice of such completion to be published twice in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city, notifying all owners of real property within the said district or districts that assessments to pay for the cost of said work and improvement will be due and payable at the office of the tax collector within thirty days from the date of the first publication of said notice, and that unless said assessments are paid on or before said date (stating the time), serial bonds will be issued to represent such unpaid assessments, as aforestated in section four hereof.

§ 16. Action to contest validity of assessment. Any action to contest the validity of an assessment levied under the provisions of this act, or of any proceeding of the city council, or any act of any municipal officer under the provisions of this act, must be commenced within sixty days after the adoption by the city council of the resolution awarding the contract, or within sixty days after the commission or omission of the act complained of, as the case may be; and any appeal taken from a final judgment in such action shall be perfected within sixty days after the entry thereof.

§ 17. Notice of unpaid assessments. Bonds. Identifying number for proceeding. Manner of payment. Denomination. Interest. After the full expiration of thirty days from the date of the first publication of the notice mentioned in section fifteen hereof, the tax collector shall make and file with the clerk of the city council a complete list of all assessments unpaid, together with an identifying number of each lot and block, according to the engineer's plat, and the assessed value thereof. The city council shall then cause bonds to be issued for the amount of the aggregate of the unpaid assessments.

For the purposes of identification and recordation each proceeding taken under this act shall be given a different identifying number, and the property assessed therefor shall be known as "local improvement district number —," specifying the number thereof. The city council shall prescribe the denominations of said bonds, which shall be in convenient amounts not necessarily equal. Said bonds shall be dated the thirty-first day after the first publication of said notice aforementioned.

The city council shall prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable in the following manner:

A part, to be determined by the city council, which shall not be less than one-twentieth part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year, on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said council and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date, until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid.

The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as said council may determine, except that no bond shall be of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place fixed in such bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six per centum per annum, and shall be paid semi-annually; said bonds shall be signed by the chief executive of the municipality, or by such other officer thereof as the city council shall, by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members, authorize and designate for that purpose, and also signed by the treasurer thereof, and shall be countersigned by the city clerk. The interest coupons on said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, and signed by the treasurer of such municipality or by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any officer whose signature or counter-signature appears on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signature or counter-signature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

§ 18. Form of bond. Said bonds shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of all proceedings leading up to their issuance.

They shall be substantially in the following form:

No. —.

IMPROVEMENT BOND.

City (or town) of —.

Under and by virtue of the act of the legislature of the state of California, known as the local improvement act of 1919, the — of — of said state, will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of said — on the — day of —, 19—, — dollars, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin, at the rate of — per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the — day of — and — of each year from the date hereof, upon presentation and surrender of the proper interest coupons hereto attached, as they respectively become due.

This bond is issued pursuant to the constitution and statutes of the state of California, and to the ordinances, resolutions, and proceedings of said — duly adopted and taken. It is one of a series of bonds of like date and effect issued in behalf of improvement district number —, of said —, and is payable out of the redemption fund provided for said improvement district, exclusively.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all the acts, conditions and things required by law to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond have existed, happened and been performed in time, form and manner as required by law, and that provision has been made as required by the provisions of said act for the collection of an assessment to pay the interest on this bond as it falls due and also provisions to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of this bond on or before maturity.

In witness whereof, said — of — has caused this bond to be executed, under its corporate seal, signed by its chief executive and treasurer, and countersigned by its clerk and has caused the interest coupons hereto attached to be signed by the engraved or lithographed signature of its treasurer, and this bond to be dated the — day of —, 19—.

Countersigned.

_____,
Clerk of the — of —.

_____,
Mayor (or other title).

_____,
Treasurer of the — of —.

§ 19. Registration of bonds. Said bonds may be surrendered by the holder to the treasurer for registration in accordance with the provisions of any law applicable to the registration of the municipal bonds of the city, and thereafter the principal and interest thereon shall be paid to the proper registered owner thereof.

§ 20. Sale of bonds. Assessment to pay principal and interest. The city council may issue and sell the bonds, of such district, authorized as hereinabove provided, at not less than par value, and all the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of such municipality to the credit of the proper district fund and shall be applied exclusively to the work or improvement for which the contract was awarded.

If all bids for said bonds are rejected or if no bids are received, the council shall authorize the city treasurer to deliver said bonds to the contractor, in which case such delivery shall constitute full satisfaction of the sum due him on said contract.

The city council shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, exclusive, however, of any assessments on improvements, levy and collect an assessment each year on the property in such district or districts sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal thereof as will become due before the time for making the next general tax levy; each annual assessment for the payment of the interest and principal shall be based on the assessed value of each respective parcel or lot, at the time the work or improvement was ordered, and in the degree of benefits received, as shown on the assessment list hereinbefore mentioned. Said assessments when levied and collected shall be paid into the treasury of said city and be used for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds and for no other purpose.

§ 21. Delinquent assessments. Sale of property. Action to collect delinquent tax. The said assessments shall be payable and become delinquent at the same times and in the same proportionate amounts and bear the same proportionate penalties after delinquency as the general municipal taxes on real property. Upon default in payment, the lands securing such assessments shall be sold in the same manner in which real property in such city is sold, for the nonpayment of general municipal taxes, and be subject to redemption in the same manner as such real property is redeemed from such delinquent sale, and upon failure or redemption shall in like manner pass to the purchaser. The city may be the purchaser at any delinquent sale in like manner in which it becomes or may become the purchaser of property sold for nonpayment of the general municipal property tax, and in the event of its so becoming the purchaser shall pay and transfer into said redemption fund the amount of the delinquent assessments. In cases where the municipal property tax is collected by the county or city and county officials, and sales for nonpayment of such taxes are made to the state, the state shall be the purchaser at any such sale, but shall hold the title acquired at such sale upon behalf of the city and shall account to the city for any moneys received upon redemption or from the sale of such property, the city for such purposes of this act being deemed the real purchaser. In other cases where under the law, the city is not always the purchaser at sales for delinquent municipal taxes, the city shall become such purchaser at any delinquent sale hereunder where there is no such purchaser; provided, that the city council may, in its discretion, order certain lots or lands not to be sold, and order and direct the city attorney to commence an action in the name of the city against the owner or owners of such lots or lands so delinquent, to recover the amount of such delinquent tax, together with the interest thereon, and for costs of suit and a penalty of twenty-five per cent on the amount of such delinquent assessment.

All the owners of property delinquent as aforesaid may be joined as defendants in one action; provided, however, the complaint in such case shall set forth the amount due on each lot or parcel of land separately assessed, together with the name of the owner or owners thereof.

§ 22. Special tax to pay for lands purchased. The city council may, at the time of fixing the annual tax rate and levying the taxes to be collected for general municipal purposes, levy a special tax upon the taxable property in the city for the purpose of paying for the lands purchased or to be purchased at such tax sales, but not to exceed ten cents on each one hundred dollars of assessable property. Such special tax shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be computed, entered and collected in the same manner, and by the same persons, and at the same time and with the like penalties as other municipal taxes of said city. In the event of a surplus remaining in the redemption fund after payment of all said bonds and the interest thereon, the same shall first be applied to repayment to said city of any special taxes so levied, less its recovery on the lands purchased at delinquent sale, and also of any costs incurred by it hereunder.

§ 23. Deed for land sold. In the event of sale by the tax collector of any lot or parcel of land for nonpayment of any assessment thereon levied pursuant to the provisions of this act, then any certificate of such sale and deed issued pursuant thereto, shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings theretofore had, and such deed shall constitute a conveyance to the grantee of the absolute title to the lots or lands described therein, free of all encumbrances, except the lien for other state, county and municipal taxes.

§ 24. Payment of unpaid assessment. After bonds have been issued as herein provided, any interested property owner may release his property and pay up the unpaid assessment against the same by depositing with the city treasurer the total unpaid balance of his assessment due, together with the total amount of the interest which would become due semi-annually on his proportion of the assessment, in which case the treasurer shall deposit such payments into the fund provided for the redemption of said bonds, and the city clerk shall record the release of such property on the records of his office.

§ 25. "Owner." The person owing the fee, or the person in whom, on the day the proceeding or action is commenced, appears the legal title to the lots and lands, by deeds duly recorded in the county recorder's office, or the person in possession of the land, lots, or portions of lots or building under claim, or exercising acts of ownership over the same for himself, or as the executor, administrator, or guardian of the owner, shall be regarded, treated, and deemed to be the "owner" (for the purpose of this act), according to the intent and meaning of that word as used in this act. And in case of property leased, the possession of the tenant or lessee holding and occupying under such persons shall be deemed to be the possession of such owner.

§ 26. Title. Alternate system. This act shall be known and may be referred to as the "local improvement act of 1919." It shall in no wise affect any other existing acts relating to street work or local improvements within municipalities, but is intended to and does provide an alternate system of proceedings for public improvements, and it shall be discretionary with the legislative body of any municipality to proceed in making such improvement either under the provisions of this act or under the provisions of other said acts.

An act to provide for work in and upon streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, within municipalities and upon property and rights of way, owned by municipalities and for establishing and changing the grades of any such streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent said assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds.

[Approved April 7, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 730.]

Amended 1913, pp. 57, 78, 356, 540; 1915, p. 1464; 1919, pp. 479, 554.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 19. Bond for labor and material. Lien for materials furnished.

Every contractor, person, company or corporation, including contracting owners, to whom is awarded any contract for street work under this act, shall, before executing the said contract, file with the superintendent of streets a good and sufficient bond, approved by the mayor, in a sum not less than one-half of the total amount payable by the terms of said contract; such bond shall be executed by the principal and at least two sureties, who shall qualify for double the sum specified in said bond, and shall be made to inure to the benefit of any and all persons, companies, or corporations who perform labor on, or furnish materials to be used in the said work of improvement, and shall provide that if the contractor, person, company, or corporation to whom said contract was awarded fails to pay for any materials so furnished for the said work of improvement, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, that the sureties will pay the same, to an amount not exceeding the sum specified in said bond. Any laborer, materialman, person, company or corporation, furnishing materials to be used in the performance of said work specified in said contract, or who performed work or labor upon the said improvement, whose claim has not been paid by the said contractor, company or corporation, who executed the said contract, shall severally have a first lien upon and against the assessment, any partial assessment, any reassessment, and any bonds which may be issued to represent any assessment or reassessment. Such laborers, or materialmen may, at any time prior to thirty days after the recording of the assessment for said work, file with the superintendent of streets, a verified statement of his or its claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid. At any time within ninety days after the filing of such claim, the persons, company, or corporation, filing the same or their assigns, may commence an action either to enforce the aforesaid lien, or on said bond, for the recovery of the amount due on said claim, together with the costs incurred in said action, and a reasonable attorneys fee to be fixed by the court; for the prosecution thereof. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 480.]

§ 68. Notice of delinquency of bond. Owner may pay before sale.

Upon the application of the holder of any bond that is now or shall hereafter become delinquent as hereinbefore provided, the said city treasurer shall publish twice in a newspaper of general circulation, to be designated by him, published in the city where his office is situated, a notice of which must contain the date, number and series of the delinquent bond, a description of the property mentioned in said bond, the amount due thereon, and a statement that unless the amount of said bond and the interest due thereon, together with penalties and the cost of publication of such notice are paid, the real property described in said bond will be sold at public auction on a day to be therein fixed, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the day of the first publication of said notice, and the place of such sale, which must be the office of the said city treasurer.

Like notice shall not less than fifteen days before the day of sale so fixed be deposited by the city treasurer in the postoffice at such city, addressed to the person to whom said property is assessed upon the last assessment-roll of such city (or if the city has no assessment-roll, upon the last assessment-roll of the county in which such city is situated), at his address if known, and to all record lien holders, with the postage, thereon prepaid. When the addresses of such persons are unknown the notice shall be mailed to them at the city in which said property is located.

At any time prior to the sale, the owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale under the provisions of this act may pay the whole amount of said bond then due, with penalties and costs, and such bond shall thereupon be canceled; but in case such payment is not made by such owner, or person in possession, or by some one in his behalf of such owner or person in possession, the property subject thereto shall be sold at public auction to the bidder offering to pay the amount due on the bond with penalties and costs for the least portion of such lot or parcel of land offered for sale. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 555.]

§ 70. Collection of penalties. The city treasurer must collect, in addition to the amount due on such bond, the penalties hereinabove provided for and the cost of the publication of such notice, and one dollar, being for the certificate of sale delivered to the purchaser as hereinafter provided and for the cost of filing the duplicate thereof as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 556.]

§ 72. Purchaser's lien on property. Certificate of sale. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with a lien on the property so sold to him, for the amount of the purchase money, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the city treasurer for the purchaser of the purchase money, and in addition thereto ten per cent thereon, with interest on said purchase money at one per cent per month from date of sale.

The city treasurer shall issue for each sale an original and a duplicate certificate of sale referring to the proceedings, describing the parcel sold and giving the name of the purchaser and the amount for which said parcel was sold and shall deliver the original certificate to the purchaser and shall file the duplicate in the office of the recorder of the county in which the land sold is situated. [Amendment approved May 16, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 556.]

An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lands, alleys, courts, places and rights of ways in municipalities, and providing for the improvement thereof, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby, and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments for the costs, damages and expenses of such improvement, and for the payment and effect of such bonds.

[Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 954.]

Amended 1915, p. 1217; 1917, p. 970.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

The title of the act was amended to read as follows:

An act to provide for the establishment and change of grade of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and rights of way, and of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways in municipalities and providing for the construction or improvement thereof, in cases where any damage to private property would result from such improvement, and for the assessment of the costs, damages and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby, and to provide a system of local improvement bonds to represent the assessments for the costs, damages and expenses of such improvement, and for the payment and effect of such bonds.

The balance of the amendment is as follows:

§ 1. City may establish and change street grade, etc. Official grade already established. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the legislative body of any city is hereby empowered to establish or change or modify the grade of any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or right of way in said city, or any portion thereof, and also the grade of the roadway of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, in, on, under, over or through any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or in, on, under, over or through any land in which and where the city may then have an easement or right of way therefor; and in any case when or where, in the opinion of said legislative body, any damage to private property would result from the improvement thereof, to order the whole or any part, either in length or width, of such public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or right of way or other land of the city, in which and where the city may then have an easement or right of way therefor, to be improved to conform to such official grade by grading or regrading, paving or repaving, planking or replanking, macadamizing or remacadamizing, piling or repiling, capping or recapping, graveling or regaveling, oiling or reoiling, sewerage or re sewerage, sidewalking or residewalking, curbing or recurbing, guttering or reguttering, or by the construction, reconstruction or repair of manholes, culverts, cesspools, conduits, crosswalks, steps, parking or parkways, or by the construction, reconstruction or repair of poles, posts, wires, conduits, lamps and other appurtenances for the lighting thereof; and also in any case where, in the opinion of said legislative body, any damage to private property would result from the construction, reconstruction or repair thereof, to order the construction, reconstruction or repair of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, together with approaches thereto, and all appurtenances therefor, in, on, under, over or through any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or in, on, under, over or through any land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way therefor, to the grade established for the roadway of such tunnel, subway, viaduct, bridge or independent subterranean way, and order the construction, reconstruction or repair of stormwater ditches or tunnels, or breakwaters, levees or walls of rock, or other materials, culverts, manholes, cesspools, conduits, subways, retaining walls, sewers, ditches, drains and channels for sanitary and drainage purposes, or either or both thereof, with necessary outlets, catch-basins, flush-tanks, septic tanks, connecting sewers and other appurtenances, to protect the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places or rights of way, or any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways which may be constructed as hereinabove provided, from overflow or injury by water or otherwise; and to order the doing of any other work which shall be necessary to improve the whole, or any portion of such street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways which may have been constructed, or which shall be constructed, under the proceedings provided in this act. This act shall apply equally in cases where the official grade of any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or right of way, or of the roadway of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, in, on, under, over or through any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, place or other land of the city, or in, on, under, over or through any land in which and where the city may then have an easement or right of way therefor has previously been established or changed, and where such grade is established, modified or changed in whole or in part by the same proceedings by which the improvement is ordered, if in the opinion of the legislative body of the city, damage will result to private property from the making of the improvement contemplated by the proceedings. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 971.]

§ 2. Resolution of intention. Boundaries of district. Before ordering any establishment, change, or modification of grade, or any improvement described in section one hereof, the said legislative body shall pass an ordinance or resolution, declaring its intention so to do, and that, in its opinion, damage to private property would result from such improvement, designating the proposed grade, describing the proposed improvement, fixing the time and place for the hearing of protests in relation thereto by said legislative body, which shall be not less than thirty days from the date of the passage of said ordinance or resolution of intention, and specifying the exterior boundaries of the district of land to be benefited by said improvement, and to be specially assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, and the damages caused by said improvement, which shall be known as the assessment district. Such legislative body may include in one improvement, under one ordinance or resolution of intention and order and under one contract, the grade of all or any portion of one or more streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, rights of way or other land of the city, or land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way, established, changed, or modified, and the grade of the roadway of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, in, on, under, over or through any portion of any of said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, rights of way or other land of the city, or land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way, established, changed or modified, and the construction of any one or more or all of the different kinds of work enumerated in section one hereof, upon the same or any part or portion thereof, and may exclude therefrom any of such work already done. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 972.]

§ 3. Ordinance posted and published. Publication of notice. Notice mailed property owner. Form of notice. "Unknown owners." Clerk's affidavit. Said ordinance or resolution of intention shall be conspicuously posted for two days on or near the chamber door of said legislative body and published by two insertions in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city, and designated by said legislative body for the purpose. If no such newspaper be so published and circulated in said city, such posting of said ordinance or resolution of intention shall be sufficient. The superintendent of streets shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along all streets and parts of streets or other public places or rights of way, or along any land of the city or land in, on, under or over which the city has an easement or right of way where any work is to be done or improvement made, or in, on, under or over which any tunnel, subway, viaduct, bridge or independent subterranean way is to be constructed, at not more than three hundred feet apart, notices (not less than three in all) of the passage of such ordinance or resolution. Said notices shall be headed "Notice of street work" in letters not less than one inch in length, shall be in legible characters, and shall state the fact and date of the passage of said ordinance or resolution of intention, and the time and place fixed for the hearing of protests, and notify all persons interested to appear at said time and place with their objections to said improvement, if any they have, and briefly describe the proposed improvement in general terms, and refer to the ordinance or resolution of intention for further particulars. He shall also cause a notice of similar substance to be published by two insertions in a daily newspaper published and circulated in said city, or, if there be no such daily newspaper, then by two successive insertions in a weekly or semi-weekly newspaper so published and circulated. If no such newspaper be so published and circulated in said city such notice shall also be posted on or near the chamber door of the legislative body of said city, and in two other public places in said city. Such posting and publication shall be completed at least ten days before the day set for the hearing of protests. The city clerk shall immediately upon the passage of said ordinance or resolution of intention mail, postage prepaid, to each property owner in the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of such improvement, at his last known address as the same appears on the records of said city, or, where no address so appears, to the general address of said city, containing a notice, which shall be substantially (filling blanks):

You are hereby notified that on the — day of —, 19—, the legislative body of the city of —, California, by virtue of the street improvement act of 1913, passed an ordinance (resolution) of intention numbered —, for the improvement of — street between — and — street. The time for filing protests will expire on the — day of —, 19—, and protests will be heard on the — day of —, 19—, at the hour of — in the council chamber of said city.

Property belonging to you is within the assessment district for said improvement, and will be assessed therefor. For further information you are referred to said ordinance, and to the maps, profiles, plans and specifications on file in the office of the city engineer (or city clerk).

City Clerk.

If any lots or parcels of land in the assessment district be assessed to "unknown owners" on the tax-rolls of said city, no such postal cards need be mailed to the owners thereof.

The city clerk shall, upon the completion of the mailing of said postal cards, file in the office of the superintendent of streets an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of his compliance with this requirement; provided, that the failure of the city clerk to mail said cards, or the failure of the property owners, or any of them, to receive the same, or the failure of the superintendent of streets to post the said notices of street work, or to post proper notices thereof, shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or prevent the legislative body from acquiring jurisdiction to order the said improvement; provided, however, that the city council may require affidavits to be filed showing the posting and mailing of said notices before it adopts the ordinance or resolution ordering the improvement. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 973.]

§ 5. Jurisdiction to order improvements. If no protests are filed at or before the time fixed for the hearing thereof by the ordinance or resolution of intention, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as above provided, the legislative body shall have jurisdiction to order the establishment, change or modification of grade or other improvement described in the ordinance or resolution of intention. Having acquired such jurisdiction, it shall by ordinance or resolution order the establishment, change or modification of grade or such other improvement to be made, and refer the same to the commission hereinafter provided for, to estimate the damages caused thereby, and report an assessment of said damages, and of all costs and expenses of the improvement, on the property benefited thereby. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 975.]

§ 46. Definitions. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meaning:

1. "Improvement." The term "improvement" includes all work, construction, reconstruction and improvements mentioned in section one of this act.

2. "City." The term "city" includes every incorporated city, city and county, or other corporation organized for municipal purposes.

of way or other land of the city, or land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way, established, changed, or modified, and the grade of the roadway of any of the following avenues of public travel, namely, tunnels, subways, viaducts, bridges or independent subterranean ways, in, on, under, over or through any portion of any of said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, rights of way or other land of the city, or land in which and where the city has an easement or right of way, established, changed or modified, and the construction of any one or more or all of the different kinds of work enumerated in section one hereof, upon the same or any part or portion thereof, and may exclude therefrom any of such work already done. Property belonging to you is within the assessment district for said improvement, and will be assessed therefor. For further information you are referred to said ordinance, and to the maps, profiles, plans and specifications on file in the office of the city engineer (or city clerk).

_____,
City Clerk.

If any lots or parcels of land in the assessment district be assessed to "unknown owners" on the tax-rolls of said city, no such postal cards need be mailed to the owners thereof.

The city clerk shall, upon the completion of the mailing of said postal cards, file in the office of the superintendent of streets an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of his compliance with this requirement; provided, that the failure of the city clerk to mail said cards, or the failure of the property owners, or any of them, to receive the same, or the failure of the superintendent of streets to post the said notices of street work, or to post proper notices thereof, shall in no wise affect the validity of the proceedings or prevent the legislative body from acquiring jurisdiction to order the said improvement; provided, however, that the city council may require affidavits to be filed showing the posting and mailing of said notices before it adopts the ordinance or resolution ordering the improvement. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 973.]

§ 5. Jurisdiction to order improvements. If no protests are filed at or before the time fixed for the hearing thereof by the ordinance or resolution of intention, or if protests are filed, and after hearing are denied, as above provided, the legislative body shall have jurisdiction to order the establishment, change or modification of grade or other improvement described in the ordinance or resolution of intention. Having acquired such jurisdiction, it shall by ordinance or resolution order the establishment, change or modification of grade or such other improvement to be made, and refer the same to the commission hereinafter provided for, to estimate the damages caused thereby, and report an assessment of said damages, and of all costs and expenses of the improvement, on the property benefited thereby. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 975.]

§ 46. Definitions. The following words and phrases shall, where used in this act, have the following meaning:

1. "Improvement." The term "improvement" includes all work, construction, reconstruction and improvements mentioned in section one of this act.

2. "City." The term "city" includes every incorporated city, city and county, or other corporation organized for municipal purposes.

3. "City treasurer." The term "city treasurer" includes any officer who has charge and makes payment of the city funds.

4. "Superintendent of streets." The term "superintendent of streets" includes any officer or board whose duty it is by law to have the care or charge of streets or the improvement thereof in any city. In any city where there is no superintendent of streets, or such board, the legislative body is hereby authorized to designate some other officer of the city, or other person, to perform the duties imposed by this act on the superintendent of streets, and all of the provisions hereof applicable to the superintendent of streets shall apply to the officer so designated.

5. "Owner." The term "owner" or the term "any person interested" is deemed to be the person owning the fee, or the person in whom on the day any protest is filed, the legal title to real property appears by deeds duly recorded in the county recorder's office of the county in which said city is situate; or any person in possession of real property as the executor, administrator, trustee under an express trust, guardian or other legal representative of the owner, or any person in possession of real property under written contract of purchase, duly recorded.

§ 6. "Incidental expenses." The term "incidental expenses" shall be held to mean and include all the necessary expenses and disbursements of the commission, the cost of making the assessment, and all expenses necessarily incurred by the city in connection with the proposed improvement for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys, the mailing of any notices, and other matters incident thereto.

7. "Delinquency." The term "delinquency" as herein used shall mean delinquency in the payment of an assessment made under the provisions of this act, and the expression "time of delinquency" shall mean the time in this act fixed when assessments become delinquent. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 975.]

TITLE 556.

SURVEYOR-GENERAL.

§ 2. Unlawful acts. Penalty. Any person who:

1. By spoken or written words or personal conduct advocates, teaches or aids and abets criminal syndicalism or the duty, necessity or propriety of committing crime, sabotage, violence or any unlawful method of terrorism as a means of accomplishing a change in industrial ownership or control, or effecting any political change; or

2. Willfully and deliberately by spoken or written words justifies or attempts to justify criminal syndicalism or the commission or attempt to commit crime, sabotage, violence or unlawful methods of terrorism with intent to approve, advocate or further the doctrine of criminal syndicalism; or

3. Prints, publishes, edits, issues or circulates or publicly displays any book, paper, pamphlet, document, poster or written or printed matter in any other form, containing or carrying written or printed advocacy, teaching, or aid and abetment of, or advising, criminal syndicalism; or

4. Organizes or assists in organizing, or is or knowingly becomes a member of, any organization, society, group or assemblage of persons organized or assembled to advocate, teach or aid and abet criminal syndicalism; or

5. Willfully by personal act or conduct, practices or commits any act advised, advocated, taught or aided and abetted by the doctrine or precept of criminal syndicalism, with intent to accomplish a change in industrial ownership or control, or effecting any political change;

Is guilty of a felony and punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not less than one nor more than fourteen years.

§ 3. Constitutionality. If for any reason any section, clause or provision of this act shall by any court be held unconstitutional then the legislature hereby declares that, irrespective of the unconstitutionality so determined of such section, clause or provision, it would have enacted and made the law of this state all other sections, clauses and provisions of this act.

§ 4. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as this act concerns and is necessary to the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety, for the reason that at the present time large numbers of persons are going from place to place in this state advocating, teaching and practicing criminal syndicalism, this act shall take effect upon approval by the governor.

TITLE 563.

TAXATION.

ACT 4035b.

[Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1066.]

Amended 1915, pp. 418, 435.

Repealed May 23, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 880. See next act.

ACT 4035c.

An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and by any act hereby repealed and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder, or under an act hereby repealed, to be known as the "inheritance tax act"; and to repeal chapter five hundred ninety-five of the laws of the session of the legislature of California of 1913, approved June 16, 1913, known as the "inheritance tax act," and all amendments thereto, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

[Approved May 23, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 880. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Title. (1) This act shall be known as the "inheritance tax act."

(2) "Estate" and "property." Wife's share of community property exempted. The words "estate" and "property" as used in this act shall be taken to mean the real and personal property or interest therein of the testator, intestate, grantor, bargainor, vendor, or donor passing or transferred to individual legatees, devisees, heir, next of kin, grantees, donees, vendees, or successors, and shall include all personal property within or without the state; provided, that for the purpose of this act the one-half of the community property which goes to the surviving wife on the death of the husband, under the provisions of section one thousand four hundred two of the Civil Code, shall not be deemed to pass to her as heir to her husband, but shall, for the purpose of this act, be deemed to go, pass, or be transferred to her for valuable and adequate consideration and her said one-half of the community shall not be subject to the provisions of this act; provided, further, that in case of a transfer of community property from the husband to the wife, within the meaning of subdivisions (3) or (5) of section two of this act, one-half of the community property so transferred shall not be subject to the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that the presumption that property acquired by either husband or wife after marriage is community property, shall not obtain for the purpose of this act as against any claim by the state for the tax hereby imposed; but the burden of proving such property to be community property shall rest upon the person claiming the same to be community property.

(3) "Transfer." The word "transfer" as used in this act shall be taken to include the passing of property or any interest therein, in possession or enjoyment, present or future, by inheritance, descent, devise, succession, bequest, grant, deed, bargain, sale, gift, or appointment in the manner herein described.

(4) "Decedent." The word "decedent" as used in this act shall include the testator, intestate, grantor, bargainor, vendor, or donor.

(5) "County treasurer" and "inheritance tax appraiser." The words "county treasurer" and "inheritance tax appraiser," as used in this act, shall be taken to mean the treasurer or the inheritance tax appraiser of the county of the superior court having jurisdiction as provided in section fifteen of this act.

§ 2. Tax on transfer of property, when. A tax shall be and is hereby imposed upon the transfer of any property, real, personal, or mixed, or of any interest therein or income therefrom in trust or otherwise, to persons, institutions or corporations, not hereinafter exempted, to be paid to the treasurer of the proper county, as hereinafter directed, for the use of the state, said taxes to be upon the market value of such property at the rates hereinafter prescribed and only upon the excess over the exemptions hereinafter granted, in the following cases:

(1) When the transfer is by will or by the intestate or homestead laws of this state, from any person dying seised or possessed of the property while a resident of the state, or by any order of court setting apart property pursuant to article one, chapter five, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(2) Tax on transfer of property, when. When the transfer is by will or intestate laws of property within this state and the decedent was a nonresident of the state at the time of his death, or by any order of court setting apart property pursuant to article one, chapter five, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(3) When the transfer is of property made by a resident, or by a nonresident when such nonresident's property is within this state, by deed, grant, bargain, sale, assignment or gift, made without valuable and adequate consideration (i. e., a consideration equal in money or in money's worth to the full value of the property transferred):

(a) Transfer in contemplation of death. In contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, assignor or donor, or,

(b) Intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death.

When such person, institution or corporation becomes beneficially entitled in possession or expectancy to any property or the income therefrom, by any such transfer, whether made before or after the passage of this act.

(4) The words "contemplation of death," as used in this act, shall be taken to include that expectancy of death which actuates the mind of a person on the execution of his will, and in no wise shall said words be limited and restricted to that expectancy of death which actuates the mind of a person making a gift causa mortis; and it is hereby declared to be the intent and purpose of this act to tax any and all transfers which are made in lieu of or to avoid the passing of property transferred by testate or intestate laws.

(5) Property held in joint names. Whenever property, real or personal, is held in the joint names of two or more persons, or is deposited in banks or other institutions or depositories in the joint names of two or more persons and payable to either or the survivor, upon the death of one of such persons, the right of the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants, person or persons to the immediate ownership or possession and enjoyment of such property shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act in the same manner as though the whole property to which such transfer relates belonged absolutely to the deceased joint tenant or joint depositor and had been devised or bequeathed to the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants, person or persons, by such deceased joint tenant or joint depositor by will, excepting therefrom such part thereof as may be proved by the surviving joint tenant or joint tenants to have originally belonged to him or them and never to have belonged to the decedent.

(6) Appointment deemed transfer. Whenever any person, trustee or corporation shall exercise a power of appointment derived from any disposition of property made either before or after the passage of this act, such appointment, when made, shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act, in the same manner as though the property to which such appointment relates belonged absolutely to the donee of such power, and had been bequeathed or devised by such donee by will; and whenever any person, trustee or corporation possessing such power of appointment so derived shall omit or fail to exercise the same within the time provided therefor, in whole or in part, a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act shall be deemed to take place to the extent of such omission or failure, in the same manner as though the persons, trustees or corporations thereby becoming entitled to the possession or enjoyment of the property to which such power related had succeeded thereto by a will of the donee of the power failing to exercise such power, taking effect at the time of such omission or failure.

(7) Bequest exceeding reasonable compensation. Whenever a decedent appoints or names one or more executors or trustees, and makes a bequest or devise of property to them in lieu of commissions or allowances, which otherwise would be liable to said tax, or appoints them his residuary legatees, and said bequest, devise, or residuary legacies exceeds what would be a reasonable compensation for their services, such excess over and above the exemptions herein provided for shall be liable to said tax; and the superior court in which the probate proceedings are pending shall fix the compensation.

(8) Property transferred subject to charge determined by death of person. Where any property shall, after the passage of this act, be transferred subject to any charge, estate or interest, determinable by the death of any person, or at any period ascertainable only by reference to death, the increase accruing to any person or corporation upon the extinction or determination of such charge, estate or interest, shall be deemed a transfer of property taxable under the provisions of this act in the same manner as though the person or corporation beneficially entitled thereto had then acquired such increase from the person from whom the title to their respective estates or interests is derived.

(9) Aggregate value of more than one transfer. When more than one transfer within the meaning of any of the preceding subdivisions of this section has been made, either before or after the passage of this act, by a decedent to one person, the tax shall be imposed upon the aggregate market value of all of the property so transferred to such person in the same manner and to the same extent as if all of the property so transferred were actually transferred by one transfer.

(10) No deductions of United States tax. In determining the market value of the property transferred, no deduction shall be made for any inheritance tax or estate tax paid to the government of the United States.

§ 3. Lien. Suit within five years. Such taxes shall be and remain a lien upon the property passed or transferred until paid; provided, that said lien shall be limited to the property chargeable therewith, and the person to whom the property passes or is transferred, and all administrators, executors and trustees of every estate so transferred or passed, shall be liable for any and all such taxes until the same shall have been paid as hereinafter directed. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to the limitation of time of enforcing a civil remedy shall not apply to any proceeding or action taken to levy, appraise, assess, determine, or enforce the collection of any tax or penalty prescribed by this article, and this section shall be construed as having been in effect as of date of the original enactment of the inheritance tax law; provided, that unless sued for within five years after they are due and legally demandable, such taxes, or any taxes accruing under any act herein repealed, shall cease to be a lien as against any bona fide purchaser of said property; and, provided, that no such lien shall cease within two years from the date of the passage of this act.

§ 4. Tax when property value not over twenty-five thousand dollars. When the property or any beneficial interest therein so passed or transferred exceeds in value the exemption hereinafter specified and shall not exceed in value twenty-five thousand dollars, the tax hereby imposed shall be:

(1) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the husband, wife, lineal ancestor, lineal issue of the decedent or any child adopted as such in conformity with the laws of this state, or any child to whom such decedent for not less than ten years prior to such transfer stood in the mutually acknowledged relation of a parent (provided, however, such relationship began at or before the child's fifteenth birthday, and was continuous for said ten years thereafter), or any lineal issue of such adopted or mutually acknowledged child, at the rate of one per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(2) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister or a descendant of a brother or sister of a decedent, a wife or widow of a son, or the husband of a daughter of the decedent at the rate of three per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(3) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister of the father or mother, or a descendant of a brother or sister of the father or mother of the decedent, at the rate of four per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

(4) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be in any other degree of collateral consanguinity than is hereinbefore stated or shall be a stranger in blood to the decedent, or shall be a body politic or corporate, at the rate of five per centum of the clear value of such interest in such property.

§ 5. Tax when property value exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars.

(1) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision one of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, two per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, four per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, seven per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twelve per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(2) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision two of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, six per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, nine per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, twelve per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(f). Upon all in excess of one million dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(3) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision three of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, eight per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars and up to one million dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(f) Upon all in excess of one million dollars, thirty per centum of such excess.

(4) When the market value of such property or interest passed or transferred to any of the persons mentioned in subdivision four of section four exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars, the rates of tax upon such excess shall be as follows:

(a) Upon all in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars and up to fifty thousand dollars, ten per centum of such excess.

(b) Upon all in excess of fifty thousand dollars and up to one hundred thousand dollars, fifteen per centum of such excess.

(c) Upon all in excess of one hundred thousand dollars and up to two hundred thousand dollars, twenty per centum of such excess.

(d) Upon all in excess of two hundred thousand dollars and up to five hundred thousand dollars, twenty-five per centum of such excess.

(e) Upon all in excess of five hundred thousand dollars, thirty per centum of such excess:

§ 6. Exemptions allowed. The following exemptions from the tax are hereby allowed:

(1) All property transferred to societies, corporations, and institutions now or hereafter exempted by law from taxation, or to any public corporation, or to any society, corporation, institution, or association of persons engaged in or devoted to any charitable, benevolent, educational, public, or other like work (pecuniary profit not being its object or purpose), or to any person, society, corporation, institution, or association of persons in trust for or to be devoted to any charitable, benevolent, education, or public purpose, by reason whereof any such person or corporation shall become beneficially entitled, in possession or expectancy, to any such property or to the income thereof, shall be exempt; provided, however, that such society, corporation, institution or association be organized or existing under the laws of this state or that the property transferred be limited for use within this state.

(2) Property of the clear value of twenty-four thousand dollars, transferred to the widow or to a minor child of the decedent, and of ten thousand dollars transferred to each of the other persons described in the first subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(3) Property of the clear value of two thousand dollars, transferred to each of the persons described in the second subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(4) Property of the clear value of one thousand dollars, transferred to each of the persons described in the third subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

(5) Property of the clear value of five hundred dollars, transferred to each of the persons and corporations described in the fourth subdivision of section four, shall be exempt.

§ 7. Time of payment. Discount. Bond. (1) All taxes imposed by this act, unless otherwise herein provided for, shall be due and payable at the death of the decedent, and if the same are paid within eighteen months, no interest shall be charged and collected thereon, but if not so paid, interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum shall be charged and collected from the time said tax accrued; provided, that if said tax is paid within six months from the accruing thereof a discount of five per centum shall be allowed and deducted from said tax. And in all cases where the executors, administrators, or trustees do not pay such tax within eighteen months from the death of the decedent, they shall be required to give a bond for the payment of said tax, together with interest.

(2) If estate not settled within eighteen months. The penalty of ten per cent per annum imposed by subdivision (1) of this section for the nonpayment of said tax, shall not be charged in cases where, in the judgment of the court, by reason of claims made upon the estate necessary litigation, or other unavoidable cause of delay, the estate of any decedent, or a part thereof, cannot be settled at the end of eighteen months from the death of the decedent; but in such cases seven per cent per annum shall be charged upon the said tax from the expiration of said eighteen months until the cause of such delay is removed, after which ten per cent interest per annum shall again be charged until the tax is paid; but litigation to defeat the payment of the tax shall not be considered necessary litigation.

§ 8. Immediate appraisement and payment. (1) When any grant, gift, legacy, devise or succession upon which a tax is imposed by section two of this act shall be an estate, income, or interest for a term of years, or for life, or determinable upon any future or contingent event, or shall be a remainder, reversion, or other expectancy, real or personal, the entire property or fund by which such estate, income, or interest is supported, or of which it is a part, shall be appraised immediately after the death of the decedent, and the market value thereof determined, in the manner provided in section sixteen or seventeen of this act, and the tax prescribed by this act shall be immediately due and payable to the treasurer of the proper county, and, together with the interest thereon, shall be and remain a lien on said property until the same is paid.

(2) Encumbrances. In estimating the value of any estate or interest in property, to the beneficial enjoyment or possession whereof there are persons or corporations presently entitled thereto, no allowance shall be made on account of any contingent encumbrance thereon, nor on account of any contingency upon the happening of which the estate or property or some part thereof or interest therein might be abridged, defeated or diminished; provided, however, that in the event of such encumbrance taking effect as an actual burden upon the interest of the beneficiary, or in the event of the abridgment, defeat or diminution of said estate or property or interest therein as aforesaid, a return shall be made to the person properly entitled thereto of a proportionate amount of such tax on account of the encumbrance when taking effect, or so much as will reduce the same to the amount which would have been assessed on account of the actual duration or extent of the estate or interest enjoyed. Such return of tax shall be made in the manner provided by section eleven hereof upon order of the court having jurisdiction.

(3) Property transferred in trust. Bond. Return of property filed. Recovery on bond if security not renewed. When property is transferred in trust or otherwise, and the rights, interest or estates of the transferees are dependent upon contingencies or conditions whereby they may be wholly or in part created, defeated, extended, or abridged, a tax shall be imposed upon said transfer at the highest rate which, on the happening of any of the said contingencies or conditions, would be possible under the provisions of this act, and such tax so imposed shall be due and payable forthwith by the executors or trustees out of the property transferred; provided, however, that on the happening of any contingency whereby the said property, or any part thereof, is transferred to a person or corporation exempt from taxation under the provisions of this act, or to any person taxable at a rate less than the rate imposed and paid, such person or corporation shall be entitled to a return of so much of the tax imposed and paid as the difference between the amount paid and the amount which said person or corporation should pay under the provisions of this act; such return of overpayment shall be made in the manner provided by section eleven of this act, upon order of the court having jurisdiction; provided, that the person or persons or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in the property chargeable with said tax or the trustees thereof may elect not to pay the same until such person or persons, or body politic or corporate beneficially interested in such property shall come into the actual possession or enjoyment thereof, and in that case such person or persons or body politic or corporate or trustees shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in a penalty of twice the amount of said tax with such sureties as the said superior court may approve, conditioned for the payment of said tax and interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum commencing at the expiration of eighteen months from the death of the decedent at such time or period as they or their representatives may come into the actual possession or enjoyment of such property, and conditioned further, that if said bond be not renewed and the returns made as herein provided, the amount of said tax and interest thereon shall immediately become due and payable. Said bond shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the proper county and a certified copy thereof shall be immediately transmitted to the state controller; provided, further, that such person or persons or body politic or corporate, or trustees, shall enter into such security within a period of ninety days after the entry of the order or decree fixing the inheritance tax charged against such transfer, or within such period thereafter as the court may in its discretion permit, and shall make a full and verified return of such property to said court and file the same in the office of the county clerk within one year from the date of such order or decree fixing tax, and at such times thereafter as the court on the application of the state controller may require, and renew such security every five years after the date of the approval thereof. Upon the approval of said bond as herein provided, said tax shall cease to be a lien upon the property so transferred. If such security shall not be renewed before the expiration of each five-year period, said bond shall immediately become due and payable and if the same be not paid forthwith, the attorney general shall file an action in the name of the people of the state on the relation of the controller, to recover the same and the penalties thereunder and no demand for payment shall be necessary before the institution of such suit. Whenever it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that any surety on such bond or undertaking has for any reason become insufficient, the court may on motion of the state controller, after such notice to such person or persons, body politic or corporate, or trustees as the court may require, order the giving of a new undertaking with sufficient sureties in lieu of such insufficient undertaking. In case such new undertaking so required shall not be given within the time required by such order, or in case the sureties thereon fail to justify thereon when required, all rights obtained by the filing of such original undertaking, or subsequent undertaking, shall cease and the amount of said tax and interest thereon shall immediately become due and payable.

(4) Estates in expectancy. Estates in expectancy which are contingent or defeasible and in which proceedings for the determination of the tax have not been taken or where the taxation thereof has been held in abeyance, shall be appraised at their full, undiminished value when the persons entitled thereto shall come into the beneficial enjoyment or possession thereof, without diminution for or on account of any valuation theretofore made of the particular estates for purposes of taxation, upon which said estates in expectancy may have been limited.

(5) Estate that can be divested by act of legatee or devisee. Where an estate or interest can be divested by the act or omission of the legatee or devisee it shall be taxed as if there were no possibility of such divesting.

(6) Future or contingent estate. Determination of value. The value of every future, or contingent or limited estate, income or interest, shall, for the purposes of this act be determined by the rule, methods and standards of mortality and of value that are set forth in the actuaries' combined experience tables of mortality for ascertaining the value of policies of life insurance and annuities and for the determination of the liabilities of life insurance companies, save that the rate of interest to be assessed in computing the present value of all future interest and contingencies shall be five (5) per cent per annum. The insurance commissioner shall without a fee on the application of any superior court or of any inheritance tax appraiser determine the value of any future or contingent estate, income or interest therein limited, contingent, dependent or determinable upon the life or lives of persons in being, upon the facts contained in any such appraiser's application or other facts to him submitted by said appraiser or said court and certify the same in duplicate to such court or appraiser, and his certificate thereof shall be conclusive evidence that the method of computation therein is correct. When an annuity or a life estate is terminated by the death of the annuitant or life tenant, and the tax upon such interest has not been fixed and determined, the value of said interest for the purpose of taxation under this act shall be the amount of the annuity or income actually paid or payable to the annuitant or life tenant during the period for which such annuitant or life tenant was entitled to the annuity or was in possession of the life estate.

§ 9. Collection of tax by administrator. (1) Any administrator, executor, or trustee having in charge or trust any legacy or property for distribution, subject to the said tax, shall deduct the tax therefrom, or if the legacy or property be not money he shall collect the tax thereon, upon the market value thereof, from the legatee or person entitled to such property, and he shall not deliver, or be compelled to deliver, any specific legacy or property subject to tax to any person until he shall have collected the tax thereon; and whenever any such legacy shall be charged upon or payable out of real estate, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall collect said tax from the distributees thereof, and the same shall remain a charge on such real estate until paid; if, however, such legacy be given in money to any person for a limited period, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall retain the tax upon the whole amount; but if it be not in money he shall make application to the superior court to make an apportionment, if the case require it, of the sum to be paid into his hands by such legatees, and for such further order relative thereto as the case may require.

(2) Sale of property to pay tax. All executors, administrators, and trustees shall have full power to sell so much of the property of the decedent as will enable them to pay said tax, in the same manner as they may be enabled by law to do for the payment of debts of the estate, and the amount of said tax shall be paid as hereinafter directed.

(3) Payment within thirty days. Every sum of money retained by an executor, administrator, or trustee, or paid into his hands, for any tax on property, shall be paid by him, within thirty days thereafter, to the treasurer of the county in which the probate proceedings are pending.

§ 10. Treasurer's receipt. Upon the payment to any county treasurer of any tax due under this act, such treasurer shall issue a receipt therefor, in triplicate, one copy of which he shall deliver to the person paying said tax, and the original and one copy thereof he shall immediately send to the controller of state, whose duty it shall be to charge the treasurer so receiving the tax with the amount thereof, and said controller shall retain one of said receipts and the other he shall countersign and seal with the seal of his office, and immediately transmit to the clerk of the court fixing such tax. And an executor, administrator, or trustee shall not be entitled to credits in his accounts, nor be discharged from liability for such tax, nor shall said estate be distributed, unless a receipt so sealed and countersigned by the controller, or a copy thereof, certified by him, shall have been filed with the court. Any person shall, upon payment to the county treasurer of the sum of fifty cents, be entitled to a duplicate, or copy, of any receipt that may have been given by said treasurer for the payment of any tax under this act.

§ 11. Refund of tax. (1) If any debts shall be proved against the estate of a decedent after the payment of any legacy or distributive share thereof, from which any such tax has been deducted or upon which it has been paid by the person entitled to such legacy or distributive share, and such person is required by order of the superior court having jurisdiction, on notice to the state controller, to refund the amount of such debts or any part thereof, an equitable proportion of the tax shall be repaid to him by the executor, administrator or trustee, if the tax has not been paid to the county treasurer; or if such tax has been paid to such county treasurer, such officer shall refund out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody such equitable proportion of the tax, and credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him under this act.

(2) Assessing tax on amount wrongfully deducted. Where it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the superior court that deductions for debts were allowed upon the appraisal, since proved to have been erroneously allowed, it shall be lawful for such superior court to enter an order assessing the tax upon the amount wrongfully or erroneously deducted.

(3) Refund of tax when order modified or reversed. Application within one year. If, after the payment of any tax in pursuance of an order fixing such tax, made by the superior court having jurisdiction, such order be modified or reversed by the superior court having jurisdiction within two years from and after the date of entry of the order fixing the tax, or be modified or reversed at any time on an appeal taken therefrom within the time allowed by law on due notice to the state controller, the county treasurer shall refund to the executor, administrator, trustee, person or persons by whom such tax was paid, the amount of any moneys paid or deposited on account of such tax in excess of the amount of tax fixed by the order modified or reversed, out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody, and credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him to the controller on his semi-annual settlement; but no application for such refund shall be made after one year from such reversal or modification, unless an appeal shall be taken therefrom, in which case no such application shall be made after one year from the final determination on such appeal or of an appeal taken therefrom, and the representatives of the estate, legatees, devisees or distributees entitled to any refund under this section shall not be entitled to any interest upon such refund, and the state controller shall deduct from the fees allowed by this act to the county treasurer the amount theretofore allowed him upon such overpayment.

(4) Refund of tax erroneously paid. When any amount of said tax shall have been erroneously paid, the superior court having jurisdiction, on application after notice to the state controller, and on satisfactory proof to it, shall by order require the county treasurer to refund and pay to the executor, administrator, trustee, person or persons who had paid any such tax in error the amount of such tax so erroneously paid; provided, that all applications for such repayment of such tax so erroneously paid shall be made within one year of the date of the entry of the order fixing tax or of the decree of final distribution of the estate. Such refund shall be made by said treasurer out of any inheritance tax moneys in his hands or custody and he shall credit himself with the same in the account required to be rendered by him to the controller on semi-annual settlement; and the state controller shall deduct from the fees allowed by this act to the county treasurer the amount theretofore allowed him upon such erroneous payment.

(5) Pending proceedings. This section, as amended, shall apply to appeals and proceedings now pending and taxes heretofore paid in relation to which the period of one year from such reversal or modification has not expired when this section, as amended, takes effect.

§ 12. Examination of books, etc. Penalty for divulging information.

(1) Whenever the state controller shall have reasonable cause to believe that a tax is due under the provisions of this act, upon any transfer of any property, and that any person, firm, institution, company, association or corporation has possession, custody or control of any books, accounts, papers or documents relating to or evidencing such transfer, the state controller or inheritance tax attorney, or any assistant inheritance tax attorney of the inheritance tax department, is hereby authorized and empowered to inspect the books, records, accounts, papers and documents of any such person, firm, institution, company, association or corporation, including the stock transfer book of any corporation, for the purpose of acquiring any information deemed necessary or desirable by said state controller or such inheritance tax attorney or assistant inheritance tax attorneys, for the proper enforcement of this act, and for the collection of the full amount of tax which may be due the state hereunder. Any and all information acquired by said state controller or said inheritance tax attorney or assistant inheritance tax attorneys shall be deemed and held by said state controller and said inheritance tax attorney and assistant inheritance tax attorneys and each of them, as confidential, and shall not be divulged, disclosed or made known by them or any of them except in so far as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this act. Any controller or ex-controller, or inheritance tax attorney or ex-inheritance tax attorney, or assistant inheritance tax attorney or ex-assistant inheritance tax attorney, who shall divulge, disclose or make known any information acquired by such inspection and examination aforesaid, except in so far as the same may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than ninety days, or both.

(2) Penalty for refusing to permit examination. Any officer or agent of any firm, institution, company, association or corporation having or keeping an office within this state, who has in his custody or under his control any book, record, account, paper or document of such firm, institution, company, association or corporation, and any person having in his custody or under his control such book, record, account, paper or document who refuses to give to the state controller, or said inheritance tax attorney, or any of said assistant inheritance tax attorneys, lawfully demanding, as provided in this section, during office hours to inspect or take a copy of the same, or any part thereof, for the purposes hereinabove provided, a reasonable opportunity so to do, shall be liable to a penalty of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than twenty thousand dollars, and in addition thereto shall be liable for the amount of the taxes, interest and penalties due under this act on such transfer, and the said penalties and liabilities for the violation of this section may be enforced in an action brought by the state controller in any court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 13. Consent of controller to transfer of decedent's stock. (1) No corporation organized or existing under the laws of this state, shall transfer on its books or issue a new certificate for any share or shares of its capital stock belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent or in trust for a decedent or belonging to or standing in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, without the written consent of the state controller or person by him in writing authorized to issue such consent.

(2) Trust companies, etc., to retain amount to pay tax. Notice of transfer. No safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons having in possession or under control or custody or under partial control or partial custody securities, deposits, assets or property belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent who was a resident or nonresident, or belonging to, or standing in the joint names of such a decedent and one or more persons, including the shares of the capital stock of, or other interest in, the safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution making the delivery or transfer herein provided, shall deliver or transfer the same to the executors, administrators or legal representatives, agents, deputies, attorneys, trustees, legatees, heirs, successors in interest of said decedent or to any other person or persons, or to the survivor or survivors when held in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, or upon their order or request, without retaining a sufficient portion or amount thereof to pay any tax and interest which may thereafter be assessed thereon under this act and unless notice of the time and place of such delivery or transfer be served upon the state controller and county treasurer at least ten days prior to said delivery or transfer; provided, that the state controller, or person by him in writing authorized so to do, may consent in writing to said delivery or transfer, and such consent shall relieve said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons from the obligation hereunder to give such notice or to retain any portion of said securities, deposits or other assets in their possession or control. And it shall be lawful for the state controller or county treasurer, personally or by representatives, to examine said securities, deposits or assets at the time of said delivery or otherwise.

(3) Penalty for failure to comply. Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall render such safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons, liable to a penalty of not more than twenty thousand dollars, and in addition thereto said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons shall be liable for the amount of the taxes, interest and penalties due under this act on said securities, deposits, or other assets above mentioned, and said penalties and liabilities of said safe deposit company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons for the violation of this section may be enforced in an action brought by the state controller in any court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 14. Inheritance tax appraisers. Penalty for taking other than fee allowed. The state controller shall appoint, and may at his pleasure remove, one or more persons in each county of the state to act as inheritance tax appraisers therein. Every such inheritance tax appraiser (in addition to any fees paid him as appraiser under section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure) shall be paid for his services out of any inheritance tax moneys in the hands of the treasurer of the county in which he may be acting, a reasonable compensation, to be fixed by the superior court of said county, or a judge thereof, and, together with said compensation, said appraiser shall be allowed his actual and necessary traveling and other incidental expenses, and the fees paid such witnesses as he shall subpoena before him, said expenses and fees to be allowed by said superior court or a judge thereof; provided, that any claim for any such services or expenditure, must before payment, first receive the approval of the state controller; and provided, further, that in any probate proceeding in which the executor or administrator shall have failed to have had the inheritance tax appraiser act as one of the appraisers under section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure and to have paid him his fees therefor, the expense of making the inheritance tax appraisement in this act provided for shall be paid out of said estate, and the executor or administrator thereof shall be liable for said fee. Any such appraiser who shall take any fee or reward, other than such as may be allowed him by law, from any executor, administrator, trustee, legatee, next of kin, or heir of any decedent, or from any other person liable to pay said tax, or any portion thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail ninety days or both, and in addition thereto the court shall dismiss him from such service.

§ 15. Jurisdiction of superior court. The superior court in the county in which is situate the real property of a decedent, who was not a resident of the state, or if there be no real property, then in the county in which any of the personal property of such nonresident is situate, or in the county of which the decedent was a resident at the time of his death, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions in relation to the tax arising under the provisions of this act; the court first acquiring jurisdiction hereunder shall retain the same, to the exclusion of every other; provided, that the superior court having acquired jurisdiction in probate of the estate of a decedent shall hear and determine in said probate proceedings all questions in relation to any tax arising under the provisions of this act: (a) Upon property passing in said probate proceedings. (b) Upon any other property transferred, within the meaning of subdivision three of section two or any other provisions of this act, to any person, institution or corporation taking any property under and by virtue of said probate proceedings.

§ 16. Appointment of inheritance tax appraisers in probate proceedings. Powers of referee. Witnesses. Evidence. Report to superior court. (1) When any superior court, having jurisdiction in probate of the estate of any decedent, or a judge of such court, shall, in accordance with section one thousand four hundred forty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure, appoint the appraiser or appraisers in said section provided for, said superior court or judge thereof shall also at the same time designate and appoint an inheritance tax appraiser (unless such designation and appointment be previously made) to ascertain and report to said superior court the amount of inheritance tax due upon any property passing in said probate proceeding, or a lien thereon, or upon any other property transferred within the meaning of subdivision (3) of section two of this act, or under any other provision of this act, to any person, institution or corporation taking property under and by virtue of said probate proceedings, together with such other or additional information as shall assist said court in the determination of said tax. Thereupon said inheritance tax appraiser shall have all the powers of a referee of said superior court, and shall have jurisdiction to require the attendance before him of the executor or administrator of said estate, or any person interested therein, or any other person whom he may have reason to believe possesses knowledge of the estate of said decedent, or knowledge of any property transferred by said decedent within the meaning of this act, or knowledge of any facts that will aid said appraiser or the court in the determination of said tax. For the purpose of compelling the attendance of such person or persons before him, and for the purpose of appraising any property or interest subject to, or liable for any inheritance tax hereunder, and for the purpose of determining the amount of tax due thereon, the said inheritance tax appraiser is hereby authorized to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of witnesses before him. Any person or persons who shall be served with a subpoena, issued by said inheritance tax appraiser, to appear and testify or to produce books and papers, and who shall refuse and neglect to appear and testify or to produce books and papers relevant to such appraisal, as commanded in such subpoena, shall be guilty of a contempt of court. And he may examine and take the evidence of such witnesses or of such executor or administrator, or other person under oath concerning such property and the value thereof, and concerning the property or the estate of such decedent subject to probate, and concerning any transfer made by such decedent within the meaning of this act. Upon the completion of his inheritance tax appraisal in any probate proceeding, the inheritance tax appraiser shall make a report in writing to the superior court of the clear market value of the several interests in the estate of the decedent, and shall report the amount of inheritance or transfer tax chargeable against, or a lien upon such interests, acquired by virtue of said probate proceedings or by any transfer within the meaning of this act, to any person, institution or corporation acquiring any property by virtue of said probate proceedings together with such other facts as may advise the court in regard thereto, or which the court may require, and may return to said superior court such depositions as he may have had reduced to writing, exhibits, or other testimony or information taken before him, or submitted to him.

(2) Notice of filing report. Order confirming report. Hearing objections. Upon the filing of said report said appraiser shall mail a copy thereof to the state controller and the clerk of said superior court shall on said day or the next succeeding judicial day give notice of such filing to all persons interested in such proceedings by causing notices to be posted in at least three public places in the county, one of which must be the place where the court is held, and in addition thereto shall mail to the state controller and to all persons chargeable with any tax in said report who have appeared in such proceeding, a copy of said notice. At any time after the expiration of ten days thereafter, if no objection to said report be filed, the said superior court or a judge thereof, may, without further notice give and make its order confirming said report and fixing the tax in accordance therewith. At any time prior to the making of said order, any person interested in said proceeding (including the state controller) may file objections in writing to said report. Thereupon said superior court shall, by order, fix a time, not less than ten days thereafter, for the hearing thereof, and shall direct the clerk of said superior court to give such notice thereof as it shall deem necessary; provided, that a copy of such notice and of such objections shall be forthwith mailed to the state controller, county treasurer and inheritance tax appraiser. Upon the hearing of said objections, said court may make such order as to it may seem meet and proper in the premises.

(3) Order that no inheritance taxes due. If, upon examination of the executor or administrator of said estate or other persons familiar with the affairs of such decedent, or from other information before him, it shall appear to the inheritance tax appraiser that there is no inheritance tax due out of said estate or a lien upon any property or interest therein, said appraiser may so certify to the superior court, and at any time thereafter, if no objection to said certificate shall have been filed, said superior court or a judge thereof may, without further notice, make an order or decree that there are no inheritance taxes due out of said estate or upon any interest therein or may make such different order as may to it seem meet in the premises. Such order shall be conclusive only as to such property as may have been returned in the inventory or inventory and appraisement in said probate proceedings.

§ 17. Determination of taxability of transfer. Examination by appraiser. Report of findings. Service. Hearing by court. (1) If it shall appear to the superior court upon petition of the state controller that any transfer has been made within the meaning of this act, and the taxability thereof and the liability for such tax and the amount thereof have not been determined, and that no preceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof may be determined, said court shall issue a citation ordering and directing the persons who may appear liable therefor or known to own any interest in or part of the property transferred, to appear before said court or before an inheritance tax appraiser to be designated by said order at a time and place in said order named, not less than ten days nor more than one year from the date of such order, to be examined, under oath by said court or by said appraiser as the case may be, concerning said transfer and all facts connected therewith, and concerning the property transferred and the character and value thereof.

If said person or persons shall be directed to appear before said appraiser said appraiser shall, at the time and place in said order named, or at such time and place to which said appraiser may adjourn said hearing, proceed to examine said person or persons and such witnesses as said appraiser may subpoena before him, and for the purpose of said hearing, and for the purpose of ascertaining any facts concerning the taxability of said transfer or any taxes due on account of such transfer, said appraiser shall have the powers of a referee of said court, and is hereby authorized to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of witnesses before him, and to administer oath, and to take the evidence of such witnesses under oath concerning such property and the value thereof and concerning such transfer. Said appraiser shall report to said court his findings and conclusions in relation to said transfer and said tax, and may return to said court, any depositions, exhibits or other testimony or information taken before him or exhibited to him. The procedure subsequent to the filing of said report shall conform to subdivision (2) of section sixteen of this act.

Except as herein otherwise provided, the service of such citation and the time, manner and proof thereof, and the hearing and determination thereon, and the hearing and determination upon the facts returned in such report, and the enforcement of the determination or decree, shall conform to the provisions of chapter twelve, title eleven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, and the clerk of the court shall, upon the request of the state controller, furnish, without fee, one or more transcripts of such decree, and the same shall be docketed and filed by the county clerk of any county in the state, without fee, in the same manner and with the same effect as provided by section six hundred seventy-four of said Code of Civil Procedure for filing a transcript of an original docket.

The superior court may hear the said cause upon the relation of the parties and the testimony of witnesses, and evidence produced in open court, and, if the court shall find said property is not subject to any tax, as herein provided, the court shall, by order, so determine; but if it shall appear that said property, or any part thereof, is subject to any such tax, the same shall be appraised and taxed as in other cases.

(2) Petition to determine taxability. Compensation of appraiser. Verified petitions may be filed by any interested party with the superior court, alleging and admitting that a transfer within the meaning of this act has been made and the taxability thereof and the liability for such tax and the amount thereof have not been determined, and that no proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof, may be determined, and that the petitioner desires such determination and desires to pay said tax, if any be due. Upon the filing of such petition the superior court or a judge thereof shall by order designate and appoint an inheritance tax appraiser to ascertain and report to said court the amount of the inheritance tax, if any, due by said petitioner on account of such transfer, and shall fix a time and place, not less than ten days thereafter, for the hearing of said matter before said inheritance tax appraiser, a copy of which petition and order shall be forthwith mailed to the state controller, and shall refer to said petition and said matter to said inheritance tax appraiser who shall have all of the powers of a referee of said court, including the powers prescribed in subdivision (1) of section sixteen of this act. The procedure subsequent to said reference to said appraiser shall conform to the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of section sixteen of this act.

In the event that final judgment is rendered in said proceeding, ascertaining and determining that no inheritance tax is due on account of said transfer or that the amount of the tax to which said transfer is liable, is less than twenty dollars the court shall, in addition to the amount of the tax, if any, include in such judgment and assess against the petitioner reasonable compensation for said inheritance tax appraiser, not exceeding the sum of ten dollars, and the necessary traveling and incidental expenses of said appraiser.

(3) Action to quiet title. Hearing by appraiser. Judgment in favor of state. Actions may be brought against the state by any interested person for the purpose of quieting the title to any property against the lien or claim of lien of any tax or taxes under this act, or for the purpose of having it determined that any property is not subject to any lien for taxes nor chargeable with any tax under this act. No such action shall be maintained where any proceedings are pending in any court in this state wherein the taxability of such transfer and the liability therefor and the amount thereof may be determined. All parties interested in said transfer and in the taxability thereof shall be made parties thereto and any interested person who refuses to join as plaintiff therein may be made a defendant. Summons for the state in said action shall be served upon the state controller.

At any time after issue is joined in such action the court, on its own motion, or upon the motion of any interested party, may by order appoint and designate an inheritance tax appraiser to hear said matter and report to the court thereon and shall in such order fix a time and place for the hearing of said matter before said inheritance tax appraiser, and direct notice of such time and place to be given in such manner as the court shall deem proper, and shall refer said matter to said inheritance tax appraiser who shall have all of the powers of a referee of said court, including the powers prescribed in subdivision (1) of section sixteen of this act. The procedure subsequent to said reference to said appraiser shall conform to the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of section sixteen of this act.

Should the court determine that the property described in the complaint is subject to the lien of said tax and that said property has been transferred within the meaning of this act, the court shall award affirmative relief to the state in said action, and judgment shall be rendered therein in favor of the state, ascertaining and determining the amount of said tax, and the person or persons liable therefor, and the property chargeable therewith or subject to lien therefor, and shall assess against such person or persons reasonable compensation for said inheritance tax appraiser and his necessary traveling and incidental expenses.

(4) Actions commenced, where. Actions under this section shall be commenced in the superior court of the county in which is situated any part of any real property against which any lien is sought to be enforced, or to which title is sought to be quieted against any lien, or claim of lien; but if in said action no lien against real property is sought to be enforced, the action shall be brought in the superior court of the county which has or which had jurisdiction of the administration of the estate of the decedent mentioned herein.

(5) No fees charged. No fee shall be charged said state controller by any public officer in this state for the filing or recording of any petition, lis pendens, decree or order, or for the taking of oaths or acknowledgments in any proceeding taken under this act; nor shall any undertaking be required from or costs charged against the state controller or the state of California in any such proceeding.

§ 18. Orders have force of judgments in civil actions. The orders, decrees and judgments fixing tax or determining that no tax is due, mentioned in this act, shall have the force and effect of judgments in civil actions. Except as otherwise herein provided, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relative to judgments, new trials, appeals, attachments and execution of judgments, so far as applicable, shall govern all proceedings taken under this act. Nothing in this section shall preclude the state from relief herein provided for, which may be inconsistent with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 19. Taxes paid to state treasurer. The treasurer of each county shall collect all taxes and moneys that may be due and payable under this act and pay the same to the state treasurer (excepting such moneys as he may pay out from time to time pursuant to the provisions of this act) and the state treasurer shall give him a receipt therefor; of which collection and payment he shall make a report, under oath, to the controller, between the first and fifteenth days of May and December of each year, stating for what estate paid, and in such form and containing such particulars as the controller may prescribe; and for all such taxes collected by him and not paid to the state treasurer by the first day of June and January of each year he shall pay interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum.

§ 20. Percentage of tax retained by county treasurer. The treasurer of each county shall be allowed to retain, on all taxes paid and accounted for by him each year under this act, in addition to his salary or fees now allowed by law, three per centum of the first fifty thousand dollars so paid and accounted for by him, one and one-half per centum on the next fifty thousand dollars so paid and accounted for by him, and one-half of one per centum on all additional sums so paid and accounted for by him; provided, that no county treasurer shall be entitled to retain to his own use more than the sum of two hundred dollars out of the inheritance taxes paid on account of any transfer or transfers made by, or resulting from the death of, any one decedent, nor more than five thousand dollars out of the total inheritance taxes accounted for in any one year.

§ 21. State controller may employ counsel. The state controller, whenever he shall be cited as a party in any proceeding or action to determine any tax under this act provided, or whenever he shall deem it necessary for the better enforcement of this act to make any special employment to secure evidence of evasion of said tax, or to commence or appear in any proceeding or action to determine any tax hereunder, may, by and with the consent and approval of the attorney-general, make such special employment or designate and employ counsel or attorney in or out of this state to represent him on behalf of the state, and, by and with such consent of the attorney-general, he is hereby authorized to incur the necessary expense for such employment and any reasonable and necessary expense incident thereto. And the county treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay out of any funds which may be in his hands on account of this tax, on presentation of a sworn itemized account and on certificate of the state controller and attorney general, all expenses incurred as in this section above provided, but no expense for such special employment or legal services, up to and including the entry of the order of the court fixing the tax and the same becoming final, shall exceed ten per centum of the tax and penalties collected; provided, that all reasonable and necessary expenses incurred, in any legal action or proceeding in any court of this state or on any appeal therefrom, other than attorney's fees, including expense of serving processes and printing and preparing of necessary legal papers, may be allowed and paid in the manner above provided, even though no tax be recovered in such action or proceeding, and the limitations herein made shall not apply thereto.

§ 22. Disposition of taxes collected. All taxes levied and collected under this act, up to the amount of two hundred fifty thousand dollars annually, shall be paid into the treasury of the state, for the uses of the state school fund, and all taxes levied and collected in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars annually shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund thereof.

§ 23. Penalty for failure to perform duty. Every officer who fails or refuses to perform, within a reasonable time, any and every duty required by the provisions of this act, or who fails or refuses to make and deliver within a reasonable time any statement or record required by this act, shall forfeit to the state of California the sum of one thousand dollars, to be recovered in an action brought by the attorney general in the name of the people of the state on the relation of the controller.

§ 24. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 25. Acts repealed. Pending suits, etc., not affected. An act entitled "An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and by any act hereby repealed and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens arising hereunder or under an act hereby repealed to be known as the 'inheritance tax act'; to repeal an act entitled 'An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds; to provide for the enforcement of liens created by this act and for suits to quiet title against claims of liens, arising hereunder; to repeal an act entitled "An act to establish a tax on gifts, legacies, inheritances, bequests, devises, successions and transfers, to provide for its collection, and to direct the disposition of its proceeds," approved March 23, 1893, and all amendments thereto, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, approved March 20, 1905, and all amendments thereto, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act,' approved April 7, 1911"; approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereto, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby expressly repealed; provided, however, that such repeal shall in no wise affect any suit, prosecution or proceeding pending at the time this act shall take effect, or any right which the state of California may have at the time of the taking effect of this act, to claim a tax upon any property under the provisions of the act or acts hereby repealed, for which no proceeding has been commenced, and where no proceeding has been commenced to collect any tax arising under any act hereby repealed the procedure to collect such tax shall conform to the provisions hereof; nor shall such repeal affect any appeal, right of appeal in any suit pending, or orders fixing tax, existing in this state at the time of the taking effect of this act.

An act to provide for the levy and collection of taxes by and for the use of municipal corporations and cities incorporated under the laws of the State of California, except municipal corporations of the first class, and to provide for the consolidation and abolition of certain municipal offices, and to provide that their duties may be performed by certain officers of the county, and fixing the compensation to be allowed for such county officers for the services so rendered to such municipal corporations.

[Approved March 27, 1895. Stats. 1895, p. 219.]

Amended 1905, p. 429; 1913, p. 441; 1919, pp. 160, 187.

The amendments of 1919 follow:

§ 2. Duties of city treasurer may be performed by county treasurer. The board of trustees, common council, or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or city in this state, except municipal corporations of the first class, shall have power to elect that the duties of the city treasurer of such city or municipal corporation, shall be performed by the county treasurer of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated; and whenever such board of trustees, common council or other legislative body shall by ordinance so determine such duties shall be performed by the treasurer of the county in which such city or municipal corporation is situated. Certified copies of such ordinance shall be served on the auditor, tax collector, and treasurer of such county, and such ordinance shall also prescribe the manner in which money shall be drawn out of the various funds belonging to said city or municipal corporation, in the hands of the treasurer. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 160.]

§ 8a. Redemption of property through county auditor. Whenever any municipal corporation elects or has heretofore elected to avail itself of the provisions of this act relating to the assessing and collecting by the county of taxes for such municipal corporation, redemption of property which after such election has been made has been sold to such municipal corporation on account of nonpayment of taxes shall be effected through the office of the county auditor. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 187.]

ACT 4065.

An act to carry into effect the provisions of section 14 of article XIII of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation.

[Approved April 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 530.]

Amended 1913, pp. 3, 615; 1915, pp. 3, 937.

This act was revised and a substitute passed for it in 1917.

The act of May 11, 1917, adding sections 3664a to 3671d to the Political Code, contained the following provision (Stats. 1917, p. 370):

§ 38. This act is a revision of and substitute for the act entitled "An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation," approved April 1, 1911, and amendments thereof; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall affect any tax heretofore levied or assessed in accordance with the provisions of said act and amendments thereof; and provided, further, that all laws in force prior to the taking effect of this act and providing for the levy and collection of such taxes shall, for the purpose of the collection of such taxes, remain in full force and effect.

ACT 4066.

An act to carry into effect the provisions of subdivision (e) of section 14 of article XIII of the constitution of the state of California as the said article was amended on the eighth day of November in the year 1910, in so far as the same relates to the state university; and also to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California; and to that end making a continuing appropriation and creating an annual fund therefor; and repealing an act entitled: "An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor, and to repeal an act approved February 14, 1887, entitled: 'An act to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California by the levy of a rate of taxation and the creation of a fund therefor,' and also to repeal an act approved February 27, 1897, entitled 'An act to provide additional support and maintenance, and for the acquisition of necessary property and improvements of the University of California, by the levy of a rate of taxation, and the creation of a fund therefor,'" approved March 20, 1909.

[Approved April 25, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1104.]

Amended 1915, p. 448; 1917, p. 534.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. State university fund created. In order to carry into effect the provisions of subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as the said article was amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, in so far as the same relates to the state university, and to provide for the permanent support and improvement of the University of California, there is hereby created an annual fund to be called "the state university fund"; said fund for the sixty-third fiscal year shall be equal to, but not more than, seven per cent in excess of the amount received by the university under the provisions of chapter three hundred twenty-nine of the statutes of one thousand nine hundred nine for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth in the year one thousand nine hundred eleven; and provided, further, that such fund for each of the sixty-fourth, sixty-fifth, sixty-sixth, sixty-seventh, sixty-eighth, sixty-ninth, seventieth, seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years shall be equal to, but not more than, seven per cent in excess of the amount received by the university under this act for the immediately preceding respective fiscal year. [Amendment approved May 15, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 534.]

ACT 4067d.

An act authorizing and providing for an investigation and report upon the matter of revenue and taxation, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 432.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 301.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 5. Duties of tax commission. The officers and appointees provided for in section two of this act shall perform such duties as the governor may deem necessary to further the objects of senate joint resolution number three, adopted by the legislature January 26, 1917, and chapter number thirty-two of the laws of one thousand nine hundred seventeen. [New section added May 10, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 301.]

ACT 4067f.

An act to regulate and limit the amount that may be produced by tax levies in the aggregate by political subdivisions of this state, creating a state board of authorization, providing for the making and filing of budgets by such subdivisions, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1402. In effect July 30, 1917.]

This act never became operative, as it was not approved by the voters at an election held November 5, 1918, when it was submitted to the voters under a referendum petition.

§ 1. Terms defined. (a) For the purposes of this act the term "political subdivision" shall mean, refer to and include counties, cities, towns, and all other subdivisions of this state which have or shall hereafter have power to make tax levies; the term "governing body" shall mean, refer to and include the body, board, commission or council, by whatever name the same may be designated in legislative act or local charter, which has and exercises the power of a political subdivision to levy taxes therein; and the term "estimate" shall mean, refer to and include any and all estimates, statements or calculations required by legislative act or local charter to be made or prepared and filed with or submitted to a governing body for the purpose of obtaining from such governing body a levy or levies of taxes to produce all or any part of the amount of money specified therein; and the term "year" shall mean and refer to fiscal year.

(b) Amount produced by tax levies. The amount produced in a preceding year or the amount to be produced in a current or ensuing year by tax levies by the governing body of any political subdivision shall be ascertained by multiplying the total assessed taxable value of each district within such subdivision by the total rate of tax levied or to be levied in such district, and the sum of these products shall be taken as the amount produced or to be produced in such political subdivision; provided, that from the amount produced, as so ascertained, there shall be deducted the amount by which the production of any interest or bond levy will be decreased in the current year by reason of the payment, in whole or in part, of bonds of a subdivision prior to the time of levying taxes therein for such current year, and the remainder shall be taken as the amount produced.

§ 2. Maximum limit on rate. In every case in which a maximum limit upon the rate of any tax levy permitted, directed or authorized to be made by the governing body of any political subdivision is now or may hereafter be prescribed by legislative act or charter, such maximum limit shall remain as so prescribed and shall not be construed to be increased by any of the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Statement by officer of estimated amount needed. Change by governing body. Not less than ninety days before the day prescribed by legislative act or charter for the governing body of a political subdivision to fix the rates of taxes to be levied therein, each officer thereof shall file with the governing body, in duplicate and upon a form or forms to be prescribed as hereinafter provided, a statement showing the income and expenditures of his office for the last two fiscal years immediately preceding, the estimated amount of money needed for his office for each and every purpose for the next fiscal year, and such other information as the said form or forms may call for. Such statements so filed as aforesaid shall be used by the governing body for the purpose of making up the budget of its political subdivision for the ensuing fiscal year.

The amount proposed to be produced by any special levy of taxes, and any estimate of the amount of money required or needed for any purpose filed with or submitted to the governing body of any political subdivision for the purpose of obtaining a levy or levies of taxes to produce the amount of money therein specified, may be revised and changed in whole or in part by the governing body with which the same is so filed or to which it so submitted.

§ 4. State board of authorization created. A state board of authorization is hereby created for the purpose of determining whether an emergency or urgent necessity exists by reason of which any political subdivision may make tax levies that will produce an amount greater than the amount limited by section six; to prescribe the forms mentioned in section three; and to have such other powers and duties as are hereinafter vested therein. The members of the said board shall be the state controller, the chairman of the state board of control, the chairman of the state board of equalization and two other persons in the service of the state to be appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a member of the state board of control. The members of the state board of authorization shall organize by electing a chairman and a secretary from their own number.

§ 5. Budget of political subdivision filed with board. Not less than sixty days prior to the time prescribed by legislative act or charter for the governing body of a political subdivision to determine upon and fix the rates of tax levies therein, such governing body shall file with the state board of authorization a copy of the statement theretofore filed with it by each officer as required by section three, and also, upon such form or forms as the state board of authorization may prescribe, the budget of such political subdivision for the ensuing fiscal year. Such budget shall show the income and expenditures of such political subdivision for the last two fiscal years immediately preceding, the estimated expenditures for each and every purpose for the ensuing fiscal year, an estimate of income for the ensuing fiscal year from sources other than taxation, the rate of each tax levy proposed to be made for such ensuing year, and such other facts and information as the state board of authorization may require.

§ 6. No increase in excess of five per cent. No governing body of any political subdivision shall in any year make tax levies which, in the aggregate, will produce an amount more than five per cent in excess of the amount produced by tax levies made thereby during the year immediately preceding, except as hereinafter provided.

§ 7. Approval by board. The state board of authorization shall examine such budgets, proposed tax levies and other matter filed as required by section five, and, after public hearing thereon, shall approve the proposed tax levies if the amount the same will produce will not exceed the amount limited by section six; otherwise it shall disapprove such proposed levies, giving its reasons therefor, and return them and the budget to the proper governing body to be corrected and revised by it in accordance with the reasons given, to the end that the amount that will be produced thereby shall not exceed the amount limited by section six. In correcting or revising any proposed levies or budget so returned for correction or revision the governing body shall make due provision in any event first for the principal and interest of bonded indebtedness and second for the support and maintenance of the public schools. No taxes shall be collected under any levy by the governing body of a political subdivision until after such levy shall have been approved or corrected and revised as in this section required.

§ 8. Request to make levies producing excess amount. In case of emergency or urgent necessity which, in the judgment of a governing body requires the making of tax levies which, in the aggregate, will produce an amount more than five per cent in excess of the amount produced by tax levies made thereby in the year immediately preceding, such fact shall be set forth in the form of a special request, containing a description of such emergency or urgent necessity and a statement of the amount in dollars of the desired excess, and filed with the state board of authorization. As soon as may be after receiving such special request the state board of authorization shall publicly hear and determine the same under such rules as it may prescribe. If the state board of authorization shall be of opinion that such emergency or urgent necessity exists it shall specifically authorize the making of tax levies, which, in the aggregate, will produce such excess amount; if it shall not be of such opinion it shall so state, giving its reasons therefor; and its decision shall be final unless changed by the voters as provided in section nine.

§ 9. Petition to call special election. Notice. Ballots. Three-fifths vote required. Within ten days after the date of the order or decision of the state board of authorization on any special request filed as required in the preceding section, a petition may be filed with the clerk or recording officer of the governing body of the political subdivisions affected thereby, asking that a special election be called by such governing body to determine the question of whether such order or decision shall stand as final. If said petition is signed by not less than fifteen per cent of the electors of such subdivision resident therein for the period requisite to enable them to vote at a general election, the governing body with which the same is filed shall call the special election therein requested by publishing notice thereof in a daily paper, published in such subdivision, for five consecutive days before the same is held. If no daily paper is published therein, such notice shall be posted in at least fifty of the most public places in such subdivision for at least five consecutive days before the day of the election. Such notice must specify the time, place or places, and the purpose of said special election and the hours during which the polls will be kept open. Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of this state, where applicable and not in conflict herewith. The ballots shall contain the question "Shall — (naming the political subdivision) make tax levies in the year — (naming the fiscal year) which will produce dollars (naming in words and figures the total sum desired to be produced, including the exact amount of increase requested of the board of authorization, in excess of the amount produced in the year immediately preceding) more than the amount produced by all tax levies in the year — (naming the last preceding fiscal year)?" Under said question there shall be printed two squares, one above the other. Above the first square there shall be printed the word "yes," and above the second the word "no." Each voter shall indicate his vote by marking or stamping a cross (X) in the proper square. Every elector resident within the political subdivision for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election shall be entitled to vote at the election herein provided for. The votes cast shall be canvassed as expeditiously as is practicable and if not less than three-fifths of the votes cast shall be in the affirmative the governing body of the subdivision in which the election was held shall have power to make tax levies for the ensuing year which, in the aggregate, will produce the amount stated on the ballots in excess of the amount produced during the year preceding; but if the number of votes cast in the affirmative shall be less than three-fifths of all the votes cast at such election, the governing body shall not have such power. Such election must be held within fifteen days after the filing of a proper petition therefor. The result of such election, with a statement of the total number of votes cast and the total number of affirmative and negative votes, shall be forthwith recorded in the minutes of the governing body and certified to the board of authorization. Tax levies made pursuant to the decision of an election held as provided in this paragraph shall not require approval by the state board of authorization.

§ 10. When boundaries of political subdivision changed. During the first year after the boundaries of any political subdivision are changed to include or exclude in whole or in part property theretofore included in another political subdivision, no greater amount may be produced by tax levies upon property within such new boundaries than the amount produced by tax levies thereon in the year immediately preceding, plus five per cent, without special request and authorization as provided in section eight hereof.

§ 11. Excess amount excluded in estimate for ensuing year. The amount of any increase or excess, over the normal increase permitted by section six hereof, authorized by the state board of authorization after special request therefor, or by the voters as provided in section nine, shall be excluded in determining the amount that may be produced in an ensuing year without such special authorization or election.

§ 12. Procedure prescribed by board. The time, manner, form, contents of and procedure on special applications and requests to the state board of authorization under this act shall be prescribed by the said board, and all rules or orders prescribing the same may be modified or amended at any time. In the event any order is made by the state board of equalization under the provisions of section three thousand seven hundred five of the Political Code, the state board of authorization shall have power by order, in the event it deems it advisable so to do, to change any time requirement of this act so as to adjust the performance of duties under this act by governing bodies, and the petitioning for, publication of notice for, holding of, and certification of the results of elections held hereunder to meet any change of time so as aforesaid authorized by the state board of equalization.

§ 13. Application of percentage limitation. The percentage limitation provided for in sections six and eight shall apply to and restrict the amount produced or to be produced by the aggregate of all tax levies that the governing body of any political subdivision has or shall hereafter have power to make, or that it is its duty to make, for any purpose whatsoever.

In no event shall this act be construed, either in whole or in part, to permit the governing body of any political subdivision to make a levy of taxes for any purpose at a rate higher than the rates prescribed in section two.

§ 14. City, etc., may become subject to act. This act shall apply only to counties and to the governing bodies thereof; provided, any city, city and county or other political subdivision may by resolution of its governing body declaring its intention so to do, subject such political subdivision and such governing body to all the terms, conditions, limitations and requirements hereof by filing a certified copy of such resolution with the state board of authorization. From and after the filing with the state board of authorization of a certified copy of the resolution herein provided for, the governing body so passing the same and its political subdivision shall be subject in all respects and particulars to the provisions, conditions, requirements and limitations of this act.

§ 15. Minimum limits abolished. Repealed. In all cases in which levies of taxes by any political subdivision are permitted, authorized or directed to be made and the minimum limits thereof or the minimum amount or amounts that shall be raised thereby are expressed in terms of mills, cents, dollars, per cent of assessed value, or in dollars per capita or other unit, such minimum limits and each thereof are hereby expressly abrogated and abolished. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

An act to provide for the payment into the county treasury of any moneys now held by county tax collectors which represent duplicate or excess payments of taxes on property in their respective counties. and to provide for the distribution and repayment of such moneys when so paid, and to provide for the payment, repayment and distribution of any duplicate or excess collections which may be made hereafter.

[Approved April 12, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 116. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. County tax collector to pay excess taxes to treasurer. It shall be the duty of every county tax collector, within thirty days after this act takes effect, to pay into the treasury of his county any moneys which said tax collector may have on hand, representing duplicate or excess payments of taxes on property within his county, including such as may have been collected during a previous term or terms, as well as during his present term of office. If the records of the tax collector show the fact, there shall be filed with the county auditor at the time of such payment a description of each piece of property for which such duplicate tax payments were collected and the amount of the tax collected for each such piece of property in excess of the tax regularly levied and collected on such property in any one year.

§ 2. Recovery of excess payments. Allowance of claim. Within five years from the time of such payment into the county treasury by the tax collector, any person holding a tax receipt showing the payment to a county tax collector of taxes in any one year on any given property in the county in excess of the taxes which have been regularly levied and collected upon said property for said year, may recover the excess over and above the tax regularly levied and collected on such property for such year, by filing with the board of supervisors a claim therefor, and surrendering with such claim the tax receipt for such excess payment. If the duplicate payment of taxes in excess of the regularly levied taxes shall have been paid by different persons, the party first filing such claim and receipt for the excess payment, shall be entitled to the refund. If, upon examination by the board of supervisors, it is found that such claim has been filed within the five years and represents a payment in excess of the taxes regularly levied and collected for any given piece of property in the county for any given year and the amount thereof has been paid into the county treasury by the tax collector as aforesaid, the board of supervisors shall allow the said claim for the excess payment to the person entitled thereto.

§ 3. Moneys credited to general fund. All moneys paid to the county treasurer by the county tax collector as herein provided, shall be placed to the credit of the general fund of the county.

§ 4. Duty of tax collector. Whenever any duplicate or excess payment of taxes is made hereafter, it shall be the duty of the tax collector to retain same for thirty days and if not refunded as hereinafter provided to pay the same into the county treasury on the first Monday of each month thereafter, and at the same time file with the county auditor a description of the property upon which said taxes have been collected, the excess amount collected for each piece so described and the name of the person to whom the property is assessed at the time such excess payment is made. Such duplicate or excess payment of taxes shall be placed to the credit of the general fund of the county and within five years the party making the same, or in the event the payments are made by different parties, the party first filing his claim therefor in the manner and form hereinbefore provided, may secure a refund of such duplicate or excess payment; provided, however, that during such thirty day period, the tax collector may adjust any mistakes in the payment of taxes by returning to the party or parties, making such duplicate or excess payments the amount thereof.

§ 5. Suit by district attorney. If any tax collector shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this act, the district attorney of the county is hereby authorized to begin suit against the county tax collector to recover any sums in the possession of said county tax collector representing said duplicate or excess payment of taxes, and the statute of limitations shall not be a defense to the maintenance of any such action.

ACT 4067h.

An act permitting daily payment into the county treasury of duplicate or excess payments of taxes made to the tax collector and providing for the refund of such payments.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 248. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Daily payments of excess taxes. The county tax collector, notwithstanding the provisions of any other statute enacted at the forty-second session of the legislature of this state, may pay daily into the county treasury under the provisions of section four thousand one hundred one a of the Political Code all duplicate or excess payments of taxes hereafter made to him on property within the county; and all such duplicate and excess payments so paid into the county treasury shall be subject to refund under the provisions of section three thousand eight hundred four of the Political Code.

ACT 4067i.

An act to provide for the assessment, levy and collection of taxes for the support of the state government for the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years.

[Approved May 25, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1013.]

§ 1. Assessment and tax levy for support of state government. Sum to be raised for seventy-first fiscal year. Ad valorem tax to meet deficiency. The state board of equalization shall, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July in the year one thousand nine hundred nineteen, for the support of the state government assess and levy taxes upon the property in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in the subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d), of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, or if any rate of taxation shall have been changed by the legislature pursuant to subdivision (f) of said section and article, then upon such rate of taxation as so changed and fixed, for the purpose of raising the sum of twenty-three million four hundred ninety thousand dollars for annual expenditure for the support of the state government for the seventy-first fiscal year, and in the event that the taxes so assessed and levied, together with all available revenues other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, shall not raise said sum of twenty-three million four hundred ninety thousand dollars, then said above-named revenues shall be deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the state for the seventy-first fiscal year, which deficiency is hereby declared to be the difference between the amount of taxes assessed and levied upon the property and in the manner and upon the rates of taxation hereinbefore specified, together with all other state revenues, other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, and said sum of twenty-three million four hundred ninety thousand dollars, then said state board of equalization, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (e) of said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, at the time provided in section three thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, shall fix such an ad valorem rate of taxation for the said seventy-first fiscal year upon each one hundred dollars in value of taxable property, upon all the property in the state of California not exempt from taxation under the law and subject to taxation for state purposes on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as, after allowing five per cent for delinquencies, will raise for said seventy-first fiscal year the amount of said deficiency.

§ 2. Sum to be raised for seventy-second fiscal year. Ad valorem tax to meet deficiency. The state board of equalization shall, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July in the year one thousand nine hundred twenty, for the support of the state government, assess and levy taxes upon the property in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), and (d) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, or if any rate of taxation shall have been changed by the legislature pursuant to subdivision (f) of said section and article, then upon such rate of taxation as so changed and fixed by the laws now in force, for the purpose of raising the sum of twenty-four million four hundred eighty thousand dollars for annual expenditure for the support of the state government for the seventy-second fiscal year; and in the event that the taxes so assessed and levied, together with all available revenues other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, shall not raise the said sum of twenty-four million four hundred eighty thousand dollars, then said above-named revenues shall be deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the state for the seventy-second fiscal year, which deficiency is hereby declared to be the difference between the amount of taxes assessed and levied upon the property and in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as hereinbefore specified, together with all other state revenues, other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, and said sum of twenty-four million four hundred eighty thousand dollars, then said state board of equalization, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (e) of said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California, at the time provided in section three thousand six hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, shall fix such an ad valorem rate of taxation for said seventy-second fiscal year upon each one hundred dollars in value of taxable property, upon all the property of the state of California not exempt from taxation under the law and subject to taxation for state purposes on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten, as, after allowing five per cent for delinquencies, will raise for said seventy-second fiscal year, the amount of said deficiency.

§ 3. Tax to meet deficiency levied on what property. Any tax so levied and collected to meet a deficiency in state revenues for either of said fiscal years shall be assessed, levied and collected on all property in the state, not exempt from taxation, including the classes of property enumerated in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, under the provisions of the Political Code relating to the assessment, levy and collection of state and county taxes as said provisions were in force on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred ten.

§ 4. In effect immediately. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the usual current expenses of the state shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution of the state of California, take effect immediately.

29, 1915, Statutes of California, page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1473. In effect September 1, 1917.]

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state tenement house act" and its provisions shall apply to all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties.

§ 2. Duty of building department. Duty of housing department. In case no such departments. Enforcement. Power of commission of immigration and housing. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of tenement houses and to issue the certificate of "final completion" hereinafter provided.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" or if there is no housing department the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of tenement houses after said tenement houses have been erected, constructed, or altered, as the case may be, and the certificate of "final completion" has been issued by the building department, and to issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department or health department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.

In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of tenement houses in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, and counties in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

- § 3. Unlawful to construct tenement house contrary to act. It shall • be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any tenement house or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any tenement house or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any tenement house or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Alterations. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes, or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any tenement house hereafter erected, or to increase the height or the percentage of the lot occupied, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act, or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway or fire escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Building converted to use as tenement house. Building moved. Building reconstructed. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

A building used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any tenement house which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of fifty-one (51) per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

§ 6. Penalty for violation. Procedure. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of tenement houses or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a tenement house or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

§ 7. Permit to erect tenement house. Application. Affidavit. Permit issued. Revocation. Plans kept on premises. Permit for nominal alterations. Expiration of permit. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion, or alteration of a tenement house, or to move or to build upon a tenement house, or to convert a building or any portion thereof into use as a tenement house, without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a permit shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said application shall give a detailed statement in writing, verified under oath by the person making the same, of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. The said application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the tenement house or alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the construction of the proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered, or moved, as the case may be. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor; also shall give such other data and information as in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act is deemed necessary.

The affidavit to said application shall allege that the plans and specifications are true and contain a correct description of the proposed tenement house, lot and proposed work. If any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person shall not be recognized except that he allege in his affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit. Said department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all such plans, specifications and statements to be examined, and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall then issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the person to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such tenement house, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed and for which the permit is issued.

A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon shall be kept upon the premises of the tenement house or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alterations or repairs, when application is made therefor, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs do not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the tenement house, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

§ 8. "Certificate of final completion" and "permit of occupancy." Renewal of permit of occupancy. Certificate issued. Permit issued. Tenement house occupied without permit nuisance. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied, any tenement house hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a "certificate of final completion" and a "permit of occupancy" by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

It shall also be unlawful to occupy any existing tenement house until a permit of occupancy has been issued by the department designated to issue such permit.

Every permit of occupancy shall be renewed each calendar year by the department designated to issue the said permit; provided, that no structural alterations or changes have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion; and provided, that all other provisions of this act have been complied with.

Any person desiring a certificate shall file a notice with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said department shall cause an inspection to be made of the said tenement house or portion thereof, or work described in the said notice, within ten days after written application therefor, and shall issue a "certificate of final completion" if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy shall issue the said "permit of occupancy" upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of such statements or records required by the department, after the "certificate of final completion" has been issued; provided, that no violations have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion, or, in the case of a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, and for which no certificate of final completion has been issued, then after the said department has caused an inspection to have been made of the said tenement house and has found that all of the provisions of this act applying to such tenement house have been complied with.

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

Any tenement house hereafter erected, altered, converted or moved, which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a "certificate of final completion" or a "permit of occupancy" being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance, and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 9. Power to enter tenement house. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Definitions. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "health department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the tenement house is situated.

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Approved" means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which is approved by local ordinance of the municipality in which the building is situated, or any appliance, appurtenance, or other matter which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the "national board of fire underwriters"; provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter shall be deemed "approved" for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which is no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

Every basement is a story.

"Building" is a tenement house.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

"Court" is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard on the lot on which is situated a tenement house. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side yard, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an "outer court." Every court which is not an "outer court" is an "inner court."

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms or apartments abutting the said court, except that a cornice on the building may extend into an "outer court" two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and a cornice may extend into an "inner court" one inch for each one foot in width of such court.

"Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the "front of lot."

Wherever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Family" is one person living alone or a group of two or more persons living together in an apartment, whether related to each other by birth or not.

"Fireproof tenement house" is a building wherein all the exterior and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone, or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron, the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or hollow terra cotta tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either hollow terra cotta tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or of metal studs lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board, or constructed of wire glass not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in metal frames and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved incombustible material, except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usual trim of rooms, hallways, corridors and passageways may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the stairways and public hallways.

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of tenement houses, hotels or dwelling-house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Kitchen" is any room in any apartment used or intended or designed to be used for cooking purposes and for the preparation of food.

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a tenement house, together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces for such a tenement house as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets, is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such a corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof.

A lot which has only one boundary line bordering on a public street is an "interior lot."

"Rear lot" is a parcel or area of land having no boundary line bordering on a street, or having less than one-half of its width as a boundary line bordering on a street.

"Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either of such boundary lines may be the "front of lot."

"Rear of lot" is the boundary line of lot opposite the "front of lot."

"Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Occupied space" is all the space covered by a tenement house, including outside stairways, platforms, fire-escapes, balconies, fire-towers, chimneys, stacks, vent shafts, not exceeding thirty-two square feet in area, cornice, or any part thereof, which projects into an inner court more than one inch for each one foot in width of such court, or which projects into an outer court or yard more than two inches for each one foot in width of such outer court or a yard, except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not exceeding four feet beyond the exterior walls of the building into a front or rear yard, and except that a retaining wall may extend not to exceed twelve inches into a yard or court. For the purpose of determining occupied space, the area of the building shall be taken at the lowest story or portion thereof used for living or sleeping purposes.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; and also includes a firm, partnership or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Public hallway" is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within an apartment, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

"Rear tenement house" is a tenement house on a "rear lot."

"Semi-fireproof tenement house" is a building with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete or hollow terra cotta tile; except that the walls of an inner court, which court is surrounded on four sides by the same building, may be constructed as provided in this act for such inner courts; interior partitions and floors constructed of approved combustible materials or of wood, with all ceilings, partitions, soffits of stairways, and outside stringers of open stairways and stair wells metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board; in which all finished floors, frames, doors and the usual trim of rooms and hallways may be built of wood and the roof of which shall be covered with at least a composition fire-retardant material.

"Shall." Whenever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the "front of lot" to the opposite "front of lot," and which shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

"Tenement house" is any house or building, or portion thereof, more than one story in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let, or hired out to be occupied, or which is occupied as the home or residence of three or more families living independently of each other and doing their cooking in the said building; provided, however, that any building not more than two stories in height which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families, and the said building is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and the building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is, or may be, kept as a home or residence of a separate family, and each such section has an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one such stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building is a separate stairway, and with no room, hallway, bathroom, water-closet, or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building, shall be deemed not to come within the definition of a "tenement house."

"Wooden tenement house" is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements for a "fireproof" or a "semi-fireproof" tenement house as defined in this act, and shall include all frame and all veneered buildings.

In every such building all ceilings and walls and partitions of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways, and stair wells shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

"Yard" is a portion of a lot on which is situated a tenement-house and which is unoccupied by the building and extends from the ground up (except where otherwise provided by this act) open and unobstructed to the sky; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yards. If such yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a "front yard." If it is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a "rear yard." If it extends from the rear yard to the front yard or front of the lot, it is a "side yard."

§ 11. Front yard. No tenement house shall hereafter be erected on, or moved on to, a rear lot. No building for any purpose shall hereafter be erected in front of any tenement house unless there shall be left unoccupied a front yard extending from the front of the rear tenement house to the front line of lot bordering on the street.

Such front yard shall not be in any part less in width than fifty per cent of the actual width of the rear tenement house.

§ 12. Height. No fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed one hundred fifty feet in height, nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No semi-fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than sixty-five feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed three stories at any point nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

The width of the street, for this purpose, shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the front of lot opposite, across the street.

For the purposes of this section a basement is a story.

The height of a fireproof tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the highest point of the roof. The height of a semi-fireproof or of a wooden tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in the case of a semi-fireproof tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed sixty-five feet above the curb level measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed seventy-five feet above the adjoining curb in case of a corner lot, or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot, and in the case of a wooden tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed thirty-six feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed forty-six feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot.

§ 13. Per cent of lot left unoccupied. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least ten per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least twenty-five per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

§ 14. Rear yard. Immediately behind every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a rear yard extending across the entire width of the lot.

§ 15. Yard serving two tenement houses. Distance between buildings. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve the purpose of two tenement houses hereafter erected, or of an existing tenement house and a tenement house hereafter erected, unless such yard or court, as the case may be, is of the full size required for two tenement houses, and then only in the event that such yard or court, as the case may be, is located on the same lot and owned by or in the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house it proposes to serve.

Where a tenement house, now or hereafter erected, stands upon a lot, no other building shall hereafter be placed upon the front or rear of that lot, unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least ten feet, and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of ten feet for every story more than one in height of the highest building on such lot.

§ 16. Depth of rear yard. The depth of a rear yard shall be measured at right angles from the extreme rear line of the building toward the rear lot line.

§ 17. Minimum depth of rear yard on interior lot. On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the ground clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of the lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Height of building measured from top of wall to floor of yard at point abutting the rear yard		Depth of rear yard
Not exceeding 36 feet	10 feet
Not exceeding 48 feet	11 feet
Not exceeding 60 feet	12 feet
Not exceeding 72 feet	14 feet
Not exceeding 84 feet	16 feet
Not exceeding 96 feet	18 feet
Not exceeding 108 feet	20 feet
Not exceeding 120 feet	22 feet
Not exceeding 132 feet	24 feet
Not exceeding 150 feet	26 feet

Provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

§ 18. Minimum depth of rear yard on corner lot. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the lowest floor which is used for living or sleeping apartments, clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of such lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may be extended not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Depth of corner lot	Depth of rear yard
Not exceeding 100 feet....	Not less than 10 per cent of the depth of the lot nor less than 5 feet, nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.
Exceeding 100 feet.....	Not less than 10 feet nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.

Provided, however, if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, or to a public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

§ 19. Passageway to street. Every rear yard required by this act and not bordering on a street or public alley and without direct access thereto shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway not less than three feet six inches in clear width, nor less than seven feet in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained and lighted.

§ 20. Excavated front yard. Every front yard which is excavated below the level of the curb or below the adjoining ground level for the purpose of furnishing light and ventilation to a basement shall in no part be less in width and length than required for outer courts.

§ 21. Width of side yard. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building, connected one with the other across the rear of the building by the rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

§ 22. Minimum size of outer court. The minimum size of every outer court for a tenement house hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments	Minimum width of court	Maximum length of court
1 or 2 stories.....	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
3 stories	4 ft. 6 in.	25 ft. 0 in.
4 stories	5 ft. 6 in.	30 ft. 0 in.
5 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
6 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
7 stories	10 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
8 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
9 stories	13 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
10 or more stories.....	14 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.

There shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional part thereof in excess of the maximum length; provided, however, that the maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, further, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

§ 23. Minimum size of inner court. The minimum size of every inner court for tenement houses hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court in square feet
1 or 2 stories.....	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more.....	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Provided, however, that the minimum size of every inner court which is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line may be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court
1 or 2 stories.....	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	9 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more.....	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Every inner court hereafter constructed and every inner court or vent shaft now in any tenement house shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out.

§ 24. Recess. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a tenement house hereafter erected shall, unless it conforms to the requirements of this act for an inner court, or an outer court, be not less in width than its depth. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess proposes to serve.

§ 25. Intakes for inner court. Construction. Every inner court in a tenement house hereafter erected shall be provided with one or more horizontal intakes at the bottom of the court, as follows:

Inner court areas	Minimum number of intakes	Net aggregate area of intakes
Each not exceeding 300 square feet.....	One	19½ square feet
Each not exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	40 square feet
Each exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	60 square feet

Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard, or rear yard, or to a side yard, or to a street, or to a public alley or public park. Whenever more than one intake is required, one such intake shall extend to the front of lot or front yard, and one to the rear yard, public alley, public park, or to the other street, and the court ends of the air intakes shall be as far apart as possible.

Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intakes may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct, constructed of approved incombustible materials or lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof, having an interior area of not less than nineteen and one-half square feet, and in no dimension less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

§ 26. Cellars. In no tenement house shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

Every cellar shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floor of every cellar hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 27. Basements. In no tenement house shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining level.

Every basement shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 28. Ventilation beneath floor. Floor made impervious to rats. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof shall be at least eighteen inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Such space under the floor shall be inclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation; provided, however, that in any such building the lowest floor thereof may be less than eighteen inches above the surface soil, but in no case less than six inches, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, if the said floor is made impervious to the ingress of rats or other vermin as follows:

(a) Foundation walls shall be constructed of concrete or of brick or stone or other masonry laid in a good mortar or constructed of some other equally rat-proof material.

(b) The said foundation walls shall be not less than six inches in thickness at the top nor less than twelve inches in thickness at the bottom, nor extend less than twelve inches below the surface soil, and, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, shall extend not less than six inches above the surface soil.

(c) Every opening in the foundation walls, for ventilation or for other purposes, shall be made rat proof with suitable metal screens or with some other similar rat-proof material. Door or window openings in such walls shall have tight-fitting doors or windows.

(d) The said lowest floor or differing levels thereof, forming a complete floor between the outside walls of the building, shall be constructed either of masonry, or covered with concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick, or constructed of two layers of flooring with a layer of galvanized iron or galvanized iron wire cloth or other approved equally as rat-proof material placed between the two layers of flooring. Or, in lieu of the floor being constructed as herein prescribed, the entire ground area under the floor shall be covered with concrete not less than two inches thick, except where the surface of the soil is composed of rock. The rat-proofing material shall always extend under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions.

(e) All openings throughout the said floor for chimneys, plumbing, water-pipes, or for any other purpose, shall be closed up tight in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions, and if the rat-proofing material used for closing of openings is other than masonry, it shall extend beyond and underlap the flooring all around the opening, not less than two inches.

§ 29. Floor area of rooms. Width and height. Water-closets, etc. Curtains. In every apartment in every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one room containing not less than one hundred twenty square feet of superficial floor area, and every other room shall contain at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area, except water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, and except kitchens, closets, recesses from rooms, or dressing-rooms.

Every kitchen shall contain not less than fifty square feet of superficial floor area.

Every room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than nine feet in height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be nine feet in height in but one-half the area of the room; provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, nor to closets, nor to recesses from rooms, nor to dressing-rooms, nor shall the provisions of this paragraph as to minimum width apply to kitchens.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, or closet, or recess from a room, or dressing-room, shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling. Every closet, recess from a room, or dressing-room, which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes-presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be a part of the floor area of a closet, recess from a room) or dressing-room shall conform to all of the provisions of this act as to rooms, and shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

No part of any room in any tenement house shall hereafter be inclosed or subdivided wholly, or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Entertainment, amusement or reception rooms hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any tenement house shall conform to the provisions of section thirty-three of this act.

§ 30. Windows. Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch. In every tenement house hereafter erected every room, kitchen, and every water-closet compartment, toilet or shower-room, and bath or slop-sink room (except in the cellar), shall have at least one window of the area hereinafter required opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or court, of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot.

All windows required by this act shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the rooms, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of each such window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment, toilet or shower-room, and bath or slop-sink room, may open directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be of the minimum size and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section sixty-one of this act; provided, further, that windows required to open on to a street, yard, or an outer court, except windows from kitchens, may open through porches, provided that said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street, yard, or outer court, is left open except that the open space may be inclosed with mosquito screens.

§ 31. Window area. In every tenement house hereafter erected the total window area in each room except in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet, slop-sink room or shower-room shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

The aggregate window area in each room shall be not less than twelve square feet, and no single window shall be less than six square feet in area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

§ 32. Windows. In every tenement house hereafter erected each window in a water-closet compartment or bath, toilet or slop-sink room, or shower-room, shall be not less than three square feet in area. The aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet. In each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, urinal, or slop-sink, the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink therein, except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

§ 33. Windows. Ventilation by fan exhaust system. Penalty for failing to maintain system. Height of amusement rooms. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the total window area in each room used for the purpose of amusement, entertainment or as a reception-room, or any room used for similar purposes, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room.

Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Amusement, entertainment or reception-rooms and rooms used for similar purposes, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this section prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan-exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent inlet ducts, extending from the outer air to each such room and exhaust ducts extending from each such room to the outer air above the highest roof of the building. ●

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth-surfaced, nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

The exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each such room.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan-exhaust ventilation, as in this section is required, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each such room at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

Every amusement, entertainment or reception room, or any room used for similar purposes, shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for living or sleeping apartments, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act, for living and sleeping apartments.

§ 34. Windows in public hallway. Skylight. French windows. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every public hallway on any floor where there are more than three apartments shall have at least one window opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or a court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such windows shall be at the end of the public hallway and placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in tenement houses not exceeding two stories in height, the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall not be more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor. Every such window shall be made so as to open and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvres so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet (measured from a vertical line), from a skylight opening.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than one and one-half times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for windows in public hallways, may be used in lieu of windows therein.

§ 35. Ventilating skylight. In every tenement house two or more stories in height hereafter erected, where there are more than three apartments on any one floor, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at a ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Every such skylight and the ventilating openings and the shutters and the closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings shall be made of approved incombustible materials, and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the top-most and first story levels, except that in tenement houses not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or the ventilators may be fixed permanently in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-four hereof and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louvre or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louvre or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway, in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required as in this section provided there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of glass in the skylight.

§ 36. Water-closets. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every apartment shall be so arranged that access may be had to every living-room, and to at least one water-closet compartment, without passing through a bedroom; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit passing through a bedroom in going from a kitchen to a bathroom or water-closet compartment.

§ 37. Water-closet for each apartment. Waterproof floor. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be installed one water-closet within each apartment located in a separate compartment or located in a compartment with a bathtub, shower or lavatory, used exclusively by the occupants of the apartment.

No door or other opening to a water-closet compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored. The walls exceeding _____ compartment shall be well plastered or coated with nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood may be used in such compartment. Every such compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly fitted and with a lock or bolt to lock same.

Every such water-closet compartment shall be made water-tight with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement, or some other similar material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than six inches on the vertical walls of the room. No water-closet fixture shall be enclosed with woodwork.

§ 38. In tenement house already erected. Sewer connection required. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway of the same floor, for every three apartments or fractional part thereof on such floor which are not provided with private water-closets. Where two or more water-closets are required by the provisions of this section to be located on a public hallway, one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women"; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this paragraph, when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting such exemptions to apply to any addition or extension to any tenement house.

Every water-closet hereafter placed in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in tenement houses hereafter erected, except that if a water-closet is installed in the top story of any such building, the compartment in which it is installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres in lieu of a window; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location.

Every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault, or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act, in tenement houses hereafter erected.

§ 39. Bathtub or shower. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a bathtub or shower within each apartment, and such bathtub or shower shall be located in a separate compartment, or there may be provided one such bathtub or shower in a separate compartment for every three such apartments which are not provided with private baths or showers; provided, that said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each apartment through the public hallway.

In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one kitchen sink within each apartment.

The walls, floors and openings to every bath, shower or slop-sink room hereafter constructed shall conform to all of the provisions of this act relative to the waterproofing of the walls and floors, and of the construction of the doors of water-closet compartments in tenement houses hereafter erected.

§ 40. In tenement house already erected. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one bathtub or shower in a separate compartment, located on the same floor, for every five apartments, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths or showers, on each such floor, and there shall be provided at least one kitchen sink in each apartment; provided, however that the department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a tenement house.

§ 41. Running water. Sewer connection. In every tenement house hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in tenement houses hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cess-pool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

§ 42. In tenement house already erected. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

§ 43. In case no running water. Privy. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the tenement house hereafter erected or an existing tenement house, as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper, separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be inclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals. All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

§ 44. Plumbing fixtures made sanitary. In every tenement house hereafter erected all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In any tenement house hereafter erected, and in any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act no plumbing fixtures shall be inclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left entirely open. All woodwork inclosing a water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be removed and the floor and wall surface beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash-tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light-colored paint of sufficient body to make it nonabsorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method be made nonabsorbent.

In every tenement house hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash-trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass; and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron, and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building and such cut-off valves shall be readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act is hereby empowered to order the same removed and to order that it be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

§ 45. Two means of egress. Every tenement house hereafter erected, three or more stories in height and in which there are three or more apartments on any one floor, shall be so designed and constructed that every apartment in such building shall have not less than two means of egress, either by stairways or fire-escapes, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such means of egress shall be accessible from every apartment, either directly or through a public hallway, and so located that should one egress be or become blocked, the other egress shall be available.

§ 46. Stairways. Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than two stairways.

Every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semi-fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each three thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

§ 47. Computing number of stairways required. The largest floor area above the ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in every tenement house hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 48. Location of stairways. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, and shall be as far removed from each other as practicable, and shall be as follows:

Access to stairways shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the lowest and topmost stories, provided that the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter or gas heater or furnace, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater, or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler-room by section sixty-three of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler-room.

§ 49. Construction of stairways. Every stairway hereafter constructed shall be as follows: have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit.

The depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Stairways required by this act shall be continuous from the ground floor level to the top story, i. e., the flights of such stairways shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the stairways from the first to the second floor be increased in width not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail, and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The underside and soffits of wooden stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways except outside stairway, in semi-fireproof and wooden tenement houses shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

The width of stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

§ 50. Space under stairway. No closet of any kind shall be constructed in any tenement house under any wooden stairway, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrances; or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed and plastered, with no door or opening of any kind therein; provided, however, that the provisions of this section as to a closet under a stairway shall not apply to any tenement house not more than two stories in height, in which not more than two families live above the first floor thereof.

§ 51. Stairway to roof. In tenement house already erected. In every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, the stairway nearest to the main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure.

In every such building not exceeding two stories in height there shall be constructed a scuttle in the public hallway near the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board on the inside and outside thereof; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof, and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

Every tenement-house of more than two stories in height, erected prior to the passage of this act, shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway. There shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder, leading from the top floor of such tenement house to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all the tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

§ 52. Hallways, etc., from stairways. Public hallways, landings and corridors from stairways shall be of the same width and measured in the same manner as the stairways, as provided in section fifty hereof.

§ 53. Fire-escapes. Types of fire-escapes. On every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, which contains more than three apartments, there shall be provided at least one fire-escape. If such tenement house exceeds three thousand square feet of floor area on any one floor above the second floor thereof, such building shall be provided with one additional fire-escape for each four thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof.

Fire-escapes required by this act shall be of one of the following types:

Type 1. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the topmost balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire-escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire-escape balcony platform, except the stair-well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire-escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counter-balanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six inches horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

The gooseneck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the gooseneck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The gooseneck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

Such fire-escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire-escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire-escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for type one and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fireproofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Type 3. Any type of an inclosed approved metallic spiral fire-escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with stand-pipes; painted the same as provided for metallic fire-escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being as solid, substantial and durable and as fireproof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire-escapes described as "type one" in this act.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire-escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire-escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exit level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such stairways to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely inclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick; such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over same, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The inclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the inclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire-escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal-lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with inclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the inclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The inclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire-escape balconies.

§ 54. Stairway and fire-escape combined. In any tenement house hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire-escape may be used and constructed as a stairway and a fire-escape combined; provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire-escape constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

§ 55. Location of fire-escapes. Every fire-escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire-escape shall be located on a street front. Every fire-escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire-escapes in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be so located that each apartment has direct egress thereto without passing through another apartment, or if a public parlor, public lobby or similar room is connected directly with the public hall, corridor or passageway through a clear and unobstructed opening, without doors, then egress may be had thereby to a fire-escape. Signs both pointing toward and marking the locations of fire-escapes shall be placed on each floor.

§ 56. Computing number of fire-escapes required. The largest floor area above the second floor shall be used as a basis for computing the number of fire-escapes required by this act; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area are diminished in size, the number of fire-escapes from that portion of the building containing the smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 57. Strength of platform, etc. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire-escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof (using outside dimensions) and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire-escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire-escape balcony or the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

§ 58. Readily accessible. Every fire-escape in or on tenement houses hereafter erected, or in or on tenement houses erected prior to the passage of this act, shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

§ 59. Standpipes. On every tenement house hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or the ground directly under same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire-escape on each street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire escape.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such tenement house is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any tenement house which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

§ 60. Elevator shafts inclosed. In every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be inclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed either with metal lath or an approved plaster board and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick.

In every semi-fireproof or wooden tenement house hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for fireproof tenement houses, or such walls may be constructed with wood studs, with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath or an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick. Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal covered on the shaft side thereof. At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

§ 61. Vent shafts inclosed. In every tenement house hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be inclosed with walls constructed the same as required by this act for elevator shaft in the same class of building. Such vent shafts may, in a semi-fireproof or wooden tenement house, be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also, that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein, shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be cement plaster.

Every vent shaft required by this act shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area three square feet for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every such vent shaft shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fireproof material or shall be of metal or metal lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in such vent shaft.

Every such vent shaft shall have a door or a window at or near the bottom of the shaft, so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out.

§ 62. Walls of inner court. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible material. In a semi-fireproof or in a wooden tenement house such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof tenement houses, or may be of wood studs, with wood firestops the same sizes as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and halfway between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath, or an approved plaster board, and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined on the weather side with not less than the number twenty-six (gauge) metal, in lieu of metal lath and plaster.

§ 63. Boiler-room. Doors in boiler-room. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every boiler used for purposes of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil for fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler-room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space of not less than seven-eighths inch between the two ceilings; each ceiling shall be metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick, including the lath or plaster board. The floor of a boiler-room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Any door in the wall of such room shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three (3) thicknesses of seven-eighths ($\frac{7}{8}$) inch by not more than six (6) inches, tongued and grooved, matched redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three (3) inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler-room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) inch thick, set in a metal or metal covered sash.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the wall. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler-room shall have a sill across each door not less than four (4) inches high. Such sill shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three (3) inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the bottom of the door shall close tight on top of same. Every swinging door in a boiler-room shall open outward from the boiler-room.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

§ 64. Garage. In every tenement house hereafter erected any portion of such building, in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles, shall be a room, the inclosing partitions of which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, or may be of wood studs lined on the automobile storage room side with redwood boards not less than seven-eighths ($\frac{7}{8}$) of an inch thick covered with asbestos paper one-eighth ($\frac{1}{8}$) of an inch thick, and then covered with No. 26 (gauge) galvanized iron, and such inclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material similar to that used in the construction of its walls, or shall be either metal lathed and be well plastered or be lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered. The floor of every such room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room, opening to the interior of the building, shall be protected in the same manner as required by section sixty-three hereof for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler-room.

§ 65. Height of additional rooms in tenements erected prior to act. In any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or created, may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such tenement house.

§ 66. Windows in tenement already erected. Every room in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be hereafter occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window of an area not less than eight square feet, opening directly upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a vent shaft not less than twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no part be less than four feet wide and open and unobstructed, without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvers directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft.

Every public hallway in every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

§ 67. Cooking in bath, etc., unlawful. Sleeping in cellar, etc., unlawful. Floor space for each occupant. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or toilet-room, water-closet compartment; or in any closet, or recess from a room, or dressing-room, which does not conform to all the provisions of this act as to size of kitchens and windows opening to a street, yard or court, or in any other place in such building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or permit or suffer any person to live or sleep in any cellar, bath or shower compartment or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet, kitchen, recess from a room or dressing-room, except when such recess from a room or dressing-room has not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area and complies with every other requirement of this act for rooms, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness or offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors, or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant, in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1 or.....	2.....	60 square feet
2 or.....	4.....	120 square feet
3 or.....	6.....	180 square feet
4 or.....	8.....	240 square feet
5 or.....	10.....	300 square feet
6 or.....	12.....	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

§ 68. Lighting of hallways, etc. In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, passageway, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room and exterior passageway on the lot.

§ 69. Light-colored material on walls. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping-room in every tenement house shall (except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during daytime) be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color.

§ 70. Repapering. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any tenement house shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

§ 71. Repairs. Every tenement house shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

All portions of the lot about a tenement house, including the yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the occupants of such building, or for the proper sanitation of the premises, it may require that the said lot, yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

§ 72. Metal mosquito screening. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any tenement house or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

§ 73. Garbage cans. In every tenement house there shall be provided by the occupants, or tenants, such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Each of said receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants, or tenants and in the case of a chute or shaft by the person in charge or in control of the building.

§ 74. Rooms, etc., to be kept clean. Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, wash-closet compartment or room, toilet-room, bathroom, slop-sink, or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any tenement house or on the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall, or cause or permit any person to, deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substances in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom; or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any tenement house, or in or about the said building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

§ 75. Beds kept clean. In every tenement house, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same; and free from the infection of lice, bedbugs or other insects.

§ 76. Dangerous articles not to be kept. In no tenement house or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept, stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton (paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing same.

§ 77. Animals not to be kept. Bakery. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any tenement house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry nor shall any stable be kept or maintained on the same lot, yard, court or premises of a tenement house or within twenty feet of any window or door or such building, nor shall there be hereafter constructed, altered, converted or maintained in any tenement house any public automobile garage or machine-shop, or automobile repair-shop.

No bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled shall be constructed or maintained in any tenement house, unless such bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled is constructed of approved fireproof materials, with no openings connecting into the tenement house, and so separated and arranged as to prevent odors from entering such building.

No tenement house shall be connected with or have any door, window or transom opening to any part of a building wherein spirituous liquors, drugs, paint or oil are stored or kept for the purpose of sale or otherwise.

§ 78. Housekeeper in charge. In every tenement house in which eight (8) or more families reside, and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such tenement house or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

§ 79. Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order. In case any tenement house, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such tenement house or building or structure, or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said tenement house, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct or business in or about such tenement house or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such tenement house, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such tenement house, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

§ 80. Fine a lien. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a tenement house owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said tenement house is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

§ 81. Notice of pendency of action. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the § 90. Act of 1911 repealed. The act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof and repealing an act entitled 'An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof' approved April 16, 1909, Statutes of California of 1909, page 948," approved April 10, 1911, Statutes of California, 1911, page 860, and approved June 13, 1913, Statutes of California, 1913, page 737, and approved May 29, 1915, Statutes of California page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof are hereby repealed.

TITLE 589.

UNITED STATES.

ACT 4219.

An act to accept from the United States government the cession of jurisdiction over a portion of the Presidio of the San Francisco military reservation.

[Approved May 17, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 626. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Cession of jurisdiction accepted. The state of California hereby accepts from the United States government the cession of jurisdiction over that portion of the Presidio of the San Francisco military reservation designated by the secretary of war for the use of the Panama-Pacific international exposition company and its successors in interest, pursuant to the act of congress making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred seventeen, approved August 29, 1916, subject to the conditions, reservations and stipulations contained in said act.

ACT 4245a.

An act providing a continuous appropriation for the support and maintenance of the University of California to be an item of the general appropriation bill and repealing the act entitled "An act to provide a continuous appropriation for the support and maintenance of the University of California to be an item of the general appropriation bill," approved March 15, 1901.

Amended 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 829.

The title of the act was amended in 1919 to read as follows: "An act providing a continuous appropriation for the support and maintenance of the University of California and repealing the act entitled "An act to provide a continuous appropriation for the support and maintenance of the University of California to be an item of the general appropriation bill" approved March 15, 1901." [Amendment approved May 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 829.]

The remaining part of the amendment is as follows:

§ 2. Appropriation. Maintenance University of California. In addition to all other sums of money or funds provided for the support and maintenance of the University of California, and commencing with the seventy-first fiscal year, there is hereby appropriated for such support and maintenance for each biennial period the sum of four hundred thousand dollars. [Amendment approved May 22, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 829.]

TITLE 593.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

AOT 4263h.

An act authorizing the construction of the unfinished portion of the library building of the University of California, and the construction of a building for general use as a recitation building, of a building for the use of the college of agriculture, and of a building for the use of the college of natural sciences as a chemistry building, upon the grounds of said University of California at Berkeley; providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to meet the cost of the foregoing purposes; and providing the necessary moneys for the payment of the principal and interest to become due on said bonds. [Adopted as initiative measure by vote of the people November 3, 1914. Stats. 1915, p. 1923.]

Amended 1915, p. 15; 1917, p. 21.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Sale of bonds on direction of governor. When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed, countersigned, indorsed and sealed, as in section one provided, the state treasurer shall, from time to time, sell such number thereof as the governor of the state may direct to the highest bidder for cash. The governor of the state shall, from time to time, issue to the state treasurer such direction immediately after being requested so to do through and by a resolution duly adopted and passed by a majority vote of the regents of the University of California. Such resolution shall specify the amount of money which, in the judgment of said the regents of the University of California, shall be required at such time, and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of bonds as will, at the par value thereof, equal said amount of money so required according to such resolution of the regents of the University of California. Said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order, save and except that the state treasurer may sell two or more bonds at the same time in one lot, which lot, however, shall be made up of bonds consecutively numbered, the first of which in number shall be the first bond in number yet unsold. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond or bonds bid for, and to the amount of the accepted bid there shall be added in each case, as a part of the purchase price to be paid by the bidder, the amount of interest which shall have accrued on the bonds bid for between the date of the payment for said bonds and the last preceding interest maturity date. Each bid shall be in writing and signed by the bidder and sealed, and shall be deposited with the state treasurer not later than the last business day preceding the date of sale. Each bid shall be accompanied by the deposit with the state treasurer, either in cash or by certified check on a reputable bank to prepare students for the profession of public instruction in the kindergartens, elementary and intermediate schools of the state of California. Persons worthily completing said last-named courses, if said courses comply with the minimum requirements fixed by the state board of education of California, shall receive credentials to that effect, which said credentials shall entitle the holders thereof to equal rights and privileges with the holders of diplomas of graduation from the normal schools in securing certificates to teach in the schools of this state.

Courses leading to special high school certificates shall also be given and when such courses are duly accredited by the state board of education persons worthily completing the same shall receive credentials therefor from the regents which shall be of equal value in securing special certificates to teach in the secondary schools of this state with credentials given for the completion of such general courses in any of the normal schools.

§ 4. Measures by board of trustees. The board of trustees of the Los Angeles State Normal School are hereby authorized and directed to take such measures as shall be directed or approved by the regents of the University of California for the accomplishment of the purposes of this act.

§ 5. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the regents of the University of California, the sum of forty-one thousand dollars for the conduct and maintenance of the said institution during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1919, and the fiscal year next succeeding, providing the regents of the University of California shall be empowered to limit the total enrollment of students in said branch of the university during the said fiscal years in order that the financial provisions of this act may be sufficient to supply the usual university grade of education.

§ 6. Failure to comply with provisions of act. Upon the failure to maintain the courses and give the instruction as provided in section three of this act, the properties granted by section two of this act shall immediately revert to the state of California and the control of the same by the regents of the state university shall close.

ACT 4263j.

An act to establish a university farm in Riverside county and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes hereof. [Approved May 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1231. In effect July 27, 1919.]

TITLE 595.

VALLEJO.

ACT 4265.

Charter of. [Stats. 1899, p. 370.]

Amended 1907, p. 1245; 1919, p. 1442.

TITLE 595a.VENICE.*ACT 4271.

An act granting to the city of Venice the tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California within the boundaries of the said city.

[Approved April 10, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 89. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Venice. There is hereby granted to the city of Venice, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all the tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled; provided, that nothing contained herein shall in any way affect any property held or claimed under, through or from a Mexican grant or patent therefor within the present boundaries and jurisdiction of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Purposes for which land may be used. Term of franchises and leases. That said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor;

(b) Harbor improved without expense to state. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

(c) No discrimination in rates. Right to fish reserved to people. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or by its successors;

Reserving, however, in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose.

TITLE 598.VETERINARY SURGERY.*ACT 4296.

An act authorizing the state veterinarian to employ throughout the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years such inspectors as he may deem necessary to inspect and supervise the dipping of sheep infected and exposed to the disease known as scabies; providing for the compensation and expenses of such inspectors, and making an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Inspectors of dipping of sheep. The state veterinarian of the state of California is hereby authorized to temporarily employ such inspectors, from time to time, throughout the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years, as he may deem necessary for the purpose of inspecting and supervising the dipping of sheep exposed to and infected with the disease known as scabies. The said state veterinarian shall fix the compensation of such inspectors which compensation shall not exceed the sum of five dollars per day, exclusive of their necessary and actual expenses. Such compensation and necessary expenses shall be allowed and paid out of the appropriation herein made.

§ 2. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of nine thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used according to law in paying the wages and necessary actual expenses of the inspectors herein provided for, four thousand five hundred dollars of which shall be available during the seventy-first fiscal year, and four thousand five hundred dollars of which shall be available during the seventy-second fiscal year; and the state controller is directed to draw his warrants in favor of the person or persons entitled to the same, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

TITLE 600.VITAL STATISTICS.*ACT 4302.

An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the state bureau of vital statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of state and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of state and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same; to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

[Approved May 19, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 575.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 717; 1919, pp. 446, 759.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Bureau of vital statistics. State registrar. Salary. Deputy. Other assistants. The state board of health shall maintain a bureau of vital statistics which shall have charge of such matters and shall have such powers as may from time to time be referred and delegated to it by the state board of health. The board shall appoint a state registrar who, by virtue of his office, shall be director of the bureau of vital statistics. His salary shall be two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. The state registrar shall be a competent vital statistician. He shall have general supervision and control over the bureau of vital statistics. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in any other occupation or business. The board shall appoint also a deputy statistician, whose salary shall be one thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and two copyists, each of whom shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of state officers. The state board of health may appoint and fix the compensation of such other additional professional and clerical assistants as may be necessary for the purposes of this act, but such compensation shall be paid from its fund for contingent expenses, as provided in the general appropriation act. As soon as practicable the custodian of the capitol shall provide for the bureau of vital statistics in the state capitol at Sacramento, suitable offices, which shall be properly equipped with fireproof vault and filing cases for the permanent and safe preservation of all official records made and returned under this act. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 717.]

§ 2. Duties of state registrar. The state registrar shall under the direction of the state board of health have charge of the registration of births, deaths, and marriages, shall prepare forms and blanks with instructions for obtaining and preserving such records and shall procure the faithful registration of the same in each primary registration district as constituted in section three of this act, and in the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health at the capitol of the state. The said board shall be charged with the uniform and thorough enforcement of the law throughout the state, and shall promulgate any additional regulations. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 718.]

§ 3. Registration districts. For the purposes of this act the state shall be divided into registration districts as follows: Each city and county, or city and incorporated town having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last federal census, shall constitute a primary registration district; and each county, exclusive of the cities and incorporated towns therein having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last federal census may be subdivided by the state registrar into a sufficient number of primary rural registration districts, the boundaries of which he shall define and which he may alter, combine, or subdivide from time to time as may be necessary to promote efficient and convenient registration of all births and deaths. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 446.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 718.

§ 4. Local registrars. Local registrars for primary rural district. Registrar for marriages. Deputy. Subregistrars. The clerk of each city and incorporated town having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last federal census, shall be the local registrar in and for such primary registration district and shall perform all such duties of local registrar as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that in cities and counties and cities having a freeholders' charter, the health officer shall act as local registrar and perform all the duties thereof. The state registrar, subject to the approval of the state board of health or its secretary, shall appoint a local registrar for each primary rural district whose term of office shall be four years, and whom the state registrar may remove forthwith for failure or neglect to perform his duty as prescribed by this act. Each local registrar, besides transmitting to the state registrar each original birth and death certificate registered by him and besides retaining a complete and accurate copy of each such birth and death certificate for the local record of his district as required by section nineteen of this act, shall also transmit to the recorder of the county for a special county record a complete and accurate copy of each original birth and death certificate transmitted by said local registrar to the state registrar; provided, that the health officer of a city and county when acting as local registrar shall not be required to transmit copies of birth or death certificates to the county recorder thereof; and provided, further, that in accordance with sections three thousand seventy-six, three thousand seventy-eight, and three thousand seventy-nine of the Political Code, the county recorder shall be the sole local registrar for marriages performed anywhere in the county. Each local registrar shall immediately appoint a deputy in writing whose duty it shall be to act in his stead in case of his absence or disability; and such deputy shall in writing accept such appointment, and be subject to all rules and regulations governing local registrars. And when it appears necessary for the convenience of the people in any registration district, the local registrar is hereby authorized, with the approval of the state registrar, to appoint one or more suitable persons to act as subregistrars, who shall be authorized to receive certificates and to issue burial or removal permits in and for such portions of the district as may be designated; and each subregistrar shall note, on each certificate, over his signature, the date of filing, and shall forthwith forward all certificates to the local registrar of the district, and in all cases before the third day of the following month; provided, that each subregistrar shall be subject to the supervision and control of the state registrar, and may be by him removed for neglect or failure to perform his duty in accordance with the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of the state registrar, and shall be subject to the same penalties for neglect of duty as the local registrar. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 446.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 719.

§ 5. Burial permits. Removal permit. Body brought into state for burial. The body of any person whose death occurs in this state, or which shall be found dead therein or which shall be brought in from outside the state, shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated, disinterred or otherwise disposed of, or removed from or into any registration district, or be temporarily held pending further disposition more than five days after death, unless a permit for burial, removal, or other disposition thereof shall have been properly issued by the local registrar of the registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found, or by the county recorder of the county where said district is located, and it shall be the duty of said county recorder to mail within twenty-four hours the original death certificate to said local registrar; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent an undertaker from removing a body from the registration district where the death occurred or the body was found to another registration district in the same or an adjoining county in an undertaker's conveyance for the purpose of preparing said body for burial or shipment. A removal permit must be secured within forty-eight hours and before embalming the body. No body where death occurred from any disease held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious or communicable and dangerous to the public health shall be removed without first securing a removal permit in the manner provided in section nineteen of this act. And no such burial or removal permit shall be issued by any registrar until, wherever practicable, a complete and satisfactory certificate of death has been filed with him as hereinafter provided; provided, that when a dead body is transported from outside the state into a registration district in California for burial, the transit or removal permit, issued in accordance with the law and health regulations of the place where the death occurred, shall be accepted by the local registrar of the district into which the body has been transported for burial or other disposition, as a basis upon which he may issue a local burial permit, noting upon the face of the burial permit the fact that it was a body shipped in for interment, and giving the actual place of death; and no local registrar shall receive any fee for the issuance of burial or removal permits under this act other than the compensation provided in section twenty. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 447.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 720.

§ 7. Certificate of death. Medical certificate. The certificate of death shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared to be necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

(1) Place of death, including state, county, township, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street, and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given instead of the street and house number. If in an industrial camp, the name of the camp to be given.

(2) Full name of decedent. If an unnamed child, the surname preceded by "unnamed."

(3) Sex.

(4) Color or race—as white, black, mulatto (or other negro descent), Indian, Chinese, Japanese, or other.

(5) Conjugal condition—as single, married, widowed or divorced.

(5a) Husband of —.

(5b) Wife of —.

(6) Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

(7) Age, in years, months and days. If less than one day, the hours or minutes.

(8) Occupation. The occupation to be reported of any person, male or female, who had any remunerative employment with the statement of (a) trade, profession or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(9) Birthplace; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(10) Name of father.

(11) Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(12) Maiden name of mother.

(13) Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(14) Signature and address of informant.

(15) Official signature of registrar, with the date when certificate was filed, and registered number.

(16) Date of death, year, month, and day.

(17) Certification as to medical attendance on decedent, fact and time of death, time last seen alive, and the cause of death, with contributory (secondary) cause of complication, if any, and duration of each, and whether attributed to dangerous or insanitary conditions of employment; signature and address of physician or official making the medical certificate.

(18) Length of residence (for inmates of hospitals and other institutions; transients or recent residents) at place of death and in California, together with the place where disease was contracted if not at the place of death, and former or usual place of residence (giving city and state of residence).

(19) Place of burial or removal; date of burial.

(20) Signature and address of undertaker or person acting as such and license number of embalmer.

The personal and statistical particulars (items one to thirteen) shall be authenticated by the signature of the informant who may be any competent person acquainted with the facts.

The statement of facts relating to the disposition of the body shall be signed by the undertaker or person acting as such.

The medical certificate shall be made and signed by the physician, if any, last in attendance on the deceased, and said physician shall within fifteen hours after the death deposit the certificate at the place of death, or deliver it to the attending undertaker at his place of business or at the office of said physician. Said physician shall specify in the certificate the time in attendance, the time he last saw the deceased alive and the hour of the day at which death occurred. And he shall further state the cause of death, so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in the death, giving first the name of the disease causing death (primary cause) and the contributory (secondary) cause, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms denoting only symptoms of disease or conditions resulting from disease will not be held sufficient for the issuance of a burial or removal permit; and any certificate containing only such terms, as defined by the state registrar, shall be returned to the physician or person making the medical certificate for correction and more definite statement. Causes of death which may be the result of either disease or violence shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, the means of injury shall be stated, and whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal. And for deaths of nonresidents, transients or recent residents in hospitals or institutions, the physician shall supply the information required under this head (item eighteen) if he is able to do so, and shall state where, in his opinion, the disease was contracted. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 720.]

§ 10. Removal of body from one district to another. The removal of a dead body from one registration district to another must be accompanied by a yellow transit paster prepared according to a form prescribed by the state board of embalmers and approved by the state board of health. [Amendment approved May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 759.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 722.

§ 13. Certificate of birth. Duty of father, mother, etc. Within thirty-six hours after the date of each birth, there shall be filed with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred a certificate of such birth, which certificate shall be upon the form adopted by the state board of health with a view to procuring a full and accurate report with respect to each item of information enumerated in section fourteen of this act.

In sparsely-settled districts or where there is no direct mail communication with the county seat a reasonable time shall be fixed by the local registrar.

In each case where a physician, or midwife, or person acting as midwife, was in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of such physician to file in accordance herewith the certificate herein contemplated.

In case no physician was in attendance it shall be the duty of the midwife or person acting as midwife to file such certificate.

In every case it shall be the duty of the father or mother of the child, the householder or owner of the premises where the birth occurred or the manager or superintendent of the public or private institution where the birth occurred, each in the order named, within ten days after the date of such birth, to report to the local registrar the fact of such birth. In such case and in case the physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance upon the birth is unable, by diligent inquiry, to obtain any item or items of information contemplated in section fourteen of this act, it shall then be the duty of the local registrar to secure from the person so reporting, or from any other person having the required knowledge, such information as will enable him to prepare the certificate of birth herein contemplated, and it shall be the duty of the person reporting the birth or who may be interrogated in relation thereto to answer correctly and to the best of his knowledge all questions put to him by the local registrar which may be calculated to elicit any information needed to make a complete record of the birth as contemplated by said section fourteen, and it shall be the duty of the informant as to any statement made in accordance herewith to verify such statement by his signature, when requested so to do by the local registrar. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 722.]

§ 14. Items in certificate of birth. Certificate of physician or midwife. The certificate of birth shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

(1) Place of birth, including state, county, township or town, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given, instead of the street and house number.

(2) Full name of child. If the child dies without a name, before the certificate is filed, enter the words "died unnamed." If the living child has not yet been named at the date of filing certificate of birth, the space for "full name of child" is to be left blank, to be filled out subsequently by a supplemental report, as hereinafter provided.

(3) Sex of child.

(4) Whether a twin, triplet, or other plural birth. A separate certificate shall be required for each child in case of plural births.

(5) For plural births, number of each child in order of birth.

(6) Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

(7) Full name of father.

(8) Residence of father (giving city and state of residence).

(9) Color or race of father.

(10) Age of father at last birthday, in years.

(11) Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(12) Occupation of father. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(13) Maiden name of mother.

(14) Residence of mother (giving city and state of residence).

(15) Color or race of mother.

(16) Age of mother at last birthday, in years.

(17) Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.

(18) Occupation of mother. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business or establishment in which employed (or employer).

(19) Number of children born to this mother, including present birth.

(20) Number of children of this mother living.

(21) The certification of attending physician or midwife as to attendance at birth, including statement of year, month, day (as given in item seven), and hour of birth, and whether the child was born alive or still-born. This certification shall be signed by the attending physician or midwife, with date of signature and address; if there is no physician or midwife in attendance, then by the father or mother of the child, householder, owner of the premises, or manager or superintendent of public or private institution where the birth occurred, or other competent person, whose duty it shall be to notify the local registrar of such birth, as required by section thirteen of this act.

(22) Exact date of filing in office of local registrar, attested by his official signature, and registered number of birth, as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved May 8, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 722.]

§ 18. Forms and blanks. Records not to be changed. The state registrar shall prepare and distribute all forms and blanks for use in registering, recording and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this act; and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to procure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration; and no other forms or blanks shall be used than those prepared by the state registrar. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be supplied as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. Whenever a certificate is returned by a local registrar other than the registrar of the district in which the deceased resided, in the case of a death, or in which the father and mother of a child reside, in the case of a birth certificate, if the place of residence is a city within this state and having at least two thousand five hundred inhabitants at the last federal census, the state registrar shall mail to the local registrar of such city of residence, a complete copy of the certificate. And all physicians, midwives, informants, undertakers, clergymen, or judges, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to supply, upon the forms provided or upon the original certificate, such information as they may possess regarding any birth or death or marriage upon demand of the state registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar; provided, that no certificate of birth or death or marriage, after its acceptance for registration by the local registrar, and no other record made in pursuance of this act, shall be altered or changed in any respect, except where supplemental information required for statistical purposes is furnished.

(a) When facts not correctly stated. Preservation of certificates. Infectious diseases. Records of church associations, etc. Whenever it may be alleged that the facts are not correctly stated in any certificate of birth, death, or marriage, already registered, the local registrar shall require an affidavit under oath to be made by the person asserting the fact, setting forth the changes necessary to make the record correct, and supported by the affidavit of one other credible person having knowledge of the facts. Having received such affidavits, the local registrar shall file them together with an amended certificate and he shall note the fact of the amendment with its date on the margin of the otherwise unaltered original certificate. He shall transmit the original certificate with the affidavits and amended certificate attached when making his regular monthly returns to the state registrar. He shall also retain copies for his files. If the correction relates to a certificate previously returned to the state registrar the local registrar shall forthwith transmit the affidavits to the state registrar. If the correction is first made in the state bureau of vital statistics the state registrar shall transmit a certified copy of the amended certificate to the local registrar.

The state registrar shall further arrange, bind and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered; said index to be arranged alphabetically, in the case of deaths, by the names of decedents, and in the case of births, by the names of fathers and maiden names of mothers, and in the case of marriages by the names of both grooms and brides. He shall inform all registrars what diseases are to be considered infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that when deaths occur from such diseases proper precautions may be taken to prevent their spread. If any cemetery company or association, or any church or historical society or association, or any other company, society or association, or any individual, is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of his state, such company, society, association or individual, may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the state registrar, and it shall be the duty of the state registrar to preserve such record or transcript and to make a record and index thereof in such form as to facilitate the finding of any information contained therein. Such record and index shall be open to inspection by the public, subject to such reasonable conditions as the state registrar may prescribe. If any person desires a transcript of any record filed in accordance herewith, the state registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 724.]

§ 21. Certified copies of records. Fee for searching files. The state or local registrar shall forthwith upon request supply to any applicant a certified copy of the record of any birth or death or marriage registered under provisions of this act, for the making and certification of which he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the applicant. And any such copy of the record of a birth or death or marriage when properly certified by the state or local registrar to have been so registered within a period of one year from the date of the event, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated. For any search of the files and records when no certified copy is made the state registrar or local registrar shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each hour or fractional hour of time of search, such fee to be paid by the applicant. The state registrar shall keep a true and correct account of all fees by him received under these provisions, and such money so received by the state registrar shall be deposited with the state treasurer, who shall credit the amount to the fund provided and to be used for the payment of the traveling and contingent expenses of the state board of health, and the money so collected by the local registrar shall be paid by him into the county or city treasury, as the case may be; provided, that the local registrar shall, upon request of any parents or guardian, supply, without fee, a certificate limited to a statement as to the date of birth of any child when the same shall be necessary for admission to school, or for the purpose of securing employment; and provided, further, that the United States census bureau may obtain, without expense to the state, transcripts of births and deaths without payment of the fees herein prescribed.

(b) Petition to court to establish record. Order of court. Form. If, upon such search it shall develop that for any cause any birth or death, or marriage, occurring in this state was not registered in conformity with the provisions of law in effect at the time when such birth or death or marriage occurred by the filing of the certificate therefor with the local registrar within a period of one year from the date of the event, any person beneficially interested in establishing of record the fact of such birth or death or marriage may petition the superior court of the county in which such birth or death or marriage is alleged to have occurred for an order judicially establishing the fact of such birth or death or marriage. Such petition shall be verified and shall contain all the data necessary to enable the court, upon hearing the same, to determine the fact of such birth or death or marriage upon the proofs adduced in behalf of the petitioner at the hearing thereof. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the local registrar of vital statistics, and also upon the district attorney of the county in which such birth or death or marriage is alleged to have occurred, and either of said officials shall have the right in his discretion to appear at such hearing and oppose the making of such order. Such hearing shall be had at such time as the court may appoint, not less than ten days subsequent to the date of filing such petition, and notice thereof must be given by publication for the same time and in the same manner required by law to be given prior to the hearing of the petition for the admission to probate of any will, or the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration thereon.

If, upon such hearing, the proofs of the allegation of the petition are established, to the satisfaction of the court, the court may make an order determining that such birth, death or marriage did in fact occur in such county and at the time shown by the proofs adduced upon such hearing.

Such order must be made in the form and upon the blank prescribed and furnished by the state registrar and but one birth, death or marriage may be included therein. And said order shall become effective upon the filing of a certified copy thereof with the local registrar of vital statistics, and the delivery therewith for transmittal to the state registrar of a standard certificate containing such facts and signatures as are obtainable, and upon the filing of a certified copy of said order with the state registrar. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 448.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 726.

§ 23. Local registrars to enforce act. Duty of state registrar. Under the supervision and direction of the state registrar, each local registrar is hereby charged with the strict and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this act in his registration district. He shall make an immediate report to the state registrar of any violation of this law coming to his knowledge, by observation or upon complaint of any person, or otherwise.

The state registrar is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this act in every part of the state, and is hereby granted supervisory power over local registrars, deputy local registrars, and subregistrars, to the end that all of its requirements shall be uniformly complied with. The state registrar, either personally or by an accredited representative, shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of law. When the state board of health or its secretary shall deem it necessary, it or he shall report cases of violation of any of the provisions of this act to the prosecuting attorney of the county, with a statement of the facts and circumstances; and when any such case is reported to him by the state board of health or its secretary, the prosecuting attorney shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the person or corporation responsible for the alleged violation of law. And upon request of the state board of health or its secretary, the attorney general shall assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 727.]

TITLE 602a.

WAR.

ACT 4314.

An act to create a state council of defense to make investigations into the effect of the occurrence of war upon the civil and economical life of the people of the state of California; to recommend to the governor measures to provide for the public security, the better protection of public health, a fuller development of the economic resources of the state and the encouragement of military training; to impose upon public officers certain duties in connection herewith; and to make appropriation for the purposes of this act.

[Approved March 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 24. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. State council of defense created. There is hereby created a council, known as the state council of defense to consist of not more than thirty-three members who shall be appointed by the governor, to serve at his pleasure, from among those holding public office under the state of California, from among the personnel of the army and navy of the United States and other branches of the national administration with the consent of federal authority, from members of the staff of the University of California and from qualified citizens of the state and nation.

§ 2. Duties. It shall be the duty of the state council of defense at once to take under consideration the effects of the occurrence of war upon the people of the state of California; to consider measures for public defense and security, for the protection of routes of communication, for the betterment and protection of public health, for the public care and assistance of individuals and classes upon whom the hardships occasioned by war would fall most heavily, for the fuller development of the resources of the state, particularly those from which are derived the supplies of food and other commodities upon which the conduct of war makes especial drain; to encourage the military training of the citizens of the state; to examine into measures to increase the public revenue to meet war demands and to effect the elimination of waste and extravagance; and to consider measures to be taken to meet the exigencies of all situations occasioned by war.

§ 3. Officers. The governor shall be ex-officio chairman of the state council of defense. He shall designate the vice chairman, and shall appoint an executive committee and such subcommittees as he shall deem advisable. He shall have power to employ such assistance and to make such expenditures as he may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this act. He may, when he deems it expedient, dissolve the state council of defense or cause its activities to be suspended or terminated.

§ 4. Compensation. Members of the state council of defense shall serve without pay, but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties hereunder; provided, however, that the vice-chairman shall devote his entire time to the work of the state council of defense and shall receive such compensation as the governor may determine.

§ 5. Headquarters. The headquarters of said council shall be in the state capitol, but the governor may establish branch offices elsewhere and may call meetings to be held at such times and places as he may deem expedient. It shall be the duty of every public officer, board, or commission of the state of California to render to the governor and to the state council of defense, at the request of the governor, all possible assistance and to make such investigations and supply such data as the governor may at any time require.

§ 6. Appropriation. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to carry out the purposes of this act. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants in favor of the governor from time to time in such sums as the governor may designate, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same. This appropriation is hereby exempted from the operation of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code; provided, however, that no liability in excess of one hundred dollars shall be incurred without the approval of the governor; and provided, further, that the state council of defense shall submit to the legislature, through the governor, a report including as full a statement of the activities of the council as is consistent with the public interest, together with an account of the expenditures made by the council, or authorized by it, in as full detail as the public interest will permit.

§ 7. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as the President of the United States has called the congress to meet in special session to consider measures for the national defense and has summoned the national guard of the state of California, it is hereby declared that this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety, and that under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution an urgency exists, and this act shall take effect immediately.

An act to make available for the use of the United States war department suitable places in this state for the public defense, and for that purpose authorizing any county or municipal corporation now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county or municipal corporation, and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation to convey the same to the United States for the use of the war department thereof; conferring on such counties and municipal corporations the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed.

§ 1. Indebtedness to secure land for United States war department authorized. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county or the legislative body of any municipal corporation now or hereafter organized in this state shall consider it desirable or expedient to tender to the United States for the use of the war department thereof, a designated number of acres at such location or locations within any such county or municipal corporation as may be determined upon by the said board of supervisors or legislative body, and such board of supervisors or legislative body shall also determine that it is desirable for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county or municipal corporation and for the interests of the county or municipal corporation to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county or municipal corporation aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated at such location or locations as may have been selected and designated by the said board of supervisors or legislative body and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the war department of the United States for its use, such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its said board of supervisors or legislative body to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county or municipal corporation for such purposes, in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county or municipal corporation, five per cent of the taxable property of the county or municipal corporation, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county or municipal corporation voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election, either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

§ 2. Bonds. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of a county shall be issued in the manner provided for in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code, and payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of municipal corporations shall be issued in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, townships and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," which became a law on February 25, 1901, without the approval of the governor, and the amendments thereto, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said act for the payment of the principal and interest of other bonds issued by any such municipal corporation, and said act, except as herein modified is specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Right of eminent domain granted. The acquisition of land for the use thereof by the war department of the United States and all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county and municipal corporation availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of Title VII, Part III of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

§ 4. Title to conveyed lands. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventeen of section eight of article one of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the state of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county or municipal corporation acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county or municipal corporation, signed by the chairman of said board of supervisors or the chairman of said legislative body and attested by the clerk of such county or municipal corporation under seal, and consent of the state of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed by it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The said board of supervisors or legislative body shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board or legislative body shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

An act to provide for depositing moneys of the Spanish-American war of 1898 account in the state treasury and their method of disbursement.

[Approved May 9, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 514.]

veyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the land so conveyed.

[Approved April 21, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 125. In effect July 22, 1919.]

§ 1. Indebtedness to secure land for United States war department authorized. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county or the legislative body of any municipal corporation now or hereafter organized in this state shall consider it desirable or expedient to tender to the United States for the use of the war department thereof, a designated number of acres at such location or locations within any such county or municipal corporation as may be determined upon by the said board of supervisors or legislative body, and such board of supervisors or legislative body shall also determine that it is desirable for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county or municipal corporation and for the interests of the county or municipal corporation to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county or municipal corporation aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated at such location or locations as may have been selected and designated by the said board of supervisors or legislative body and in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county or municipal corporation, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the war department of the United States for its use, such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its said board of supervisors or legislative body to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county or municipal corporation for such purposes, in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county or municipal corporation, five per cent of the taxable property of the county or municipal corporation, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county or municipal corporation voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election, either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

§ 2. Bonds. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of a county shall be issued in the manner provided for in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code, and payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act. The bonds authorized to be issued under the provisions of this act in the case of municipal corporations shall be issued in the manner provided for in an act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, townships and municipal corporations for municipal improvements, regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," which became a law on February 25, 1901, without the approval of the governor, and the amendments thereto, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said act for the payment of the principal and interest of other bonds issued by any such municipal corporation, and said act, except as herein modified is specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Right of eminent domain granted. The acquisition of land for the use thereof by the war department of the United States and all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county and municipal corporation availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county or municipal corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of Title VII, Part III of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

§ 4. Title to conveyed lands. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventeen of section eight of article one of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the state of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county or municipal corporation acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county or municipal corporation, signed by the chairman of said board of supervisors or the chairman of said legislative body and attested by the clerk of such county or municipal corporation under seal, and consent of the state of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed by it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The said board of supervisors or legislative body shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board or legislative body shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

An act to provide for depositing moneys of the Spanish-American war of 1898 account in the state treasury and their method of disbursement.

[Approved May 9, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 514.]

§ 1. Deposit of moneys of Spanish-American war accounts. The state treasurer is authorized to deposit in the state treasury any and all moneys belonging to the Spanish-American War of 1898 account.

§ 2. Disbursement. The state controller shall draw warrants against said fund and the state treasurer shall pay said warrants, on vouchers presented and approved by the adjutant-general and the governor of the state.

ACT 4316a.

An act to provide for a suitable memorial in the capitol extension buildings in Sacramento for the part taken by residents of California in the world war.

[Approved May 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1139.]

§ 1. Memorial room in capitol extension building. The state building commission as established by the provisions of chapter two hundred thirty-five of the statutes of 1913 is hereby authorized and directed, in completing plans for the capitol extension buildings in the city of Sacramento, to cause to be incorporated in such plans a room, apartment or such other structure or feature as may be deemed an appropriate memorial of the part taken by residents of California in the army and navy of the United States during the great world war, and the victory for world liberty in battles on land and sea and in the air; to perpetuate the memory of those who gave up their lives in the cause of their country, and the services and sacrifices of those who gave of their time and their means in the auxiliary activities of war services, and the noble record made by the people of this state in the moral and material support rendered the state and national government in every way during the war period.

TITLE 603.

WAREHOUSES.

ACT 4320.

An act to make uniform the law of warehouse receipts.

[Approved March 19, 1909. Stats. 1909, p. 437.]

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 398.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 27. Lien on goods for lawful charges. Subject to the provisions of section thirty, a warehouseman shall have a lien on goods deposited by the owner or by the legal possessor of the property or on the proceeds thereof in his hands, for all lawful charges for storage and preservation of the goods; also for all lawful claims for money advanced, interest, insurance, transportation, labor, weighing, cooping and other charges and expenses in relation to such goods; also for all reasonable charges and expenses for notice, and advertisements of sale, and for sale of the goods where default has been made in satisfying the warehouseman's lien. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 398.]

§ 28. Enforcement of lien. Subject to the provisions of section thirty, a warehouseman's lien may be enforced:

(a) Against all goods, whenever deposited, belonging to the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted; and

(b) Against all goods belonging to others which have been deposited at any time by the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted, if such person was in legal possession of the goods when they were deposited. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 398.]

ACT 4321.

An act defining "food commodities" and "food warehouseman"; declaring food warehousemen to be public utilities and subject to control and regulation by the railroad commission as specifically provided; prohibiting the storage of food commodities except in accordance with the provisions of this act; making unlawful certain discriminating and monopolizing practices by food warehousemen and those dealing with food warehousemen, except as provided by the railroad commission; requiring food warehousemen to file schedules showing certain rates, charges, and other matters with the railroad commission and to keep the same open to public inspection, and providing for the uniform operation of such rates and charges, and prohibiting the business of storing food commodities unless such schedules are filed and made public, and empowering the railroad commission to fix the rates, charges, rules and regulations of food warehousemen, to change the form of such schedules and forbidding, except as otherwise ordered by the railroad commission, changes in or departures from such schedules except on certain conditions, and forbidding acceptance of rates or charges differing from the rates or charges in such schedules by those dealing with food warehousemen, subject to exceptions by the railroad commission; declaring certain contracts illegal and void and forbidding recovery thereon; providing for applications and complaints and other procedure before the railroad commission and the courts in matters wherein authority is conferred by this act upon the commission; defining the duties of the attorney general upon the violation of certain provisions; providing for actions to enjoin violations of certain provisions and to recover damages for such violations; making the violation of certain provisions a misdemeanor; and providing penalties; and declaring the purpose and effect of this act.

§ 1. Title. "Food commodities." This act shall be known as the "food warehousemen act," and shall apply to the public utilities herein described. The term "food commodities" as used in this act shall be construed to mean all products, stuffs, preparations, substances, or articles which are customary or proper for food for human beings, and shall include meat and meat products, fruit, vegetables, fresh fish, shellfish, game, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese and milk.

§ 2. Definitions of terms. The term "commission" when used in this act means the railroad commission of the state of California. The term "commissioner" when used in this act means one of the members of the commission. The term "corporation" when used in this act, includes a corporation, a company, an association and a joint stock association. The term "person" when used in this act, includes an individual, a firm and a copartnership. The term "food warehouseman" as used in this act shall be construed to mean and shall include every person, or corporation, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever owning, controlling, operating, or managing any building, structure, warehouse, elevator or plant in which food commodities, regularly received from the public generally, are stored for compensation, including cold-storage plants and refrigerating plants, but not including private homes, hotels, restaurants or exclusively retail establishments or others not storing articles of food for other persons for compensation. Every person, or corporation controlling, operating, or managing any building, structure, warehouse, elevator, or plant as aforesaid, shall be deemed to be engaged in the storage of food commodities within the meaning of this act.

§ 3. Food warehouses declared public utilities. Every food warehouseman doing business in the state of California is hereby declared to be a public utility, and subject to the jurisdiction, control and regulation of the railroad commission of the state of California as hereinafter in this act provided.

No food warehousemen shall engage in the storage of food commodities in the state of California, except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Discrimination by warehousemen unlawful. Power of commission. It shall be unlawful for any food warehouseman, doing business in the state of California, to discriminate, attempt to discriminate between persons, firms or corporations offering food commodities for storage or desiring to avail themselves of the warehousing or storage facilities afforded by such food warehouseman; or to accept food commodities from any person, firm or corporation at rates or charges in excess of rates or charges exacted or received from other persons, firms or corporations for the same or substantially similar warehousing or storage service; or to grant, allow, or deduct from the rates or charges exacted or received for warehousing or storage service from any person, firm or corporation any rebate, discount, deduction, concession, refund, or remittance not granted and allowed to all other persons, firms, or corporations under the same or substantially similar circumstances and conditions; or to make or give, or attempt to make or give, any preference or advantage to any person, firm or corporation not made or given to every other person, firm or corporation; or by any scheme of rebates, discounts, deductions, concessions, refunds, remittances, collateral contracts, discriminating charges, discriminating rates, or in the service or facilities afforded, or by any other device whatsoever, discriminate or show preference, or attempt to discriminate or show preference, between persons, firms, or corporations offering food commodities for storage; or by any of the practices or devices aforesaid to monopolize, or attempt to monopolize, or combine, or conspire with others to monopolize in any locality the business of storing food commodities; and it shall likewise be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to solicit, accept, receive or attempt to obtain from any food warehouseman any rebate, discount, deduction, concession, refund, or remittance, or to solicit, accept, receive or attempt to obtain from any food warehouseman, any preference, or advantage, either in rates or charges, or in service or facilities afforded

The railroad commission shall have full power to determine any fact or question arising under this section and is empowered after hearing by appropriate order to enforce the provisions thereof, and may by rule or order establish from time to time such exceptions from the operation of the prohibitions of this section as it may consider just and reasonable.

§ 5. Schedule of rates to be filed. Permission of commission to change. Refunds prohibited. Power of commission. Every food warehouseman doing business in the state of California shall file with the railroad commission within such time and in such form as the commission may designate and shall also print and keep open to public inspection at each and every building, structure, warehouse, elevator, or plant for the storing or warehousing of food commodities maintained by him in said state, schedules showing all rates and charges, which are in force for warehousing and storage services of every description, including sorting, handling, weighing, elevating, and packing charges, and all charges directly or indirectly connected with such services, together with all rules and regulations which in any manner affect or relate to rates or charges, and showing plainly when the same became effective, such rates to be uniform in their operation and to apply with equal force and effect to all persons, firms or corporations dealing with said food warehouseman. The railroad commission shall have power after hearing to fix and determine any such rate, charge, rule or regulation, and prescribe by order such changes in the form of the schedules referred to in this section as it may find to be just and reasonable. Unless the commission otherwise orders, no change shall be made by any food warehouseman in any rate or charge, or in any rules or regulations affecting rates or charges, except by permission of the railroad commission after thirty days' notice to the commission and to the public as herein provided. Such notice shall be given by filing with the commission and keeping open to public inspection, as aforesaid, new schedules stating plainly the change or changes to be made in the schedule or schedules then in force, and the time when the change or changes go into effect. The commission, for good cause shown, may allow changes without requiring the thirty days' notice herein provided for, by an order specifying the changes so to be made and the time when they shall take effect, and the manner in which they shall be filed and published. No food warehouseman shall engage in the business of storing food commodities unless the rates and charges upon which the same are stored are filed and open to public inspection as aforesaid. No food warehouseman shall refund or remit in any manner or by any device, any portion of the rates or charges filed and open to public inspection as aforesaid, or demand, collect, or receive, directly or indirectly from any person, firm or corporation, any different sum for warehousing or storage services than the rates and charges filed and open to public inspection as aforesaid, or directly or indirectly make any charge for such services not shown by the schedule aforesaid; nor shall any person, firm, or corporation solicit, accept, receive, or attempt to obtain from any food warehouseman any rate or charge not filed and open to public inspection as aforesaid.

The railroad commission shall have full power and jurisdiction to determine any fact or question arising under this section and is hereby empowered after hearing by appropriate order to enforce the provisions thereof and may by rule or order establish from time to time such exceptions from the operation of the prohibitions aforesaid, as it may consider just and reasonable.

§ 6. Contracts in violation void. Every contract, expressed or implied, made by any person, firm or corporation in violation of the provisions of section four or section five of this act, is declared to be illegal and to be utterly void and no recovery thereon shall be had.

§ 7. Procedure as specified in public utilities act. In all respects in which the railroad commission has power and authority under the provisions of section four or section five of this act, applications and complaints on the commissions on motion or otherwise may be made and filed with the railroad commission, process issued, hearings held, opinions, orders and decisions made and filed, petitions for rehearing filed and acted upon, and petitions for writs of review or mandate filed with the supreme court of the state of California, considered and disposed of by said court, in the manner, under the conditions and subject to the limitations and with the effect specified in the public utilities act.

§ 8. Action by attorney general to collect rebates, etc. The attorney general of the state of California is authorized and directed, whenever he has reasonable grounds to believe that any person, firm or corporation has knowingly accepted or received from any food warehouseman, directly or indirectly, any rebate, discount, deduction, concession, refund or remittance from the rates or charges filed and open to public inspection as in section five of this act required, to prosecute a civil action in the name of the people of the state of California in the proper court to collect three times the total sum of such rebates, discounts, deductions, concessions, refunds, or remittances so accepted or received within three years prior to the commencement of such action.

§ 9. Action to enjoin violations. Any person, firm or corporation may maintain an action to enjoin a continuance of any act or acts in violation of section four or section five of this act, or of any order, rule or regulation of the railroad commission made or enacted by said commission pursuant to the power and authority vested in said commission by said sections of this act, and, if injured thereby, for the recovery of damages in an amount equal to three times the amount of actual damages sustained. If in such action, the court shall find that the defendant is violating section four or section five of this act, or any order, rule, or regulation of the railroad commission, made or enacted by said commission pursuant to the power and authority vested in said commission by said sections of this act, it shall enjoin the defendant from a continuance of such violation, and it shall not be necessary to allege or prove actual damage to plaintiff in addition thereto.

§ 10. Penalty. Any person or persons, or corporation, who, or which shall violate section four or section five of this act, or any order, rule, or regulation of the railroad commission made or enacted by said com mission pursuant to the power and authority vested in said commission by said sections of this act, or who shall procure, aid or abet any person, firm or corporation in any such violation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall, if a person, be punished by a fine of not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment, and, if a corporation, by a fine not exceeding three thousand dollars. In construing and enforcing the provisions of this act, the act, omission, or failure of any director, agent, employee, or other person acting for or employed by any person, firm or corporation, acting within the scope of his employment, shall in every case be also deemed to be the act, omission or failure of such person, firm, or corporation as well as that of such director, officer, agent, employee, or person.

§ 11. Constitutionality. If any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 12. Purpose of act. The legislature hereby declares that the purpose of this act is to safeguard the public against the creation and perpetuation of monopolies, and to foster and encourage competition, by prohibiting unfair and discriminating practices by which fair and honest competition is destroyed. The legislature hereby further declares that food warehousemen, as defined in section two of this act, are engaged in a business, tending to monopoly, and that by reason of such monopolistic tendency and by reason of its vital connection with the distribution of public necessities, such business is clothed with a public interest and subject to public regulation and control for the public welfare as a public utility, as in this act provided. This act shall be liberally construed that its beneficial purpose may be subserved. The remedies herein prescribed are cumulative. If any conflict shall arise between this act and the public utilities act, the latter shall prevail.

TITLE 607.

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

ACT 4340.

An act to regulate the use of water which is subject to such control by the state of California, and in that behalf creating a state water commission; specifying and providing for the appointment of the members of said commissions; fixing the terms of office and compensation of the members of said commission; fixing the powers, duties and authority of said commission and its members; providing for the filling of vacancies in the membership of said commission; providing for the removal from office of the appointed members of said commission; providing for the co-operation of courts with said commission; providing that certain courts shall take judicial notice of certain acts of the state water commission; specifying the duties of all persons summoned as witnesses before said commission or any of its members; appropriating money for carrying out the provisions of this act; providing for the payment of the indebtedness and expenses of said commission, its members and employees; declaring what water is unappropriated; providing for the utilization of water and the works necessary to such utilization to the full capacity of streams or of such portion or portions of such capacity as the public good may require, declaring what water may be appropriated; declaring that the nonapplication for ten consecutive years of any portion of the waters of any stream to lands riparian to such stream shall be conclusive presumption that the use of such nonapplied water is not needed on said riparian lands for a useful or beneficial purpose; declaring that such nonapplied water shall be deemed to be in the use of the state and subject to appropriation; declaring the duties of those who desire to appropriate water; declaring the periods for which water may be appropriated and the conditions under which water may be appropriated; providing for the payment of fees and charges by the applicants for permission to appropriate water and by the appropriators of water; providing for the ascertainment and adjudication of water rights; providing for the bringing of actions by certain persons, or, upon the direction of the state water commission, by the attorney general, for the quieting of title to water rights; specifying certain duties of the claimants, possessors or users of water or water rights; declaring water rights forfeited under certain conditions; regulating the appropriation of water; excepting cities, cities and counties, municipal water districts, irrigation districts and lighting districts from certain provisions of this act; defining certain words and terms used in this act; repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act; declaring how this act shall be known; making legislative declaration concerning those parts of this act which may not be declared unconstitutional.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Water commission created. Qualifications. Salaries. Pro tempore commissioners. Duty of executive member. Appeal from order of commission. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act a state water commission consisting of five persons is hereby created and established. Two members of said commission shall be, ex officio, the governor of the state and the state engineer, respectively. Three members of said commission, one of whom shall be the executive member and the other two shall be associate members, shall be appointed by the governor for the term of four years; provided, however, that the members first appointed shall be appointed to hold office for the unexpired term of the members in office at the time this amendatory act takes effect. Such appointive commissioners shall be men of practical knowledge or experience in the application and use of waters for irrigation, mining and municipal purposes, and shall be so appointed that at least one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for agricultural purposes, and one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for mining purposes, and one thereof shall have had practical knowledge and experience in the use of water for municipal purposes. The executive member shall be president of the commission. The executive member of said commission shall receive as compensation for his services the sum of five thousand dollars per annum. Each of the associate members of said commission shall receive as compensation for his services fifteen dollars per day while actually engaged in the duties of his office. All members of the commission shall receive their actual and necessary traveling expenses. No commissioner who is directly or indirectly interested in any matter before the commission shall sit with the commission during the hearing of such matter; nor shall he be detailed by the commission to investigate or report on any such matter; nor shall he take part in any determination of any such matter. But the governor shall have the power and authority, upon request of the commission, to appoint pro tempore some disinterested person to sit and act in the place and stead of such interested commissioner. Such pro tempore commissioner shall have compensation for the time of service equal to the compensation of a commissioner during such service and shall have the power and authority of the same, only in the matter for the investigation and determination of which he shall have been appointed and his connection with the commission shall cease and determine upon the completion of the investigation and determination for which he was appointed. But the commissioner in whose place and stead he sits shall have power, compensation and authority in all other cases. It shall be the duty of the executive member of said commission to consider and act upon all applications for permits to appropriate water under the provisions of the water commission act and to do all things required or proper relating to such applications and his acts and orders in such matters shall be deemed the acts and orders of said commission; provided, however, that any person, firm, association, or corporation interested in any such application may appeal from any order of said executive member granting or refusing to grant a permit or a license to appropriate by filing with said commission a notice of appeal within thirty days after notice of such order is given as provided in the water commission act. Such notice of appeal shall be sufficient if it sets forth or refers to with reasonable certainty the order appealed from and the grounds of dissatisfaction therewith. Upon the filing of notice of appeal the said water commission shall review all papers and proceedings in the matter in which the order appealed from was made, take such additional evidence as it may deem proper, and enter its order in such matter affirming, reversing, or modifying in any way the order of said executive member. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1193.]

§ 11. Water declared unappropriated. Public waters. When action for condemnation is pending. Reservoirs may constitute single system. All water or the use of water which has never been appropriated, or which has been heretofore appropriated and which has not been in process, from the date of the initial act of appropriation, of being put, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the work necessary properly to utilize for the purpose of such appropriation such water or the use of water, or which has not been put, or which has ceased to be put to some useful or beneficial purpose, or which may hereafter be appropriated and ceased to be put, to the useful or beneficial purpose for which it was appropriated, or which in the future may be appropriated and not be, in the process of being put, from the date of the initial act of appropriation, to the useful or beneficial purpose for which it was appropriated, with due diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the work necessary properly to utilize for the purpose of such appropriation such water or the use of water, is hereby declared to be unappropriated. And all waters flowing in any river, stream, canyon, ravine or other natural channel, excepting so far as such waters have been or are being applied to useful and beneficial purposes upon, or in so far as such waters are or may be reasonably needed for useful, and beneficial purposes upon lands riparian thereto, or otherwise appropriated, is and are hereby declared to be public waters of the state of California and subject to appropriation in accordance with the provisions of this act. If any portion of the waters of any stream shall not be put to a useful or beneficial purpose to or upon lands riparian to such stream for any continuous period of ten consecutive years after the passage of this act, such nonapplication shall be deemed to be conclusive presumption that the use of such portions of the waters of such stream is not needed upon said riparian lands for any useful or beneficial purpose; and such portion of the waters of any stream so not applied, unless otherwise appropriated for a useful and beneficial purpose is hereby declared to be in the use of the state and subject to appropriation in accordance with the provisions of this act; provided, however, that where there is pending any action or proceeding to condemn any lands riparian to any stream or any rights, powers or privileges to use the waters of any stream upon lands riparian to such stream or to condemn rights essential to use the waters of any stream which action or proceeding was commenced prior to the sixteenth day of June, 1913, said period of ten consecutive years shall be exclusive of the period of time during which such action or proceeding is pending. In any case where a reservoir or reservoirs have been or shall hereafter under the provisions of this act be constructed or surveyed, laid out and proposed to be constructed for the storage of water for a system, which water is to be used at one or more points under appropriations of water heretofore or hereafter made, which appropriations and rights thereunder are now, or shall hereafter be held and owned by the person or corporation owning such reservoir site or sites and constructing such reservoir or reservoirs, such reservoir or reservoirs and appropriations and rights shall, in the discretion of the state water commissioner, constitute a single enterprise and unit, and work of constructing such reservoir or reservoirs, or any of them, or work on any one of such appropriations shall, in the discretion of said commissioner, be sufficient to maintain and preserve all such applications for appropriations and rights thereunder. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 513.]

§ 15. Use of unappropriated water. The state water commissioner shall allow, under the provisions of this act, the appropriation for beneficial purposes of unappropriated water unless, in the opinion of the said commission, such appropriation would be detrimental to the public welfare. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 194.]

§ 15a. Appropriation of water for use in another state. The state water commission shall allow the appropriation of water in this state for beneficial use in another state only when, under the laws of the latter, water may be lawfully diverted therein for beneficial use in the state of California. Upon any stream flowing across the state boundary a right of appropriation having the point of diversion and the place of use in another state and recognized by the laws of that state, shall have the same force and effect as if the point of diversion and the place of use were in this state; provided, that the laws of that state give like force and effect to similar rights acquired in this state; provided, that nothing in this act be so construed as to apply to interstate lakes, or streams flowing in or out of such lakes. [New section added May 7, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 284.]

§ 20. Terms and conditions of permits and licenses. City, etc., may purchase works. Determination of price. Grounds for revoking license. Findings of commission prima facie correct. Conditions of accepting permit. Cities first in right. City may become public utility. All permits and licenses for the appropriation of water shall be under the terms and conditions of this act, and shall be effective for such time as the water actually appropriated under such permits and licenses shall actually be used for the useful and beneficial purpose for which said water was appropriated, but no longer; and every such permit or license shall include the enumeration of conditions therein which in substance shall include all of the provisions of this section and likewise the statement that any appropriator of water, to whom said permit or license may be issued, shall take the same subject to such conditions as therein expressed; provided, that at any time after the expiration of twenty years after the granting of a license, the state or any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district, or any political subdivision of the state shall have the right to purchase the works and property occupied and used under said license and the works built or constructed for the enjoyment of the rights granted under said license; and in the event that the said state, city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district or political subdivision of the state so desiring to purchase and the said owner of said works and property cannot agree upon said purchase price, said price shall be determined in such manner as is now or may hereafter be determined in eminent domain proceedings. If it shall appear to the state water commission at any time after a permit or license is issued as in this act provided that the permittee, or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns, of said permittee or licensee, has not put the water granted under said permit or license to the useful or beneficial purpose for which the permit or license was granted, or that the permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors, or assigns of said permittee or licensee, has ceased to put said water to such useful or beneficial purpose, or that the permittee or licensee, or the heirs, successors or assigns of said permittee or licensee, has failed to observe any of the terms and conditions in the permit or license as issued, then and in that case the said commission, after due notice to the permittee, licensee, or the heirs, successors or assigns of such permittee or licensee, and a hearing thereon, may revoke said permit or license and declare the water to be unappropriated and open to further appropriation in accordance with the terms of this act. The findings and declaration of said commission shall be deemed to be prima facie correct until modified or set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction; provided, that any action brought so to modify or set aside such finding or declaration must be commenced within thirty days after the service of notice of said revocation on said permittee or licensee, his heirs, successors or assigns. And every licensee or permittee under the provisions of this act if he accepts such permit or license shall accept the same under the conditions precedent that no value whatsoever in excess of the actual amount paid to the state therefor shall at any time be assigned to or claimed for any permit or license granted or issued under the provisions of this act, or for any rights granted or acquired under the provisions of this act, in respect to the regulation by any competent public authority of the services or the price of the services to be rendered by any permittee or licensee, his heirs, successors or assigns or by the holder of any rights granted or acquired under the provisions of this act, or in respect to any valuation for purposes of sale to or purchase, whether through condemnation proceedings or otherwise, by the state or any city, city and county, municipal water district, irrigation district, lighting district or any political subdivision of the state, of the rights and property of any permittee or licensee, or the possessor of any rights granted, issued, or acquired under the provisions of this act. The application for a permit by municipalities for the use of water for said municipalities or the inhabitants thereof for domestic purposes shall be considered first in right, irrespective of whether they are first in time; provided, however, that such application for a permit or the granting thereafter of permission to any municipality to appropriate waters, shall not authorize the appropriation of any water for other than municipal purposes; and providing, further, that where permission to appropriate is granted by the state water commission to any municipality for any quantity of water in excess of the existing municipal needs therefor, that pending the application of the entire appropriation permitted, the state water commission shall have the power to issue permits for the temporary appropriation of the excess of such permitted appropriation over and above the quantity being applied from time to time by such municipality; and providing further, that in lieu of the granting of such temporary permits for appropriation, the state water commission may authorize such municipality to become as to such surplus a public utility, subject to the jurisdiction and control of the railroad commission of the state of California for such period or periods from and after the date of the issuance of such permission to appropriate, as may be allowed for the application to municipal uses of the entire appropriation permitted; and provided, further, that when such municipality shall desire to use the additional water granted in its said application it may do so upon making just compensation for the facilities for taking, conveying and storing such additional water rendered valueless for said purposes, to the person, firm or corporation which constructed said facilities for the temporary use of said excess waters, and which compensation, if not agreed upon between the municipality and said person, firm or corporation, may be determined in the manner provided by law for determining the value of property taken by and through eminent domain proceedings. [Amendment approved May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 746.]

§ 20a. Water not used for three years. When the party entitled to the use of water fails to beneficially use all or any part of the water claimed by him, for which a right of use has vested, for the purpose for which it was appropriated or adjudicated, for a period of three years, such unused water shall revert to the public and shall be regarded as unappropriated public water. [New section added May 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 746.]

§ 23. Fee. For electrical power. For agricultural purposes. Every person, firm, association or corporation making application for a permit to appropriate water or the use of water under this act shall pay to the state water commission, at the time of filing said application, a filing fee in the sum of five dollars, and, upon the issue of a permit, the additional fee, if the purpose or use is for the generation of electricity or electrical or other power, of ten cents for each theoretical horse-power capable of being developed by the works up to and including one hundred theoretical horse-power, of five cents for each horse-power in excess of one hundred theoretical horse-power up to and including one thousand theoretical horse-power, and of one cent for each theoretical horse-power in excess of one thousand theoretical horse-power; also, if for agricultural purposes, of five cents for each acre of land to be irrigated by means of said appropriation to and including one hundred acres, of three cents per acre for each acre in excess of one hundred acres up to and including one thousand acres, and of two cents for each acre over one thousand acres. All fees shall forthwith be paid into the state treasury by the state water commission. No fee shall be required from any person, firm, association, or corporation exempt by any law of the state of California from the payment of such fee. [Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 195.]

§ 24. Water commission may act as referee. In case suit is brought in the superior court for determination of rights to water or the use of water, the case may, in the discretion of the court, be transferred to the state water commission for investigation, as referee. [Amendment Approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

§ 25. Determination of water rights by commission. Upon its own initiative or upon petition signed by one or more claimants to water or the use of water upon any stream, stream system, lake, or other body of water, all of which sources of supply are hereinafter referred to as "stream system," requesting the determination of rights, based upon prior appropriation, of the various claimants to the water of that stream system, it shall be the duty of the state water commission, if, upon investigation, it finds the facts and conditions are such as to justify, to enter an order granting said petition and to make proper arrangements to proceed with such determination. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

§ 26. Notice of order. Publication. As soon as practicable after the state water commission shall make and enter the order granting the said

mission, after due notice to the permittee, licensee or assigns of such permittee or licensee, prepare a notice setting aside the pendency of the permit or license and declare the pendency of the permit and open to further appropriation in the stream system. The commission shall begin this act. The findings and declarations of the commission shall be deemed to be prima facie correct until reversed, as in this act provided, of competent jurisdiction; provided, the findings shall be published for a period of set aside such finding or declaration in any part of said stream system licensee, his heirs, successors or assigns, in any newspaper of general circulation, May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

under the provisions of this act, the state water commission shall begin accept the same under the stream system, etc. Surveys and maps ever in excess of the act, the state water commission shall begin any time be assigned to the stream system and of the conduits issued under the provisions of the lands irrigated or irrigable therefrom, and required under the provisions of the data and information as may be essential to the any competent public of the water rights by appropriation. It shall require the rendering of data, information and measurements to writing, assigns or by the surveys and shall prepare maps from the observations of this act in accordance with such uniform rules and regulations or purchase, which surveys and maps shall show with substantial the state of the stream or streams; the location of each condition distribution water therefrom, land irrigated and capable of being irrigated of the river, conduit, and the kind of culture upon the irrigated land of any shall be prepared as the surveys and observations progress, act. completed, it shall be filed and made of record in the office for the state water commission. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 20. Notice of time for filing proofs. Publication. Upon the completion of such measurements and maps, and the filing of said observations, the state water commission shall prepare a notice setting forth the date, prior to which the proofs, to be furnished by claimants upon forms supplied by the state water commission and more specifically referred to in the next section hereof, as to the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, shall be filed; provided, however, that the date set, prior to which said proofs must be filed, shall not be less than sixty days from the date of the last publication of said notice as hereinafter provided. The notice shall be deemed to be an order of the state water commission as to its contents, and it shall be published by the state water commission for a period of four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in each county in which any part of said stream system is situated. At or near the time of the first publication of said notice it shall be the duty of the state water commission to send by registered mail to each claimant to rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, in so far as such claimant can be reasonably ascertained at his last known place of address, a notice equivalent in terms to the said published notice. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 29. Forms to be sent claimant. The state water commission shall, in addition, inclose with the notice to be mailed as aforesaid, blank

compliance with the law in acquiring the same, as may be required by the state water commission. Each claimant shall be required to certify to his statements, under oath. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917;
Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 30. Determination of right on failure to make proof. After the date fixed for the filing of proofs, no proofs shall be received or filed with the state water commission; provided, however, that the state water commission may, for cause shown, in its discretion, extend the time in which proofs may be filed. Upon neglect or refusal of any person to make proof of his claim to rights by appropriation of the waters of such stream system, as required by this act, prior to the expiration of the period fixed by the state water commission, during which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall determine the right by appropriation of such person on such evidence as it may obtain or may have on file in its office in the way of maps, plats, surveys and transcripts; and exceptions to such determination may be filed in court as hereinafter provided. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 233.]

§ 31. Petition to intervene in proceedings. Any claimant of a right by appropriation of the water of any stream system upon whom no service of notice shall have been had of the pendency of proceedings for the determination of the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, and who shall have had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings, may at any time prior to the expiration of three months after the entry of the determination of the state water commission, as provided in section thirteen of this act, file a petition to intervene in said proceedings. Such petition shall be under oath and shall contain, among other things, all matters required by this act of claimants who have been duly served with notice of said proceedings, and also a statement that the intervener had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings. Upon the filing of said petition in intervention, the petitioner shall be allowed to intervene and petition or selecting the stream system upon which the determination of water rights by appropriation is to begin, it shall prepare a notice setting forth the fact of the entry of said order and of the pendency of the said proceedings, the date when the state water commission shall begin said examination, and that all claimants to rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system are required, as in this act provided, to make proof of their claims. The notice shall be published for a period of four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in each county in which any part of said stream system is situated. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 231.]

§ 27. Investigation of flow of stream system, etc. Surveys and maps. At the time set in said notice, the state water commission shall begin an investigation of the flow of the stream system and of the conduits diverting water, and of the lands irrigated or irrigable therefrom, and shall gather such other data and information as may be essential to the proper determination of the water rights by appropriation. It shall reduce its observations, data, information and measurements to writing. It shall execute surveys and shall prepare maps from the observations of such surveys in accordance with such uniform rules and regulations as it may adopt; which surveys and maps shall show with substantial accuracy the course of the stream or streams; the location of each conduit diverting water therefrom, land irrigated and capable of being irrigated by each conduit, and the kind of culture upon the irrigated land. The maps shall be prepared as the surveys and observations progress, and, when completed, it shall be filed and made of record in the office of the state water commission. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 28. Notice of time for filing proofs. Publication. Upon the completion of such measurements and maps, and the filing of said observations, data, information and measurements, the state water commission shall prepare a notice setting forth the date, prior to which the proofs, to be furnished by claimants upon forms supplied by the state water commission and more specifically referred to in the next section hereof, as to the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, shall be filed; provided, however, that the date set, prior to which said proofs must be filed, shall not be less than sixty days from the date of the last publication of said notice as hereinafter provided. The notice shall be deemed to be an order of the state water commission as to its contents, and it shall be published by the state water commission for a period of four consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in each county in which any part of said stream system is situated. At or near the time of the first publication of said notice it shall be the duty of the state water commission to send by registered mail to each claimant to rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, in so far as such claimant can be reasonably ascertained at his last known place of address, a notice equivalent in terms to the said published notice. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 29. Forms to be sent claimant. The state water commission shall, in addition, inclose with the notice to be mailed as aforesaid, blank

forms, proofs of appropriation, upon which said claimant shall present in writing all particulars necessary for the determination of his right by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, the said statement to include the following:

- (a) The name and postoffice address of the claimant.
- (b) The nature of the right or use on which the claim for appropriation is based.
- (c) The date of the initiation of such right and a description of works of diversion and distribution.
- (d) The date of beginning of construction.
- (e) The date when completed.
- (f) The dates of beginning and completion of enlargements.
- (g) The dimensions of the ditch as originally constructed and enlarged.
- (h) The date when water was first used for irrigation or other beneficial purposes, and if used for irrigation, the amount of land irrigated the first year, the amount in subsequent years, with the dates of irrigation and the area and the location of the lands which are intended to be irrigated.
- (i) The character of the soil and the kind of crops cultivated, and such other facts as will show the extent and nature of the right and a compliance with the law in acquiring the same, as may be required by the state water commission. Each claimant shall be required to certify to his statements, under oath. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 232.]

§ 30. Determination of right on failure to make proof. After the date fixed for the filing of proofs, no proofs shall be received or filed with the state water commission; provided, however, that the state water commission may, for cause shown, in its discretion, extend the time in which proofs may be filed. Upon neglect or refusal of any person to make proof of his claim to rights by appropriation of the waters of such stream system, as required by this act, prior to the expiration of the period fixed by the state water commission, during which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall determine the right by appropriation of such person on such evidence as it may obtain or may have on file in its office in the way of maps, plats, surveys and transcripts; and exceptions to such determination may be filed in court as herein-after provided. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 233.]

§ 31. Petition to intervene in proceedings. Any claimant of a right by appropriation of the water of any stream system upon whom no service of notice shall have been had of the pendency of proceedings for the determination of the rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream system, and who shall have had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings, may at any time prior to the expiration of three months after the entry of the determination of the state water commission, as provided in section thirteen of this act, file a petition to intervene in said proceedings. Such petition shall be under oath and shall contain, among other things, all matters required by this act of claimants who have been duly served with notice of said proceedings, and also a statement that the intervener had no actual knowledge or notice of the pendency of said proceedings. Upon the filing of said petition in intervention, the petitioner shall be allowed to intervene and thereafter shall have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of the claimants who have been duly served. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 233.]

§ 32. Fees collected from claimants. At the time of submission of proof of appropriation, the state water commission shall collect from such claimants, on the basis of the statements in the proofs, a fee of fifteen cents for each acre of irrigated or irrigable lands up to and including one hundred acres, ten cents for each acre in excess of one hundred acres and up to and including one thousand acres, and five cents per acre for each acre in excess of one thousand acres; also twenty-five cents for each theoretical horse-power up to and including one hundred horse-power, fifteen cents for each theoretical horse-power in excess of one hundred horse-power and up to and including one thousand horse-power, and five cents for each theoretical horse-power in excess of one thousand horse-power; also five (5) dollars for each cubic foot per second, or fraction thereof, claimed for any purpose other than irrigation or power; the minimum fee, however, for any claimant to be five (5) dollars. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each month, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

§ 33. Printed abstract of proofs. Inspection. As soon as practicable after the expiration of the period fixed in which proofs may be filed, the state water commission shall assemble all proofs which have been filed, and prepare and certify an abstract of all of the said proofs, which shall be printed in the state printing office. As soon as practicable the state water commission shall prepare a notice fixing and setting a time and place, reasonably convenient to the claimants, when and where the evidence taken by or filed with it shall be open to the inspection of all interested persons, said period of inspection to be not less than ten (10) days, which notice shall be deemed to be an order of the state water commission as to the matters contained therein. A copy of said notice, together with a printed copy of the said abstract of proofs, shall be sent by registered mail, at least fifteen (15) days prior to the first day of such period of inspection, to each claimant who has appeared and filed proof as herein provided. A representative of the state water commission shall be present at the time and place designated in said notice, and allow, during said period, any person interested to inspect such evidence and proofs as have been filed in accordance with this act. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

§ 34. Contest of statements and proofs of claims. Should any claimant desire to contest any of the statements and proofs of claims filed with the state water commission by any other claimant to the waters of the stream system, he shall, within fifteen (15) days after said evidence and proofs shall have been opened to public inspection, or within such further time as for good cause shown may be allowed by the state water commission upon application made prior to the expiration of said fifteen (15) days, in writing, notify the state water commission, stating with reasonable certainty the grounds of the proposed contest, which statement shall be verified by the affidavit of the contestant, his agent or attorney. The statements or proofs of the person whose rights are contested and the verified statement of the contestant shall be deemed sufficient to constitute a proper cause for such contest. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 234.]

§ 35. Hearing of contest. Costs. Within ten (10) days after the receipt of the notice of contest the state water commission shall notify by registered mail the contestant and the claimant whose rights are contested to appear before it at a time and place specified in said notice, and that at said time and place said contest will be heard; provided, that said time shall not be less than fifteen (15) days nor more than sixty (60) days from the date of the mailing of the notice of the commission. The state water commission shall have power to adjourn hearings of contests from time to time upon reasonable notice to all parties in interest, and to issue subpoenas for and compel the attendance of witnesses to testify before it and to produce papers, books, maps, and other documents. The costs of taking testimony at a hearing shall be borne by the parties thereto as follows: each party shall pay for the direct examination of his own witness and the cross-examination of opponent's witness and shall share equally for that part of the examination directed by the representative of the commission. One copy of the transcript of testimony taken at the hearing shall be furnished to the commission and the cost thereof borne equally by the parties. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 235.]

§ 36. Order of determination. As soon as practicable after the hearing of contests, it shall be the duty of the state water commission to make, and cause to be entered of record in its office, an order determining and establishing the several rights by appropriation of the waters of said stream; provided, however, that within sixty (60) days after the entry of an order establishing water rights, the state water commission may, for good cause shown, reopen the proceedings and grant a rehearing. Such order and determination shall be prepared, and after certification by the state water commission, printed in the state printing office. A copy of said order of determination shall be sent by registered mail to each person who has filed proof of claim, and to each person who has become interested through intervention or as a contestant under the provisions of section eight or section eleven of this act. [Amendment approved May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 235.]

§ 36a. Filing of order, etc., with clerk of superior court. Order setting time for hearing. As soon as practicable, after the entry of the order of determination, a certified copy thereof, together with the original evidence and transcript of testimony filed with, or taken before the state water commission, as aforesaid, duly certified by it, shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said stream system, or any part thereof, is situated. Upon the filing of the certified copy of said order, evidence, and transcript with the clerk of the court in which the proceedings are to be had, the state water commission shall procure an order from said court setting a time for hearing. The clerk of such court shall immediately furnish the state water commission with a certified copy of said order. It shall be the duty of the state water commission immediately thereupon to mail a copy of such certified order of the court, by registered mail, addressed to each known party in interest at his last known place of residence, and to cause the same to be published at least once a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which such stream system or any part thereof is located, and the state water commission shall file with the clerk of the court proof of such service by registered mail and by publication. Such service by registered mail and by publication shall be deemed full and sufficient notice to all parties in interest of the date and purpose of such hearing. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36b. Filing of notice of exceptions. Decree affirming order. Hearing of exceptions. When state a party. At least ten days prior to the day set for hearing, all parties in interest who are aggrieved or dissatisfied with the order of determination of the state water commission shall file with the clerk of said court notice of exceptions to the order of determination of the state water commission, which notice shall state briefly the exceptions taken, the reasons therefor, and the prayer for relief, and a copy thereof shall be transmitted by registered mail at least ten (10) days prior to such hearing, to the state water commission and to each claimant, who was an adverse party to any contest wherein such exceptor was a party in the proceedings. The order of determination by the state water commission and the statements or claims of claimants and exceptions made to the order of determination shall constitute the pleadings but the court may allow such additional or amended pleadings as may be necessary to a final determination of the proceeding. If no exceptions shall have been filed with the clerk of the court as aforesaid, then on the day set for the hearing, on motion of the state water commission, or its attorney, the court shall enter a decree affirming said order of determination. On the day set for hearing all parties in interest who have filed notices of exceptions as aforesaid shall appear in person, or by counsel, and it shall be the duty of the court to hear the same or set the time for hearing, until such exceptions are disposed of, and all proceedings thereunder shall be as nearly as may be in accordance with the rules governing civil actions. Whenever in the judgment of the court the state is a necessary party to the action, the court shall make an order to that effect and thereupon a copy of all pleadings and proceedings on file with the court in said matter shall be served upon the attorney general who shall represent the state therein. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36c. Decree determining right of all persons involved. Appeals. For further information on any subject in controversy, the court may employ one or more qualified persons to investigate and report thereon under oath, subject to examination by any party in interest as to his competency to give expert testimony thereon. The court may take additional evidence on any issue and may, if necessary, refer the case for such further evidence to be taken by the state water commission as it may direct, and may require a further determination by it. After the hearing, the court shall enter a decree determining the right of all persons involved in such proceeding. Said decree shall in every case declare as to the water right by appropriation adjudged to each party, the extent, priority, amount, purpose of use, point of diversion, and place of use of said water; and as to water used for irrigation, such decree shall also declare the specific tracts of land to which it shall be appurtenant, together with such other conditions as may be necessary to define the right and its priority. Upon the hearing the court may assess and adjudge against any party such costs as it may deem just. Appeals from such decree may be taken to the supreme court by the state water commission or any party in interest, in the same manner and with the same effect as in civil cases. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36d. Decree filed with county recorder. Certificate to claimant. A certified copy of the decree of the superior court shall be prepared by the clerk thereof, without charge, and filed for record in the office of the county recorder of each county in which any part of the stream system is situated and also in the office of the state water commission. It shall be the duty of the state water commission to issue to each claimant represented in such determination a certificate to be signed by the president of the state water commission, and attested under seal of the secretary of said commission, setting forth the name and postoffice address of the owner of the right; the priority of the date, extent and purpose of such right; and, if such water be for irrigation purposes, a description of the legal subdivisions of land to which said water is appurtenant. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36e. Claimant failing to appear forfeits rights. Whenever proceedings shall be instituted for the determination of rights by appropriation of water, it shall be the duty of all claimants interested therein and having notice thereof as in this act provided, to appear and submit proof of their respective claims at the time and in the manner required by law; and any such claimant who shall fail to appear in such proceedings and submit proof of his claim shall be barred and estopped from subsequently asserting any rights theretofore acquired upon the stream system, embraced in such proceedings, and shall be held to have forfeited all rights by appropriation to said water theretofore claimed by him on such stream system, unless entitled to relief under the laws of this state; provided, that such proceedings shall result in a determination by the state water commission and a decree by the superior court determining the rights on such stream. Such decree shall be conclusive as to the rights by appropriation of all existing claimants upon the stream system lawfully embraced in the determination. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

§ 36f. Determination of rights initiated prior to December 19, 1914. Review of findings. The state water commission shall have authority and power in making a determination as to the rights by appropriation of the waters of any stream system, to fix a time limit for the completion of all appropriations of water from such stream, where such rights of appropriations were initiated prior to December 19, 1914, and since prosecuted with reasonable diligence, and such appropriators having been duly notified as provided in this act, must appear and submit their proofs of claim, in accordance with section twenty-eight of this act, or they shall be deemed and held to be in default, and to have abandoned or to have no right, title or interest in or to the waters of such stream. In determining rights of such appropriators, the state water commission shall prescribe such a reasonable time for the completion of such appropriations, and the application of the water appropriated to a beneficial use, as will enable such appropriators acting in good faith and with due diligence to complete the same. The findings of the state water commission shall provide for the submission of proof or evidence as to the completion of such appropriation and the amount of water actually applied to beneficial use upon the expiration of such time limit, and shall, in accordance with such proof, enter supplemental findings, establishing and determining such rights of appropriation, in so far as the same shall have been completed; and certificates of water right shall be issued in accordance with such supplemental findings and order of determination of said commission; but this section shall not be construed to confer any rights of appropriation upon parties who shall have abandoned their said appropriations or failed to use due diligence in the application of the water to a beneficial use and in the completion of their appropriations; and all such appropriators, who shall fail to complete their said appropriations within the limit of time fixed by the state water commission in said findings, or such further time granted upon application made prior to the expiration of such time limit, as the state water commission shall find equitable and just, shall be deemed to have abandoned their rights of appropriation, and rights acquired by virtue thereof waived, and such appropriators shall be deemed and held to have no right, title or interest in or to the waters of such stream by virtue of their said appropriations. The findings and determination of the state water commission made under the provisions of this section may be reviewed in the manner prescribed by section thirty-six b of this act. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 236.]

TITLE 608.

WATER COMPANIES.

ACT 4348b.

An act to prevent the supply of water dangerous to health for domestic purposes and to provide for the installation of sanitary water systems.

Amended 1915, p. 1282; 1917, p. 1562.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Unlawful to supply polluted water. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes which is impure, unwholesome, unpotable, polluted, or dangerous to health, to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel, temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1562.]

§ 2. Persons desiring to furnish water to file petition. Investigation of works. Exemption. Hearing. Whenever any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution shall desire to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water for domestic uses or purposes to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel, temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp, or shall desire to install, add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, system or sources of supply, it or he shall file as herein provided with the state board of health a petition for permission so to do, together with complete plans and specifications and a statement containing a general description and history of the existing or proposed water supply system of proposed changes therein showing the geographical location thereof with relation to the source of the water supply and all the sanitary and health conditions surrounding and affecting said supply and the works, system and plant, such plans, specifications and general statement to be in such form and to cover such matters as the state board of health shall prescribe. Thereupon a thorough investigation of the proposed or existing works, system, plant, water supply and all other circumstances and conditions by it deemed to be material must be made by the state board of health; and provided, however, that no person, firm or corporation supplying water for domestic purposes or use on his or its private property upon which there is no industrial camp, hotel, temporary or permanent resort using said water, or supplying less than two hundred service connections, shall be required to apply for a permit under the provisions of this section, except upon formal complaint filed with the state board of health.

As a part of such investigation, and after ten days' notice by mail to the petitioner, a hearing or hearings may be had before said board or an examiner appointed by it for the purpose. At such hearing or hearings witnesses who testify shall be sworn by the person conducting the hearing, and evidence, oral and documentary, may be received, a record of which shall be made and filed with said board. Upon the completion of such investigation, said board:

(a) When petition shall be denied. Appointment of person to take charge of plant. Temporary permit. If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or to be furnished or supplied is such that under all the circumstances and conditions it is impure, unwholesome or unpotable, or may constitute a menace or danger to the health or lives of human beings, or that under all the circumstances and conditions the existing or proposed works, system, plant or water supply, or proposed modifications therein, are unhealthful or insanitary, or not suited to the production and delivery of healthful, pure and wholesome water at all times, it shall deny the prayer of such petitioner, and said board shall order the petitioner to make such changes as it deems necessary to secure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome, potable and healthful water. Said board may order the appointing of a competent person, to be approved by the state board of health and paid by said petitioner, who shall take charge of and operate such plant or system so as to secure the results demanded by the state board of health; and it may order such repair, alteration or addition to the existing system, plant and works that the water furnished or supplied shall at all times be pure, wholesome, potable and shall not endanger the lives or health of human beings; and said board may order such changes of source of the water supply or installation of purification and refining works and such other measures as shall insure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome and potable water which shall not endanger the lives and health of human beings; which orders shall designate the period within which the required changes are to be made; provided, however, that a temporary permit may be issued by the state board of health for said period to permit the petitioner to comply with such order or orders.

(b) When petition shall be granted. Permits revocable. Report may be required. Persons without permit may be enjoined. Public nuisance. Penalty for violation. If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or supplied to such human beings is such, that under all the circumstances and conditions, it is pure, wholesome and potable and does not endanger the lives or health of human beings, it shall grant to petitioner a permit authorizing petitioner to furnish or continue to furnish or supply such water to such human beings; provided, however, that all permits issued hereunder shall be revocable or subject to suspension by said board at any time that it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being supplied or furnished is or may become impure, unwholesome or unpotable or does or will endanger the lives or health of human beings. The state board of health and its inspectors shall at any and all reasonable times have full power and authority to, and shall be permitted to, enter into and upon any and all places, property, inclosures and structures for the purpose of making and to make examinations and investigations to determine whether any provision of this act is being violated. The holder of any permit granted by said board under the provisions of this act may at any time by order of said board be required to furnish to said board, upon demand, a complete report upon the condition and operation of the water supply, plant, works or system owned, operated or controlled by it, which report shall be made by some competent person designated for the purpose by said board, and at the sole cost and expense of the holder of the permit. Any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution who shall furnish or supply or continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes, or shall install additions to, modifications or alterations in, any of the existing plant, works, system, or sources of supply without having an unrevoked permit from the state board of health so to do, as in this act provided, may be enjoined from so doing by any court of competent jurisdiction, at the suit of any person or persons, firm, corporation, municipal or other public corporation whose supply of water for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes is taken, or received from, or supplied or furnished by any such water furnishing or distributing person, firm, corporation, public utility or municipality or other public body or institution, or it or he may be enjoined at the suit of the state board of health in the same manner. Anything done, maintained or suffered in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be a public nuisance dangerous to health and may be summarily abated in the manner provided by law and it shall be the duty of all and every public officer or officers, body or bodies lawfully empowered so to do to immediately abate the same.

Every person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer, employee or agent thereof upon whom the duty to act is cast, and every person who shall violate any provision or part thereof of this act, or who shall fail to obey, observe or comply with any direction, order, requirement or demand or any part or provision thereof of the state board of health, or who procures, aids, or abets any such person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer or employee or agent thereof, in any failure to obey or comply with the provisions of this act or the orders of the state board of health as provided in this act, shall become liable for and forfeit to the state of California the penal sum of not more than one thousand dollars for each separate offense. The continued existence of any violation of this act for each and every day beyond the time stipulated for compliance with any of its provisions or of any order of the state board of health as provided herein shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. All penalties are to be recovered by the state in civil action brought by the state of California and such penalties when collected shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury.

Every officer, agent or employee of any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution or person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act or the order of the state board of health or any part thereof, or who procures, aids or abets in any failure to observe and comply with any such provision, order, or part thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine or imprisonment, for each offense. Each day's violation of this provision shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

TITLE 609.

WATER DISTRICTS.

ACT 4349.

An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of county water districts, and to provide for the acquisition of water rights or construction thereby of waterworks and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts.

[Approved June 10, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1049.]

Amended 1915, p. 26; 1917, p. 225; 1919, p. 816.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 12. Powers of district. Any county water district incorporated as herein provided, shall have power:

1. Perpetual succession. To have perpetual succession;
2. Sue and be sued. To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein or by law, in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.
3. Adopt seal. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure;

4. Hold property. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real and personal property of every kind, within or without the district, necessary to the full exercise of its powers;

5. Acquire waterworks. To acquire, by purchase, lease or otherwise, water rights, waterworks, canals, conduits, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, works, machinery, lands, rights and privileges, useful or necessary to convey, supply, store, or otherwise, make use of water for irrigation, power, or other useful purpose, and to operate and maintain such water rights, waterworks, canals, conduits, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, works, machinery, lands, rights, and privileges, for the uses aforesaid, for the benefit of the district;

6. Store water. To store water for the benefit of the district; and to conserve water for future use and to appropriate, acquire and preserve water and water rights and for this purpose to sue, intervene and compromise, in the name of the district, and assume the costs of litigation involving the ownership of waters or water rights within the district and those used and useful for the purposes of the district or of any of the lands situated therein; to maintain and defend actions to prevent interference with or diminution of the natural flow of any stream or natural subterranean supply of waters being used for irrigation of lands within the district or which are a benefit essentially common to the lands within the district or its inhabitants; and to maintain and defend actions to prevent any such interference with the aforesaid waters as may endanger the inhabitants or lands of the district;

7. Lease waterworks. To lease of and from any person, firm, or public or private corporation, with the privilege of purchase, or otherwise, existing water rights, waterworks, canal, or reservoir systems; and to carry on and maintain the same; also to sell water, or the use thereof, for irrigation, power, or other useful purposes, and whenever there is a surplus, sell, or otherwise, dispose of the same, to municipalities, or towns, or to consumers, located within or without the boundaries of the district;

8. Right of eminent domain. To have and exercise the right of eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to supply the district or any portion thereof with water, whether such property be already devoted to the same use or otherwise, and may condemn any existing water rights, canals, reservoirs, storage sites, watersheds, waterworks or systems, or any portion thereof owned by any person, firm or corporation; provided, that property and water rights of municipal corporations shall not be subject to the provisions of this section. In proceedings relative to the exercise of such right, the district shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation;

9. Borrow money. To borrow money and incur indebtedness and to issue bonds or other evidences of such indebtedness; also to refund or retire any indebtedness or lien that may exist against the district or property thereof;

10. Levy taxes. To cause taxes to be levied for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district and to accomplish the purposes of this act in the manner herein provided;

11. Make contracts. To make contracts, to employ labor and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of the foregoing powers. [Amendment approved May 23, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 816.]

§ 28. Exclusion of territory. Petition. Contents. Duties of secretary. Hearing. Order excluding lands. Directors may institute proceedings for exclusion. Hearing. Referendum. Any territory, included within any county water district formed under the provisions of this act, and not benefited in any manner by such district, or its continued inclusion therein, may be excluded therefrom by order of the board of directors of such district upon the verified petition of the owner or owners in fee of lands whose assessed value, with improvements, is in excess of one-half of the assessed value of all the lands, with improvements, held in private ownership in such territory. Said petition shall describe the territory sought to be excluded and shall set forth that such territory is not benefited in any manner by said county water district or its continued inclusion therein, and shall pray that such territory may be excluded and taken from said district. Such petition shall be filed with the secretary of the water district and shall be accompanied by a deposit with such secretary of the sum of one hundred dollars, to meet the expenses of advertising and other costs incident to the proceedings for the exclusion of such territory, including the cost of recording a certified copy of the order hereinafter provided for, any unconsumed balance to be returned to the petitioner. Upon the filing of such petition with the secretary of the water district he shall call a meeting of the board of directors of the district at a time not less than twenty-five days nor more than fifty days after the filing of the petition and cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation within said district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the district is situated. Such notice shall also state the date of the filing of such petition and that the same will come on for hearing before the board of directors of the district and shall state the time of the hearing and the place thereof, which shall be the regular meeting place of the board of directors of the district; provided, that the board may adjourn the hearing to a more convenient meeting place within the district. Any land owner or taxpayer within the district shall have the right to appear at said hearing, either in behalf of or in opposition to the granting of said petition. Said petition shall come on for hearing before the board of directors of the district at the time and place specified in the notice of hearing. If upon such hearing the board of directors determines that it is for the best interests of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, be excluded from the district, or if it appears that such lands, or some portion thereof, will not be benefited by their continued inclusion in the district, then the board of directors shall make an order that such lands, or such portion thereof, be excluded from the district, such order to describe specifically the lands so excluded. From the time of the making of such order the lands so excluded shall be deemed to be no longer included in the district, but such order of exclusion shall not be taken to invalidate in any manner any taxes or assessments theretofore levied or assessed against the lands so excluded. A copy of such order of exclusion, certified to by the secretary of the district, shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the district is situated and the record of such certified copy shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the exclusion from the district of the lands purporting to be excluded thereby.

The board of directors of any county water district formed under the provisions of this act may itself initiate the proceedings for the exclusion from the district of any land or lands which it may not be for the best interests of the district to be included, or which may not be benefited in any manner by their continued inclusion therein. Such proceedings shall be initiated by the board of directors by the passage of a resolution requiring all persons interested to appear and show cause before the board of directors, at a time and place specified, why such lands, describing them, should not be excluded from the district and fixing a time and place for such hearing and directing the secretary of the district to give notice of the passage of such resolution and of such hearing. Upon the passage of such resolution the secretary of the district shall give notice thereof and of the time and place of such hearing in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for notice of hearing upon petition by a land owner or land owners, and thereafter all proceedings shall be had in the manner and with the effect herein provided for proceedings upon a petition by a land owner or land owners. The time of hearing fixed by the board of directors by its resolution hereinbefore mentioned shall be not less than twenty-five days nor more than fifty days after the passage of such resolution and the place of hearing so fixed shall be a convenient place within the district; provided, that the final action of the board of directors under this section shall be subject to the referendum by the electors of the water district according to section twenty-four of this act. [New section added May 4, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 225.]

An act providing for the organization of water districts by the board of supervisors of the different counties of the state upon petition therefor by the land owners; providing for the joint government and control thereof by the land owners thereof and the board of supervisors of the county in which the same are formed; providing for the duties in connection therewith of the county officials of each county in which any of the lands contained in said district are located; providing for the acquisition and construction by said district of irrigation works, for the irrigation of the lands embraced therein and for the distribution thereby of water for irrigation purposes; providing for the payment of the debts thereof by a tax levied on the lands embraced therein; providing for the issuance and sale of bonds thereby; providing that said bonds may be investigated by an appointive board of three hydraulic engineers; providing for the approval of said bonds by the state superintendent of banks in case said investigation is favorably reported and that thereafter said bonds may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge as security for any money or deposits or for the performance of any act, by banks, banking institutions, insurance companies, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators; providing in certain cases for the transfer of districts from the supervision of one county board of supervisors to another; and providing for the dissolution of said districts for non-user of corporate power.

Amended 1917, p. 1408.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 35. County assessment-roll may be adopted. The board of directors of any district hereafter organized hereunder may at their option adopt the assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the land of the district is contained in so far as said assessment-roll affects the lands in the district; and file with the clerk of the board of supervisors a certified copy of such assessment-roll, in lieu of the assessment-book mentioned in section eight of this act. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1409.]

§ 36. Sale of water. The board of directors of any district hereafter organized hereunder shall have the power to sell water to owners of land in the district and to fix rates for the sale of water, and such rates may vary in different months and in different localities of the district to correspond to the cost and value of the service, and to collect for all water sold and to use so much of the proceeds of the sale of water as may be necessary to defray the ordinary operating expenses of the district and any funds derived from the sale of water, in excess of the amount necessary for operating expenses, shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which said district is located and applied upon the payment of interest on bonds or to create a sinking fund. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1409.]

TITLE 610.

WATERING RESORTS.

ACT 4349e.

An act providing for the sanitation, healthfulness and cleanliness and safety of swimming-pools, public bathhouses, swimming and bathing places; regulating the granting and revocation of permits therefor from the state board of health; providing for the inspection of such places; declaring places and things in violation of this act to be nuisances dangerous to health and providing for the abatement of the same; making violations of this act misdemeanors; and providing for the punishment of the same.

[Approved April 6, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 70. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Swimming-pools under supervision of state board of health. The state board of health shall have supervision over the sanitation, healthfulness and cleanliness and safety of swimming-pools, bathhouses, public swimming and bathing places and all related appurtenances and is hereby empowered to make and enforce such rules and regulations pertaining thereto as it shall deem proper.

§ 2. Permit to construct or operate swimming pool. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, firm, corporation, institution or municipality in any district, town, city, county, or city and county, to construct or to add to or modify, or to operate or to continue to operate any swimming-pool, public bathhouse, bathing or swimming place, or any structure intended to be used for swimming or bathing purposes without an unrevoked permit so to do from the state board of health. This permit shall be obtained in the following manner: any person, persons, firm, corporation, institution or municipality desiring to construct, add to or modify, or to operate and maintain any swimming-pool, public bathhouse, bathing or swimming places or structures intended to be used for swimming or bathing purposes within the state of California shall file application for permission so to do with the state board of health, which application shall be accompanied by detailed maps, drawings, specifications and description of the structure, its appurtenances and operation, description of the source or sources of water supply, amount and quality of water available and intended to be used, method and manner of water purification, treatment, disinfection, heating, regulating and cleaning; life-saving apparatus, and measures to insure safety of bathers; measures to insure personal cleanliness of bathers; method and manner of washing, disinfecting, drying and storing bathing apparel and towels, and all other information and statistics that may be required by the state board of health; whereupon, the state board of health shall cause an investigation to be made of the proposed or existing pool or public bathing places and if it shall determine as a fact that the same is or may reasonably be expected to become unclean or insanitary or may constitute a menace to public health, it shall deny the application for permit; if it shall determine as a fact that the same is or may reasonably be expected to be conducted continuously in a clean and sanitary manner and will not constitute a menace to public health, it shall grant the application for permit under such restrictions as it shall deem proper.

§ 3. Authority to inspect. For the purpose of this act the state board of health or its inspectors shall at any and all reasonable times have full power and authority to, and shall be permitted to enter upon any and all parts of the premises of such bathing and swimming places to make examination and investigation to determine the sanitary condition of such places and whether the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of the state board of health pertaining thereto are being violated. The state board of health may from time to time at its discretion publish the reports of such inspections in its monthly bulletin.

§ 4. Revocation of permit. Any permit granted by the state board of health as provided in this act shall be revocable or subject to suspension at any time by formal action of the state board of health if it shall determine as a fact that the swimming or bathing place or places are being conducted in a manner insanitary, unclean or dangerous to public health.

§ 5. Swimming-pools operated contrary to act nuisances. Any swimming-pool, public swimming or bathing place or places, constructed, operated or maintained contrary to the provisions of this act are hereby declared to be public nuisances, dangerous to health. Such nuisances may be abated or enjoined in an action brought by the local or state board of health or they may be summarily abated in the manner provided by law for the summary abatement of public nuisances dangerous to health.

§ 6. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation, whether as principal or agent, employer or employee, who violates any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and each day that conditions or actions, in violation of this act, shall continue, shall be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and for each offense, upon conviction, he shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

TITLE 611.

WATERS.

ACT 4351.

An act to preserve and maintain the lakes, ponds, brooks, creeks, rivers, and streams of this state, and to prevent the waters thereof from being carried by pipes, conduits, ditches, tunnels or canals into other states, for use therein. [Approved March 3, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 271.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 284.

ACT 4368e.

An act to promote the utilization of the water of streams in this state and for that purpose authorizing the storage of the same underground and the damming of streams and the flowage of lands in effecting such storage for beneficial use.

[Approved May 23, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 826. In effect July 23, 1919.]

§ 1. Storage of water underground declared beneficial use. The storing of water underground by the owner of the right to the use thereof, and the damming of streams and the flowing of water on lands necessary to the accomplishment of such storage, if the water is to be later withdrawn by pumps, tunnels, or other suitable means for irrigation, domestic or other beneficial uses within the territory served by the owners of the water right, with water for irrigation, domestic or other beneficial uses are hereby declared to be reasonable, economic, and beneficial methods of taking and applying such water, if the water so taken is from time to time being put to the beneficial uses for which it was appropriated.

§ 2. Previous appropriations validated. Each appropriation heretofore made or consummated in the manner and for the purposes hereby authorized is hereby recognized and validated to the same extent and with the same force as if made or consummated pursuant to the provisions hereof, so far as the same is possible without injury to existing rights.

§ 3. Application of act. None of the provisions hereof shall apply to the use of artesian well water or affect riparian rights in any way.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

ACT 4385.

An act to establish a standard of weights and measures in the state of California; to regulate weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices and providing for the inspection and sealing thereof; to prevent the use and sale of false weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices; providing for the inspection, measurement and weighing of goods, commodities, wares, packages and amounts of commodities kept for sale or in process of delivery; to prevent the sale of goods, wares and merchandise by false weights and measures; to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act; for the admission in evidence of copies of the state's standard of weights and measures; providing for the appointment of officers to enforce and carry into effect the provisions of this act, including a state superintendent of weights and measures and his deputy, sealers of weights and measures and their deputies; defining the powers and duties of such officers; and making an appropriation to carry this act into effect.

Amended 1915, p. 1312; 1917, p. 1647.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Term, etc., of state superintendent of weights and measures. The term of office of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four years, or until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, but he shall always be subject to removal at the pleasure of the governor. The salary of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four thousand dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as other state officers are paid. Before entering upon his duties he shall execute a bond to the state in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1648.]

§ 6. Standards. The standards referred to in the preceding section shall be kept by the state superintendent in a safe and suitable place in his office from which they shall not be removed except for repairs or certification. He shall maintain such standards in good order and shall submit them at least once in ten years to the national bureau of standards for certification. Upon demand the secretary of state shall deliver to the state superintendent all standards now under the control and in the possession of the secretary of state in his capacity of ex-officio state sealer of weights and measures. The state superintendent shall thereupon submit such standards received from the secretary of the state to the national bureau of standards for certification, and he shall replace such standards as are incorrect and purchase such additional standards as shall be necessary to complete and make up a complete standard of weights and measures as required by this act. He shall also purchase such apparatus as shall be found necessary to a proper prosecution of the work of the office. The state superintendent of weights and measures may establish tolerances and specifications for commercial weighing and measuring apparatus for use in the state of California similar to the tolerances and specifications recommended by the national bureau of standards, and he may establish a standard net weight, or net measure, or net count of any commodity, produce or article except any manufactured commodity consisting of four or more staple ingredients, and prescribe such tolerances for same as he may in his best judgment deem necessary for the proper protection of the public. Any person violating such standards or tolerances shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1648.]

§ 17. Appointment of sealers. In counties of second class. Counties in which deputies appointed by state superintendent. The legislative body of any county or consolidated city and county of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, and the legislative body of any city or town may appoint a sealer of weights and measures, fix his compensation and provide for the appointment by the sealer of such number of deputies as the said legislative bodies may deem necessary and expedient. Such sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month, or at the rate of one hundred fifty dollars per month for each month or part thereof actually employed in the service of such county, or city and county, or city and town. He shall be allowed his traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties; and such deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually employed in the service of such county, or city and county, or city and town. They shall be allowed their traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties. The term of office of sealer of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this section shall be four years. He shall be subject to removal by the power appointing him. Deputies appointed under the provisions of this section by a sealer of a county, city and county, or city, or town, shall be subject to removal by the sealer.

In counties of the second class whose charters provide for a department of weights and measures, the appointment of a sealer and deputies, the number of such deputies and the term of office thereof shall be as provided in said charter; provided, that the sealer shall receive for compensation the sum of three thousand dollars per annum, and one deputy, to be known as chief deputy, shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. Deputies shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, each payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. In counties of the third class the sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

In all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, no county sealer or deputies shall be appointed by the legislative body thereof, but the state superintendent of weights and measures shall assign to such counties, or groups of such counties, such deputy superintendents as may be necessary, but not more than one to each of such counties. Such deputies shall have jurisdiction over such county, or group of counties, as the state superintendent may designate, except within the territorial limits of those cities and towns within which sealers have been appointed under the provisions of this act. They shall have all the powers and perform the duties of a sealer of weights and measures. They shall be paid by the county wherein employed, five dollars a day for each day employed therein, which shall not exceed one hundred twenty days in any one county in any one year, and they shall also receive from such county their actual traveling expenses. The terms of office of all sealers and deputy sealers in all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, shall terminate when this section becomes effective. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1649.]

§ 32. Penalty for using false weights and measures. Any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall use, in the buying or selling of any commodity, or retain in his possession a false weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument, or shall offer or expose for sale, or sell, except as heretofore specifically allowed in section twenty-seven of this act, or use or retain in his possession any weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument in any county, city town, or city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer of weights and measures in accordance with the provisions of this act, which has not been sealed by a sealer within one year, or who shall use or dispose of any condemned weight or measure, or weighing or measuring instrument contrary to law, or any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer or expose for sale or use or have in his possession for the purpose of selling or using any device or instrument to be used or calculated to falsify any weight or measure, and any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer, or expose for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing in a less quantity than he represents it to be or contain, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Possession of any false weight or measure or weighing or measuring instruments or records thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that they were intended to be used in the violation of law. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

§ 32a. Penalty for selling commodity at other than true net weight. No person shall by himself or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another sell or offer or expose for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing at, by, or according to gross weight or measure, or at, by, as, of, or according to any weight, measure or count which is greater than the true net weight, measure or count thereof, or which is less than the standard net weight, standard net measure or standard net count, including tolerances, as such standards and tolerances are now or may hereafter be established pursuant to the provisions of this act. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

§ 43. Title. This act when cited or amended may be designated as the "weights and measures act." [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1650.]

ACT 4386.

An act defining public weighmaster; describing his duties; providing for rules and regulations governing the performance of his duties; prescribing a bond and fixing the amount thereof; and providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act.

[Approved June 8, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1288.]

Amended 1919, p. 723.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 1. Public weighmaster. Bond. Exceptions. All persons, firms, corporations, copartners or individuals engaged in the business of public weighing for hire, or any person, firm or corporation, who shall weigh or measure any commodity, produce, or article, and issue therefor a weight certificate which shall be accepted as the accurate weight upon which the purchase or sale of such commodity, produce or article, is based, shall be known as a public weighmaster, and shall file a bond with the state superintendent of weights and measures in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties, and shall obtain from the state superintendent of weights and measures a seal for the stamping of weight certificates hereinafter provided for, which shall only be in such form as such superintendent may prescribe; provided, that nothing in this act shall apply to any scales, or to the owner or lessee thereof, which are situated wholly outside of any incorporated city or town, except where said scales are being used in the weighing of any commodity which has been or is being purchased by the owner or lessee thereof, which are being used in the weighing of any commodity intended for storage for which a storage charge is made.

(a) Seals. The said seals shall be the property of the state and shall be forfeited and returned to the state superintendent of weights and measures upon termination of the performance of the duties herein prescribed as being the duties of a public weighmaster. Such seal shall be of a form and design prescribed by the state superintendent and furnished by him at the expense of the weighmaster. Said seal shall be a recognized authority of accuracy when applied to weight certificates. [Amendment approved May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 723.]

§ 5. False or incorrect statements. Any person, firm, or corporation, who shall request the public weighmaster, or any person employed by him to weigh any product, commodity, or article falsely or incorrectly, or who shall request a false or incorrect state certificate of weight and measure, or any person issuing a state certificate of weights and measures who is not a public weighmaster as provided for in this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 723.]

§ 6. Reweighing in case of doubt. Deputy weighmasters. When doubt or differences arise as to the correctness of the net or gross weight of any amount or part of any commodity, produce, or article for which a state certificate of weights and measures has been issued by a public weighmaster, the owner, agent, or consignee may, upon complaint to the state superintendent of weights and measures, or his deputy, have said amount or part of the amount of any commodity, produce, or article, reweighed by the state superintendent of weights and measures, or a public weighmaster designated by him, upon depositing a sufficient sum of money to defray the actual cost of reweigh with the state superintendent of weights and measures. If, on reweighing, a difference in the original weight is discovered as the result of fraud, carelessness, or faulty apparatus, the cost of reweighing shall be borne by the public weighmaster responsible for the issuance of such faulty state certificate of weights and measures. All public weighmasters employing or designating any person to act for them as deputy public weighmaster, shall be responsible for all acts performed by such person, and the public weighmaster shall forward to the state superintendent of weights and measures the name and address of persons so appointed. [Amendment approved May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 724.]

§ 7. Lots shall be piled separately. All amounts, lots, shipments, or consignments of products, after having been weighed, shall be piled or stored separately, as near as can be, or in some manner marked in order that said amounts, lots, shipments, or consignments may be distinguished from each of a like kind. When any product is sold subject to public weighmaster weights, such weight shall be the true net weight of the product. Net weight within the meaning of this act shall be the correct or actual weight of the commodity excluding the weight of the container. [Amendment approved May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 725.]

§ 7a. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [New section added May 18, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 725.]

TITLE 619.

WHITTIER STATE SCHOOL.

ACT 4414.

An act authorizing the board of trustees of the Whittier State School to maintain a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates of the school and other state institutions, and to inquire into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and related problems.

[Approved May 11, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 422. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Department of clinical diagnosis at Whittier State School. The board of trustees of the Whittier State School is hereby authorized and empowered to maintain on the property of the school, a department for the clinical diagnosis of the inmates of the school, and of such other state institutions as may, from time to time, request assistance from said department, such request to be approved by the state board of control. This department shall also carry on research into the causes and consequences of delinquency and mental deficiency, and shall inquire into social, education and psychological problems relating thereto, and for that purpose may make such investigations and inquiries in the said institutions, when so requested, and elsewhere as may be deemed advantageous. The state board of control may apportion the expenses of the said department, among the different institutions receiving the benefit of the work of the department, in such manner as it may deem proper.

§ 2. Clinical psychologist and assistants. The said department shall be under the direction of a clinical psychologist, subject to the control of the superintendent of the said school. The said psychologist shall be given a sufficient staff of trained assistants that the intelligence level of each inmate may be established through the standardized psychological tests, supplemented by personal and family history and data from such other lines of investigation as may seem advisable, and that such other work may be done as may be undertaken by the department. The said psychologist and assistants shall be employed by the said superintendent, with the approval of the said board of trustees and at compensation satisfactory to it.

ACT 4414a.

An act empowering the board of trustees of the Whittier State School to sell all or any portion of the property heretofore acquired for the use of the Whittier State School, and to appropriate the proceeds for the purpose of re-establishing the said school elsewhere.

[Approved May 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1282. In effect July 27, 1919.]

§ 1. Authorization for sale of property of Whittier State School. Purchase of new site. Assistance from University of California. Expenses of investigations. Plans for development of property purchased. The board of trustees of the Whittier State School, subject to the approval of the state board of control, is hereby authorized and empowered to sell all or any portion of the property heretofore acquired for the use of the Whittier State School, being part of the Rancho Paso de Bartolo Viejo, and part also of the southeast quarter of section twenty and the northwest quarter of section twenty-eight, township two south, range eleven west, San Bernardino base and meridian, containing in all two hundred four and three hundred eighty-nine thousandths acres more or less, and now used and occupied by the said school, and also that certain tract in the city of Whittier known as "the old reservoir site" which is more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the southwest corner of lot five in block "C" of Pickering Land and Water Company subdivision and running north parallel with Greenleaf avenue two hundred feet to a point; thence running east at right angles and parallel with Hadley street two hundred feet to a point; thence running south at right angles and parallel with Greenleaf avenue two hundred feet to a point; thence running west at right angles two hundred feet to the place of beginning. Such sale shall be made only after said property shall have been appraised by three disinterested persons appointed by the board of trustees, and after publication for not less than thirty days in three newspapers of general circulation, published in the county of Los Angeles, which notice shall describe the property to be sold, and shall set forth the terms of sale, and the date on or before which bids therefor will be received, and where such bids will be received; and said board of trustees shall have the right to reject any and all bids, and call for new bids by like publication of notice.

The proceeds from such sale or sales shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the contingent fund of the Whittier State School, all or any part of which may be expended with the approval of the state board of control in the purchase of a new site for said school and for the making of improvements, and the erection of buildings thereon; provided, however, that the Whittier State School shall not be discontinued at its present location unless another location is secured for it elsewhere in the state. The said site shall be selected by a site selecting committee composed of the superintendent and trustees of the Whittier State School, the state engineer, a member named by the board of trustees of the Preston School of Industry and a member named by the state board of charities and corrections. The said committee, if they consider it advisable, and subject to the approval of the state board of control, may also purchase water rights, or make provision for the development of water for the use of said lands. The state department of engineering shall, at the request of the said committee, examine into the matter of water, light, power and sanitation and the engineering problems involved in connection with any site or sites the board may investigate with a view to purchasing and shall report thereon to the said committee with special regard to the suitability of such site or sites for the purposes of the institution.

The University of California shall render the said committee such reasonable assistance as the committee may desire in determining the quality and character of the soil of such site or sites for agricultural, horticultural and other purposes and its suitability for the purposes of the institution.

The said committee, the said department of engineering, and the said university shall be entitled to receive their necessary expenses in connection with such investigations and the selection and purchase of said site.

The said committee may also prepare plans for the development for state school purposes of such property as may be purchased and for buildings to be erected thereon.
